

Shower Baths for Locomotives

The compulsory shower bath method used at modern swimming pools has been adopted by the Canadian National railways for cleaning passenger locomotives. The locomotive is moved to and fro through a gate composed of strong spurting jets of water, as shown in the above photograph. Locomotives are given a thorough shower bath after every run. It has been found that in addition to adding to their appearance, this regular washing of locomotives also adds to their life.

WHITE HOUSE AGAIN SEES KIDS AT PLAY

Grandchildren of Roosevelt Make Things Lively.

Washington.—The ring of child laughter through the White House, heard but seldom since the departure of the family of Theodore Roosevelt many years ago, again will resound as another Roosevelt settles down to residence there for four years.

Although the Franklin D. Roosevelt children are grown, the youngest being nearly eighteen, grandsons and granddaughters can be counted on to furnish much "copy" of the kind that convulsed the nation when their distant cousins occupied the limelight.

Three of President and Mrs. Roosevelt's children are married. All of them are rearing families.

Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Dall, the blond daughter, who will spend a great deal of her time at the White House, has two children, a girl and a boy.

James Roosevelt, who married Betsy Cushing of Boston, is the father of Sara Delano Roosevelt.

Elizabeth Donner of Philadelphia, is the father of William Donner Roosevelt, better known to the family as "Young Bill."

Two Still Infants. The Dall children will be the only ones who will be able to romp and play for some time to come as the other two are still in the baby stage.

Of the former, there is Anna Eleanor, known to everyone as "sister." The boy, Curtis Roosevelt Dall, is best known as "Buzzie."

They are nicknames that grew out of the pronunciation of each other's names by the little sister and brother.

Sister and Buzzie are frequent visitors at Hyde Park and to the Roosevelt home in New York city.

Little Anna Eleanor, who resembles her mother, already is showing a fondness for outdoor sports so characteristic of the Roosevelts. At five and a half she rides a saddle pony very well. She also is showing great aptitude for swimming.

Sara Delano Roosevelt, the daughter, played on the football team. He will enter college in the fall.

Only occasionally did childish laughter—and sob—reverberate through the White House during the regime of President Hoover.

The infrequent visits of his three grandchildren, sons of Herbert Hoover, Jr., were all too infrequent as far as the President was concerned.

Other Roosevelts Recalled. The White House was a particularly lively spot during the regime of President Theodore Roosevelt and the six youngsters who moved in with him.

Alice, Theodore, and Kermit were beginning to feel grown up when their father took office. His other children, Archie and Quentin, however, were young enough to embarrass their father, frighten their mother, and lead White House servants a merry chase.

Thomas Lincoln, eight-year-old "Tad" when his martyred father became President, ran them a close second. "Tad" wore an army uniform, drilled the White House servants, and waxed wrathful when they didn't do "Tad's" right to suit him.

Other White House children who have stood out in the nation's memory include:

Mary Donelson, the grandchild whom Andrew Jackson called "the sunshine of the White House."

Esther Cleveland, one of the few children born in the White House.

Susanna Adams, the first to play in the executive mansion.

Charlie Taft, who took a copy of "Treasure Island" to his father's inauguration so he would not be bored if the President's first speech happened to be dull.

ter of James and Betsy, was named for her great-grandmother, the mother of the President.

William Donner Roosevelt is two months old.

Two of the children of President and Mrs. Roosevelt will make the White House their permanent home. They are John and Franklin, Jr., both of them students at Groton school in Massachusetts where the latter, like do it occasionally. It is she, really, who has all the time to make one room appear like another. It is amazing how successfully some home decorators alter appearances of rooms at a moment's notice from living room to bedroom, from kitchen to dining room, etc. Such changes are transient, however, as the changing back again has to be done daily also.

It is when a room undergoes a permanent change of use that it has to be reclaimed through change of furniture. Or it may be that some unused room is needed and must be made into some specific type, chamber, sewing room, den, etc., with a little more furniture and furnishings than are to be gathered from other rooms in a home. Here the proper selection of articles and the knowledge of the least furniture, etc., which can possibly be bought, bring the most thrifty results.

Ingenious Changes. It is seldom an easy matter. No room can have too much robbed from it to go into the new room lest neither appears well furnished. To avoid buying articles the home decorator must be ingenious and inventive to save money without appearing to do so. The few suggestions of today may prove helpful.

A good dressing table for a chamber can be made of a wooden box chosen for its height and breadth mainly. It should be low enough to sit before and see one's reflection in and front of sides. On top of each four so placed at exactly the same height, one shelf can rest. Four shelves, or even three are sufficient. Paint the bookcase the color of the woodwork in the room or stain it mahogany and give it a coat of dull varnish.

A small box with clothes hooks for feet makes a smart footstool. Cover the sides of the box with upholstery fabric and the top too after wadding it. Or chintz can be used for upholstery if the foot rest is for a chamber or sun parlor.

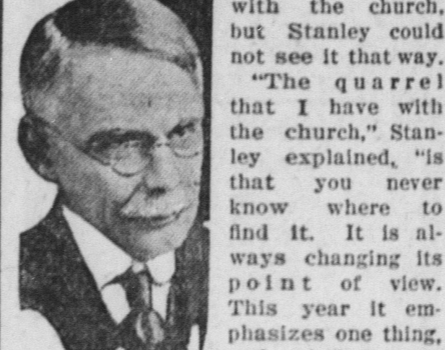

In picking articles from rooms for the reclaimed attic or other room, be careful to choose those which accord pleasantly in style, wood and finishes. Let there be nothing incongruous about the new furnishings but a happy harmony.

© 1922 Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

STAYING PUT

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Late Dean of Men,
University of Illinois.

The minister, he was telling us, had approached Stanley with the idea that he might become actively identified with the church, but Stanley could not see it that way.

"The quarrel that I have with the church," Stanley explained, "is that you never know where to find it. It is always changing its point of view. This year it emphasizes one thing, and, before you know it, it is taking an altogether different stand. If it would settle down to something definite and stay there it might make an appeal to me. I'd like it to stay put."

The very thing that Stanley was complaining about revealed the life and progress of the church. When business or science or religion stands still, they are soon dead as a door nail. The hope of religion is that it does make progress, that it does throw off its old methods and its archaic dogmas and get a new light and a new vision.

Stanley is a very much up-to-date business man whose standing in the community and among his business associates is not questioned. Does he do business as he did forty years ago when he started in? He does not. If you want to know where to find him just push to the front ranks and you'll discover him there. Strange that he shouldn't expect the church to make the same progress, or use the same methods.

They were tearing down the great buildings on Lake street as I passed along that avenue not long ago. Well constructed buildings they were, too, and put up within my memory, and on the cleared ground there would shortly be erected something far

ODD THINGS AND NEW—By Lame Bode

© 1922 Western Newspaper Union.

The Household

By LYDIA LE BARON WALKER

The reclaiming of rooms through changed decoration is something which at one time or another falls to the lot of almost every home decorator. This is especially true where homes are houses rather than apartments, although even the flat dweller has to do it occasionally. It is she, really, who has all the time to make one room appear like another. It is amazing how successfully some home decorators alter appearances of rooms at a moment's notice from living room to bedroom, from kitchen to dining room, etc. Such changes are transient, however, as the changing back again has to be done daily also.

A Bookcase, Dressing Table and Bench, and Footstool, All of Which Any Woman Can Make by Following Directions Given.

It is when a room undergoes a permanent change of use that it has to be reclaimed through change of furniture. Or it may be that some unused room is needed and must be made into some specific type, chamber, sewing room, den, etc., with a little more furniture and furnishings than are to be gathered from other rooms in a home. Here the proper selection of articles and the knowledge of the least furniture, etc., which can possibly be bought, bring the most thrifty results.

Ingenious Changes. It is seldom an easy matter. No room can have too much robbed from it to go into the new room lest neither appears well furnished. To avoid buying articles the home decorator must be ingenious and inventive to save money without appearing to do so. The few suggestions of today may prove helpful.

A good dressing table for a chamber can be made of a wooden box chosen for its height and breadth mainly. It should be low enough to sit before and see one's reflection in and front of sides. On top of each four so placed at exactly the same height, one shelf can rest. Four shelves, or even three are sufficient. Paint the bookcase the color of the woodwork in the room or stain it mahogany and give it a coat of dull varnish.

A small box with clothes hooks for feet makes a smart footstool. Cover the sides of the box with upholstery fabric and the top too after wadding it. Or chintz can be used for upholstery if the foot rest is for a chamber or sun parlor.

In picking articles from rooms for the reclaimed attic or other room, be careful to choose those which accord pleasantly in style, wood and finishes. Let there be nothing incongruous about the new furnishings but a happy harmony.

© 1922 Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Boxes can be transformed into bookcases for den or living room by supplying the boxes with shelves. These can rest on large screw-eyes at back

Giving Variety to Fish on the Menu

Since fish is now served more or less frequently, it is important for the housewife to know how to prepare and serve it in a variety of ways. It is thus that she provides menus free from monotony even though such food appears often. Fish that is of fine rich flavor should not have its taste impaired by too highly seasoned sauces, while those that are rather lacking in flavor should be accompanied by fish sauces. Salmon, once a choice fish, has lost prestige somewhat through its prevalence in canned goods. It lends itself to so many different ways of preparation, that homemakers are apt to use it too often. This should be guarded against, and other kinds of fish be more frequently introduced.

Fish Pudding.
Two cups of finely minced fish, previously boiled and having skin and bones removed, 1 cup highly seasoned white sauce, ½ cup mashed potato, also highly seasoned with salt and pepper, ¼ teaspoon onion juice, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, 1 tablespoon grated carrot, 1 tablespoon minced celery, 3 eggs. Mix all ingredients except the eggs. Beat the mixture well. Add the beaten egg yolks, and lastly fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour into a buttered baking dish, and bake in a moderate oven for 20 minutes. Brown under the heat. Grated cheese can be sprinkled on top of the pudding. This is an unusual dish, and a welcome change from escalloped fish.

Baked fish is improved in flavor if it has a well-seasoned stuffing pressed into the cavity and then secured with a few stitches taken in the cut edges of the fish. Oysters may be added to the crumbs. They improve the flavor.

An interesting garnish for whole fish is made of circles of lemon slices dipped in minced parsley. Put radish roses with these parsley lemons.

© 1922 Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Young Corbett of Fresno, Calif., defeated Jackie Fields in San Francisco and won the welterweight championship. Our photograph shows Referee Jack Kennedy holding Corbett's hand up to denote his victory.

POISON in Your bowels!

Poisons absorbed into the system from souring waste in the bowels, cause that dull, headachy, sluggish, bilious condition; coat the tongue; foul the breath; sap energy, strength and nerve-force. A little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will clear up trouble like that, gently, harmlessly, in a hurry. The difference it will make in your feelings over night will prove its merit to you.

Dr. Caldwell studied constipation for over forty-seven years. This long experience enabled him to make his prescription just what men, women, old people and children need to make their bowels help themselves. Its natural, mild, thorough action and its pleasant taste commend it to everyone. That's why "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin," as it is called, is the most popular laxative drugstore sell.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL'S
SYRUP PEP SIN
A Doctor's Family Laxative

Kidneys bother you?

Heed promptly bladder irregularities, getting up at night and nagging backache. They may warn of some disordered kidney or bladder condition. Users everywhere rely on Doan's Pills. Praised for more than 50 years by grateful users the country over. Sold by all druggists.

DOAN'S PILLS
A DIURETIC FOR THE KIDNEYS

Learn the Charm of Galtine, beautiful pattern, complete cutting chart free with order, quilt pieces, aprons, parasols, trial pkg. E. Marian Douglas, Fort Johnson, N.Y.

AT THE FIRST SNEEZE USE
MISTOL

NIGHT AND MORNING
Fight
COLDS
2 ways
AND PUT
Essence of Mistol
ON YOUR HANDKERCHIEF AND PILLOW
IT'S NEW

W. N. U., BALTIMORE, NO. 12-1333

Spring Clothes

Novelty fabrics and color, these are the keynotes of our spring clothes for big and little. To add to their charms, let it be with a little, and very little, handwork, for simplicity is the season's yardstick writes Carolyn T. Radner-Lewis in Child Life Magazine. The new guimpe dresses pictured above have attached pleated skirt and separate blouse; the sleeves brief puffs or long; and a straight-from-the-shoulder model, pleated in front, yoke in back, cap or wrist length sleeves. The panties are separate.

SUCH IS LIFE

By Charles Suplee

TO BE SURE

POP I GOT THE ALPHABET PRETTY WELL
A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H, I, J, K
L, M, N, O, O-O?

COME NOW!
WHAT COMES AFTER "O"?

YEAH!

CHAMPION