Items of news which interested those of a generation ago, taken from the files of The Reporter, year 1903.

May 7, 1903.

Messrs. James B. Horner and Peter Smith are jurors from Potter town-ship.

Dr. George L. Lee moved into his new dwelling house. His home when completed will be one of the prettiest and most convenient in town.

Miss Lyda Garis, daughter of Byron Garis, and John Mowery, of Burnham, were married last Friday. The couple went to housekeeping immediately. Mr. Mowery is a puddler in the Burnham steel works.

The dwelling house of Mrs. Fannie Colyer, at Colyer, was totally destroyed by fire early Sunday morning. The fire was first discovered by Edward Kline, a neighbor, who saw the light at the Colyer house about 4 o'clock. The house was said to have been worth $1,000, and the household goods several hundred dollars, all of which is a total loss, as she did not have any insurance whatever.

John M. Wieland, of Boalsburg, without a doubt built the two heaviest and most expensive lumber wagons ever constructed in Central Pennsylvania. These wagons were built over a special pattern for Messrs. Peter and George Ishler and Wm. A. Baumgardner, all of Boalsburg, who are operating large lumber operations in West Virginia. The cost of the monster wagons is $200 each.

J. A. Weaver and Peter D. Phillips, of Colyer, this (Thursday) morning left for West Virginia, where they will be engaged with the lumber firm of Hart-er Brothers, a blacksmith and engineer, respectively.

W. Harrison, Esq., of Bellefonte, will be the principal speaker at Centre Hall on Memorial Day.

Charles Mitterling, son of W. J. Mitterling, of this place, on Monday went to Chicago with the hope of securing a clerkship in an accounting office.

El M. Huyett is remodeling his barn. The Hagens, of Farmers Mills, and a number of other mechanics, are doing the work.

"WATCH GAME" PLAYED BY ROBBERS AT REEDS-VILLE SERVICE STATION

A comparatively new racket, termed the "watch game," was recently worked at the Reedsville Service Station, owned by Harbster & Rahmeyer.

Three men, in an Ohio-licensed Lincoln coupe, drove up to the garage at six o'clock in the morning and purchased 18 gallons of gas and two quarts of oil. After paying for the gas and oil they followed the attendant into the office while he made change. As he was taking the change from the cash register, one approached him and asked if he would buy a watch for $15. He replied that he did not have that much money, where-upon the stranger commanded, "Take it out of the drawer and make it snappy." When the young man refused, the stranger dropped the watch in the tin and took out $15.

Upon examination the watch was found to be worth only $7.50 and that it was a reconditioned watch of a popular make.
