Children's Day service in the Methodist church will be held Sunday evening, June 4.

Mrs. Ada Butz during much of last week was a guest of a step-sister, Mrs. J. C. Kelley, in Lewisburg. She returned home Saturday evening.

Robert C. Neff, who is teaching in a vocational school at Cyclone, McKean county, makes his week-end trips to his home here on a motorcycle.

Since White Rock Quarries at Pleasant Gap have been operating in full force, Frank Shawver, John McCool, Blaine Lester and Orvis Weaver, all of town have had regular employment.

The Junior class of Centre Hall High school is making preparations for holding a festival on the school athletic field, the evening of Memorial Day. The Spring Mills band has been engaged to furnish music.

A Shetland pony was included in the shipment of horses brought in from Iowa by George Searson and son, James Searson, last week, for public sale on Saturday. The pony was for Betty Searson, little daughter of James Searson.

Mrs. Saul Mechley is in very delicate health at her home in Millheim from complications. She is able to be on her feet but for a small part of the time. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Shawver, both deceased, who at one time lived at the Old Fort hotel.

Mrs. Mary E. Christine and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Crowl, of Elysburg, on Sunday were guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Moore. Miss Miriam Moore, of Hershey, was also at the parental home at the same time. Mrs. Moore is having difficulty in recovering from an attack of tonsillitis.

The Centre Hall High school baseball team played a return game with the Laurelton High team, on the latter's grounds, on Monday evening. Like the game played here a week previous, Centre Hall won by a large score, Mifflinburg High is scheduled to play here this (Thursday) evening.

Grace, the young daughter of Mrs. Lee Rhoads, of Bellefonte, who broke her left arm below the elbow while playing at her home about three weeks ago, is recovering. She and her mother have been at the home of Mrs. Rhoads' parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Jedon, in town, on a visit.

Mrs. Catharine Moore and Miss Lizzie Harpster, sisters, of Harrisburg, came up Penns Valley last week to visit the old home surroundings. The latter went on to Boalsburg where she is a guest of a sister, Mrs. Ella Barr, while Mrs. Moore stopped with her cousins, the Arneys, west of town.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Ashley and their eleven months old daughter came up from Florida, arriving here Saturday evening by automobile. They had been in the Peninsular State for a year and a half. For the present they will be with Mrs. Ashley's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Mitterling, in Centre Hall.

George Stover had one of his trucks equipped with seats and cover and is transporting on it the local ball team to the various Centre county league ball fields. Heretofore private cars were used and sometimes it was difficult to find an owner to make the trip. Wilbur Stover, brother of the owner, has the "bus" in charge on these trips.

The failure of the brakes on a truck driven by R. C. Condon, Mifflinburg, resulted in its running down an embankment and turning over at the F. M. Fisher farm, tenanted by Charles Frazier, east of Centre Hall, on Friday. Two small boys were on the truck with the driver one of whom had his ankle broken and was cut on the face, and the other had a head injury.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy W. Jacobs and three children, Frances, Guy, Jr., and Rose Ann, motored here from their home in Steubenville, Ohio, arriving Friday night. All returned home on Monday except Rose Ann, who will remain for a short time with her grandma. Mr. Jacobs' homecoming over Mother's Day was a fine expression of his devotion to his aged mother, Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs.

Miss Theresa Andrews, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andrews, of Earlstown, was taken to the Centre County hospital on Friday evening and on Saturday morning underwent an operation for appendicitis. Her condition is reported very favorable. The young lady is a graduate of the Centre Hall High school and is held in high esteem by her many associates who will be pleased to learn that she is well on the way to complete recovery.

Mrs. Goodyear, wife of Merchant H. S. Goodyear, at Colyer, on Friday severely cut her wrist and this was followed by a heart attack to which she has been subject for some time. Her condition was critical at one stage, but she is now very much better. Mrs. Goodyear was walking through her yard carrying a dish filled with water, intended for some chicks, when she fell. In some manner a broken piece of the vessel cut the gash in her wrist, resulting as related above.

Mrs. Mary Breen, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Brooks, west of town, who was dangerously ill last week, recovered sufficiently to be able to sit up in bed on Monday. She was visited by six of her children, except one son during her present illness. The children are Mrs. Jane Breen, of Bellefonte; William, of Harrisburg; Sarah, wife of John Brooks, Barberton, Ohio; Edgar, of St. Paul, Minn.; Helen, wife of Lynn Platt, State College; Margaret, wife of Marian Keyser, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio; and Mrs. J. C. Brooks, where the mother lives, Geo. E. Breen, Knoxville, Tenn., was the missing member of the family.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Frank Yearick, who had been in Youngstown, Ohio, for the winter, is back to Millheim and for the present is stopping with his daughter, Mrs. Winfield Bartges and family.

The State highway workmen employed locally have been laid off for a week. They expect to begin work again as soon as the money under the new appropriation becomes available.

The regular monthly meeting of the Spring Mills Fish and Game Association will be held in the Gregg Township Vocational school building on Thursday evening, May 18. Regular business.—B. F. Kenneley sec'y.

It appears a 3 h. p. electric motor disappeared from the hose house on the Penns Valley bank lot, some time within the past few months. The motor was used in connection with a water pump, supplying compressed air.

Lock Haven State Teachers' College will graduate two hundred, May 29th. This is a decreased number from former years, due to a reduction of ten per cent by presidents permitting only the best qualified to continue their preparation to the graduation point.

Persons interested in the cemetery connected with the old Evangelical Association church, Zion Hill, in Potter township are requested to meet there on Saturday morning of this week prepared to aid in cleaning up the burying ground so that it will be in presentable condition on Memorial Day.

Mrs. Anna McManus, of Harrisburg, the latter part of last week was in South Potter among friends. She spent some time with her sister, Mrs. William Bower, at the home of the latter's daughter, Mrs. Wilbur Dashem, and family, Harrisburg, she related, to date did not show any industrial improvement.

Mrs. Harry Letzel, of Millheim, upon special invitation of her daughter, Miss Ethel Letzel, spent Mother's Day with her in Philadelphia, leaving Millheim on Friday, and returning late Sunday night. Miss Letzel is a student in the University of Pennsylvania and will graduate in Physical Education in June.

Mrs. Della A. Reiber, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis B. Reiber, and Miss Ruth Reiber spent Mother's Day in Carlisle as guests of the U. S. Army Band at Carlisle barracks. Mrs. Reiber's son, William D. is solo bass player with that organization. Sergeant C. L. Barnhart, trombonist of the band, played a request number for Mrs. Reiber.

Mrs. Andrew Zettle since leaving here to live in Milroy, has been very much distressed and at times ill. On Sunday she was visited by Kryder Frank and family, Irvin Zettle and family, Ernest Frank and family, Fred Stover and family, all of town, or nearby; Mrs. Sarah Benner, Bellefonte; Brown Nale and family, Milroy, and Mrs. Merrill Nale, of Troxville, all of whom are relatives.

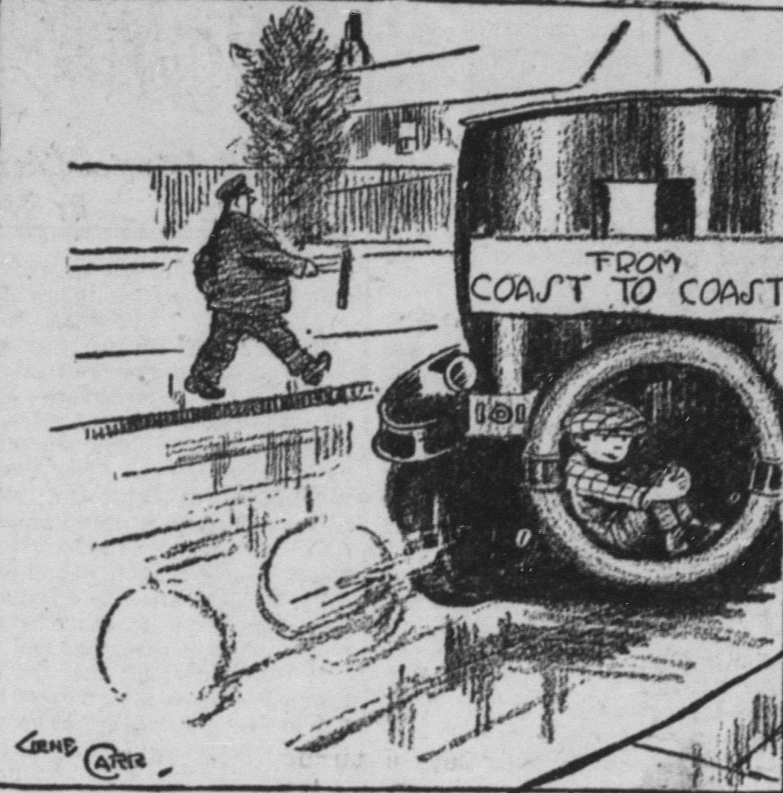

Many riders have been astride the pretty riding horse shipped here by George Searson and son from Iowa, last week, using the town's main thoroughfare for a bridle path. We looked them all over, and must give W. L. Jacobs the prize for making the little animal step its prettiest. Leslie's fondness for horses dates back before the days of the auto, when he handled many of them.

With twenty-seven cows, nineteen of which are in milk at this time, and a large number of hens, plenty of feed and prospects for a good hay crop in June, Elmer Hettinger is patiently waiting for the rains to cease to sow and plant the remainder of the spring crop on his farm near Farmers Mills. He depends largely on silage and alfalfa for roughage for his herd of Holsteins. He is planning for pasture—a permanent pasture—and will devote twenty-four acres to it. Mr. Hettinger is now in quest of information on how to establish such a pasture lot and will seek the advice of County Agent Blaney and Penn State professors in the Agricultural Department for details in procedure.

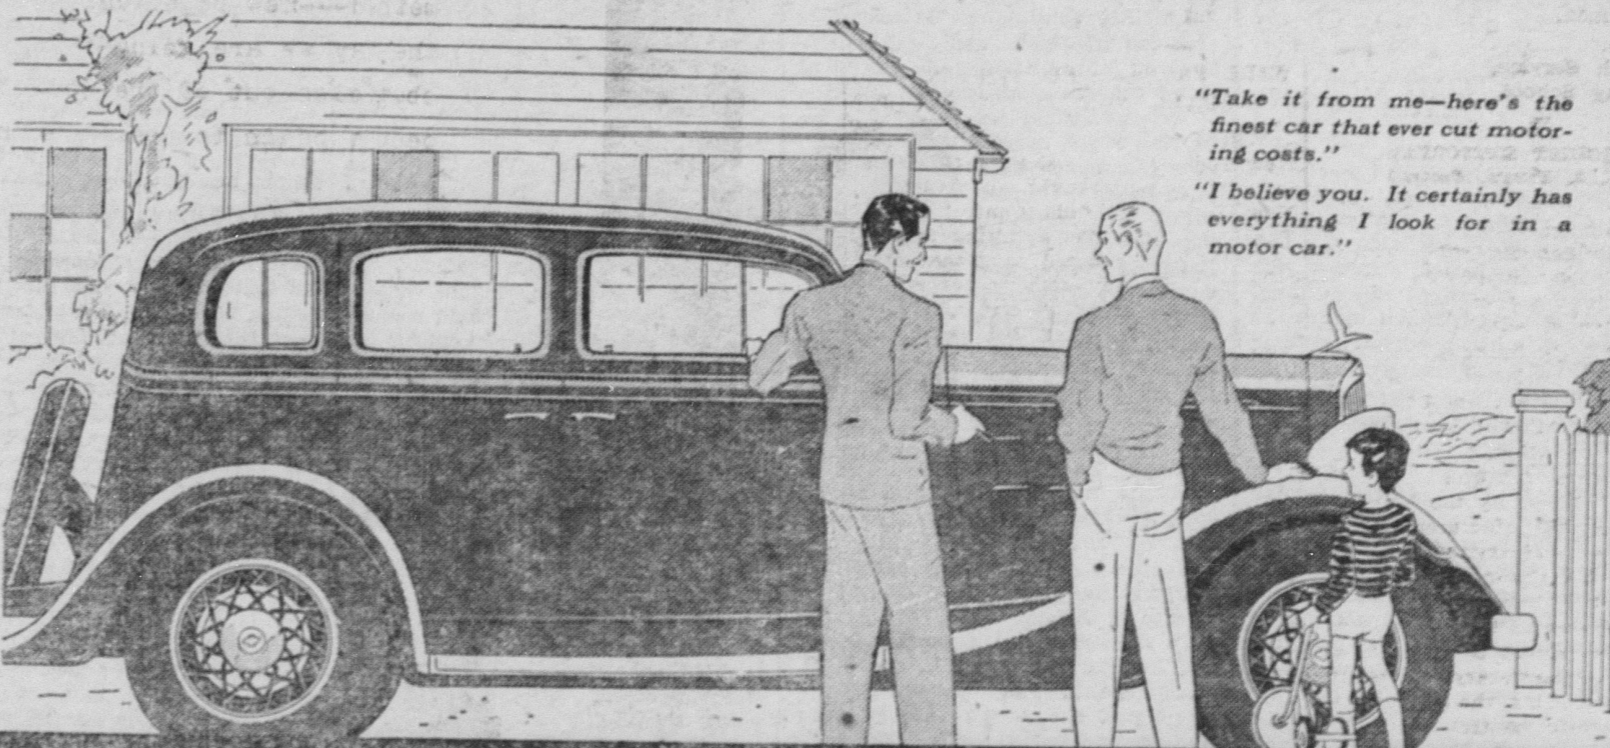

Mrs. James Gunsallus is very feeble at the age of 89 years. She makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. John Delaney, east of town. The lady has a large acquaintance throughout the county and also large family connections. Among others who called to see her over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. William Gunsallus, Mr. and Mrs. Billie Gunsallus, Jr., of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher, of Snyderown, and daughter, Miss Ruth, a nurse in training in the Lock Haven hospital; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gunsallus and son Miles, Lock Haven; Mrs. Edgar Confer and family, State College; Miss Margaret Fisher and John Dorman, Mill Hall; Mrs. Henry McCloskey, George Gunsallus, daughter Sarah, and Wm. Foringer, of Lamar; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delaney and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sharer, Centre Hall.

"I'm thinking of buying a new car. What's your advice?"

"A six-cylinder Chevrolet. There's one engine you know is right—a good many millions of owners have proved it for you."

"Seventy already! You'd never guess it from the sound of that engine."

"And you'd never guess it if you were driving. Give me a big, heavy, low car every time, for roadability."
