

"Glennland Pool" Nearing Completion, at State College

The "Glennland Apartment," together with the "Glennland Pool," will be one of the most imposing and completely equipped apartments at State College. The pool feature will be completed with a few days, and the apartment proper is being rushed in construction as rapidly as possible. The structure is located on Beaver Avenue and Pugh street, fronting 210 feet on the avenue and 154 feet on the street, four stories high on the street and five on the avenue. The building is a project of an unincorporated company, W. O. Houtz, contractor, and one of the firm.

The pool is a wonder—40x20 feet in dimensions, with a graded depth of from three to ten and one-half feet, has a water capacity of 160,000 gallons. The water will be heated, chlorinated, filtered and turned over once very eight hours. The pool itself and the floor and walls are to a height of seven feet all of mosaic tile in beautiful design. On a level with the pool is a sun room where bathers will be able to enjoy as near as possible natural beach conditions, so far as the sun rays play their part, by the introduction of especially designed electric lamps. Twenty 400-watt lights, located on the four walls of the pool below the water line, will shoot their beams through the water when the pool is in service. The lighting otherwise is indirect from large lamps completely hidden in massive urns fastened high on the main walls.

A balcony in the form of a mezzanine, is above the sun room and extends almost the entire length of the pool. Back of this will be a restaurant. The outer walls of the building will be of buff brick. There will be several well designed entrances.

This is an inadequate description of a project not matched anywhere in a Pennsylvania college town.

32 HORSES SOLD FOR CASH BY GRUNEWALD & DODDS

The Gruenewald and Dodds horse sale, on Friday, was an unusual one in several respects. First, as to number of horses sold; second, spirit of bidding; third, price attained; fourth, class of animals; fifth, light attendance; sixth, wide area from which customers came.

The thirty-two horses, an express load of South Dakota animals, offered were all sold the first time brought to the block. Men whose judgment of horse flesh is respected, declare the animals to have been the best lot of horses coming from that section yet offered, and that expression is full of meaning. The average price for the load was $141.98. A light riding horse sold for $95.00, reduced the average from nearly $144.00 to the average given. As heretofore, all sales were for strictly cash on the spot.

The attendance was not nearly so large as at some previous sales held here, due largely to the fact that Friday was a good day for work on the farm. There were, however, arable buyers, and bidding was more spirited than at any previous sale. One team started off at $250.00. The reader who carefully looks over the list of buyers will note that the purchasers came from points in four counties—Centre, Union, Clearfield, Blair and Mifflin, and the buyers from Centre came from all sections of it.

The purchasers, number purchased, and price are given below:

DAUGHTER OF ED. SMELTZER HORRIBLY INJURED, DIES

Janet, two years old since January, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smeltzer, was horribly injured Tuesday morning and died at the Centre County hospital that afternoon. At the Smeltzer home, the Smeltzer home-stand, near Myers cemetery, Buffalo Run Valley, a pump is operated by power. The child's clothing was caught by cog wheels on a "jack," a part of the pumping outfit, and drew the little one so close that the body was cut over the abdomen and mangled the bowels becoming exposed. To release the child, the belt on the machinery was thrown off and the gearing run reverse. The body was prepared for burial at the Goodhart morgue here.

The parents and a sister, Virginia, 9, and a brother, Robert, 4, are the surviving members of the family.

The mother before marriage was Miss Edna Neese, a daughter of William Neese, Spring Mills.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon; burial in Myers cemetery.

SEVEN MT. CONCRETE ROAD TO BE BUILT TO POTTERS MILLS

The section of Macadam road on Route No. 53, Seven Mountains, lying north of the Centre-Mifflin county line, and Potters Mills, is given out on good authority, is to be built this spring and summer. The section is between three and four miles in length, and when completed will be the last link in a concrete ribbon road from Reedsville to the intersection of the Bald Eagle Valley road, in the vicinity of Julian. The road is a link in the Lakes-to-Sea highway, which important highway was recently rerouted through State College.

From the State House to Potters Mills the latest survey has been changed materially, the greatest deviation being at Brownie's place. The first survey provided for a deep fill between the two mountain spurs at that place. The survey more likely to be accepted follows the old road bed from the State House to Sunset Club house and by it to near the Shamokin hunting lodge, where it leaves the old course and passes closer to that lodge and over the ridge. High on the ridge it continues eastward and then northwest, crossing the creek for the first time and continuing on the west side of the present road at the front of the log cabin near Potters Mills.

H. S. MUSICIANS AND EDITORS AT PENN STATE, SATURDAY

High schools from all over the State will be represented at the Pennsylvania State College on Saturday. Students who are interested in music will compete in the annual central section elimination sponsored by the Penna. Forensic League, while those connected with high school publications will meet for the annual conference sponsored by the Penn State department of journalism. High school athletes will have their day at Penn State on May 6 when the annual interscholastic track and field meet will be held.

It will be recalled that one of Centre Hall's high school students, Miss Sara Odenkirk, won in soprano solo work in the elimination contest for Centre county. Her admirers are anticipating further recognition on Saturday.

LUTHERANS MAKE PLANS FOR CAMP AT SELLSGROVE

Camp Susquehanna, each year sponsored by the United Lutheran Church, on Susquehanna University's campus, Sells Grove, will open Thursday, June 15 and continue until Friday, June 23, according to a recent announcement made by Rev. Harry W. Miller, its director.

This camping period is a real vacation with spiritual, educational and recreational values for boys from the ages of 13 to 15. Last year nearly 100 boys romped over the spacious campus at Sells Grove, which offered to them nearly all the facilities available to college students.

The camp leaders and teachers are some of the most prominent Lutheran ministers in the central part of the State, who enjoy the vacation period with the boys.

EIGHT APPLICANTS PASS TESTS TO DRIVE CARS

Nine applicants appeared to take the learners' examination to drive a motor vehicle given by the Bellefonte detail of motor patrolmen. One applicant failed. Those who received their permits this week were: Alice V. Foust, Centre Hall; Raymond C. Corl, State College; Walter G. Stere, Aaronsburg; Mrs. Esther E. Long, State College; Robert R. Meahl, State College; Clifford E. Snyder, State College; Blanche A. Cramer, State College; Kenneth C. Ripka, Pine Grove Mills.

GOVERNOR O. KA 18 BILLS.

Of the eighteen bills signed by the Governor, on Friday, the following are of general interest:

Scott bill providing a $500 fine or a year's imprisonment for use of slugs in vending machines.

McClure bill requiring the court to approve land amage agreements between county commissioners and owners of property taken for road widening.

Rise bill permitting the development of county forests and recreational lands.

Representative D. W. Bechtel, of Schuylkill, providing for State highway designation of all public roads by number or otherwise.

Trout fishermen, on the opening day, met with only fair success. Streams were too high for successful fishing. The best catches reported locally were by Bruce Hartley, 16; Wm. Colyer and two sons, 13 each; Harry Harper, 6; F. P. Geary, 5.

200,000 TREES SHIPPED FROM SEVEN-MT. NURSERY

There has been more than the usual activity at the State Forestry nursery, at the State House, Seven Mountains, which nursery is in charge of Forest Ranger W. F. McKinney, with Forester T. C. Harbeson, Milroy, in direct charge. Fully 200,000 trees have already been shipped out, 140,000 of which were red pine, which variety appears to be particularly suited for reforestation in Pennsylvania. The red pine, not native in this immediate locality, make a rapid growth, grow straight as an arrow, and present a fine appearance. Other varieties shipped in less numbers were hemlock, Norway spruce, white pine, arbor-vitae, the latter ornamental. Of these the hemlocks were requested in the largest number—40,000.

Work will soon begin on setting out 135,000 red pines. These will come from one of the largest nurseries, probably the one at Clearfield.

The Seven Mountain nursery has been very successful in the development of trees both for reforestation and ornamental purposes. The oil and climatic conditions appear to be all that can be desired for rapid growth.

INJURIES SUFFERED IN AUTO ACCIDENT FATAL

Injuries sustained when his Ford coupe sideswiped a car containing three Lewistown high school players on the night of March 3, caused the death in Centre County hospital, of Paul B. Stover, of Royersford, Thursday morning.

He was suffering from cuts about the face and neck, a fractured collar bone and a puncture of the lung. The lung was punctured by a piece of wood several inches in length, entering at the jaw bone, passing close to the jugular vein, and into the lung, from which organ it was removed by the hospital surgeon. When first taken to the hospital his case was considered hopeless. Later the patient improved and there were prospects of recovery. Complications developed as time went on, terminating in death.

The accident happened near the S. E. Sharer farm. The young man was on his way to State College to visit a young lady, a student there. Mr. Stover graduated from Penn State a few years ago.

The body was sent to Royersford, Montgomery county, for interment.

THIS IS CLEAN-UP WEEK—BE CAREFUL OF FIRE

This is clean-up week in Pennsylvania. While Centre Hall has no special need for cleaning up, there are always some dark corners needing attention, and it will be well to give these a brushing up within the next few days. It will not only add to the appearance of the surroundings, but to the general healthy condition of the surroundings.

Much can be done to lessen the breeding of flies during the early spring and summer. Every one hates a dirty fly—there are no clean ones, so let us use every effort to reduce their breeding. This may be done by cleaning and lining cess pools; outhouses should be made fly-proof and stable yards, pig pens and chicken coops cleaned. Water holes should be filled, spouting mended and garbage cans thoroughly cleaned and scoured. Doing these things is the most effective way to prevent being pestered by a swarm of flies about your home during all of next summer. Coupled with adequate screening of windows and doors and the free and constant use of fly swatters, the health menace represented by this insect can be materially reduced.

A thorough cleaning up about your home cannot be done without an outside fire. Use good judgment where and when you build this fire, and keep children away from it.

FARMER-KIWANIS PICNIC, GRANGE PARK, JUNE 8

It is officially announced that the annual Farmer-Kiwanis picnic will again be held at Grange Park, Centre Hall, date of Thursday, June 8. The program in a general way will conform to that of previous years.

MAILING LIST CORRECTED.

The Reporter's mailing list has been corrected during the past week. This means that if you paid your subscription as recent as Monday of this week, you should be given credit on your label. Look at it and see: If an error appears, report it at once.

To those subscribers who have been delaying the paying of their subscription, we would say, please remit at least a part of your indebtedness without delay. We have been lenient with you; please show your appreciation. A glance at the figures on your label will tell at once how far you are in arrears.

64 COUNTIES TO GET $552,067 RELIEF

Pennsylvania's jobless will continue to receive food and clothing for the next two months.

The State Emergency Relief Board on Thursday divided $3,255,067 among 64 counties to care for the estimated 2,000,000 needy persons in the next two weeks. Bucks, Lawrence and Pike counties do not share.

The Senate acted to provide funds for relief after June 1, by passing the Scott (Centre) bill, which appropriates $13,000,000. This bill goes to the House for concurrence and its appropriation may be increased to $18,000,000 before it reaches the Governor.

The allocation made gives Centre county $18,264; Clearfield, $88,733; Clinton, $14,783; Huntingdon, $12,599; Mifflin, $15,560; Juniata, $1,711; Northumberland, $64,515; Union, $12,512.

"CAVALCADE" COMING TO THE RICHELIEU, NEXT WEEK

"Cavalcade," a spectacle described as vast, majestic and moving, will be at the Richelieu Theatre, Bellefonte, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The Fox Film production is from Noel Coward's play, directed by Frank Lloyd, and starring Clive Brook.

Profoundly moving and violently exciting, this great film spectacle of the 20th century departs radically from all the routine formulae of movie production. It is a film spectacle of the age, with a single modern family chosen to demonstrate what emotional bankruptcy has been bred in us by the cavalcade of modern life. Three decades are covered by the story, which opens with the birth of the century.

Tuesday morning, Frank Phillips, of Potters Mills, brought 135,000 red pine trees from the Clearfield county State nursery to be replanted in the Seven Mountain nursery.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS

R. M. Foster, Jr., architect and designer, of New York City, was at the home of his parents, Hon. and Mrs. R. M. Foster, in State College, over Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Smith and family, who have lived in Wilkinsburg for the past thirteen years, are changing their residence to North Braddock where Mr. Smith is engaged in vocational teaching.

The Pennsylvania Gas company has decided to extend its lines in State College on Foster Avenue, Hamilton Avenue and Pine street for the convenience of those expecting to build in these sections.

W. L. Jacobs spent a few days last week at the home of his brother, Guy W. Jacobs, in Steubenville, Ohio, and found the Jacobs family all well, and the head of the family pleased with the pick up in business.

Mrs. John E. Rearick was an auto guest of Mrs. Ralph Musser, of Pennsylvania Furnace, on a trip to Centre Hall, on Friday. Although her stay was brief, she met a number of old acquaintances and relatives which made the run here worth while.

When a kettle of boiling water was accidentally spilled on her, Kathryn Blerly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Blerly, of Rebersburg, was painfully scalded. The scalding water splashed over her legs and it required the services of a physician to ease the pain.

John Schaeffer, helper in the Rimmey garage, has his bride at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Roy Schaeffer, at Old Fort. At the time this is written, the couple have not received the customary serenading, but it is not likely the callithumpians will miss the opportunity to do so.

Prof. L. O. Packer, high school teacher, and brother, Henry Packer, a mechanic, of Pittsburgh, arrived here for the Easter vacation. While the former is regularly employed, his brother has not been faring so well, having had but two and one-half days' work during the month of March.

In passing a wagon this side of Howard, Ralph Homan, with Christ Keller as a passenger in the car, hit the front wheel of the wagon, broke the coupling causing the horses to become frightened and run away. Two men by the name of Riegel were thrown from the wagon, but were not injured.

As will be observed by the schedule of games in the Centre County Baseball League, printed in this issue, Bellefonte has agreed to enter the league, becoming the last club to do so. On Friday, Blaine Mabus, president of the Bellefonte club, gave the secretary of the league the first official notice of this action in a letter to R. S. Jamison, its secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Heim, of Harrisburg, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Colyer, for a day or more last week. On their return home Mrs. Colyer accompanied her brother to the State capital city to remain a few days with him and his family. Mr. Heim has long been employed on the P. R. R. lines as brakeman and at present as an extra conductor.

At the close of this month two passenger trains on the Bald Eagle Valley Railroad will be discontinued. One of these, trains leaves Bellefonte westward at 4:15 P. M., and the other eastward at 8:19 P. M. This leaves the county seat with but two trains west and two east; 8:48 A. M. west and 9:33 A. M. east; the Lehigh 1:11 East west at 3:00 P. M. The mail service will not be impaired.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Rearick and son, Robert, of Martinsburg, were callers at this office Friday afternoon. They were on their way to Georges Valley, the old home of Mr. Rearick, after having attended the funeral of Milton Best Dorman, near Lamar, an uncle of Mrs. Rearick. While in that section they visited Mrs. Rearick's father, Samuel Dorman, who is past 84 years old. Mr. Rearick is engaged in the undertaking business in Martinsburg, a bustling Blair county town of near fourteen hundred population. One of the couple's three, married children (Ruth), born in Centre Hall, lives in Lewisburg, having come there from Leavenworth, Kansas, where her husband, Louis Baker, was a guard at the Leavenworth Federal prison and was transferred to the new prison at Lewisburg.

If the Reporter were conducting an "Observer's" or "About the Town" column, it would certainly give a nice size paragraph to a scene presented under our very eyes one morning last week. An almost totally helpless old grandmother laboriously emerged from an automobile, crossed a dangerous highway, and with an effort that bespoke pain and misery in every movement, ascended the steps of the banking institution, and shortly thereafter emerged, wended her way across the dangerous highway, and calling every ounce of her falling strength to her aid, literally dragged herself into the car. And all the while a dolled-up granddaughter, at the wheel, looking like the proverbial million dollars, sat by and refused to offer any assistance. God pity the future if her kind is typical of the present generation. But we know it is not.

Look at your label this week.
