

CORRESPONDENTS' DEPARTMENT

Boalsburg.

Mrs. Ella Barr is entertaining her sister, Miss Lizzie Harpster, of Harrisburg.

The senior class of the H. T. V. S., composed of eight girls and eight boys, and Edwin Dale, instructor, left Monday on a trip to Washington, D.C.

Mrs. George Fisher has been ill, suffering with an attack of rheumatism.

Mrs. Mary Williams returned to her home in Greenville on Thursday after a pleasant visit among friends in this vicinity.

A number of members of the Reformed missionary society attended a conference at Beaver Springs on Wednesday.

Rev. W. J. Wagner will preach the baccalaureate sermon to the class of '33, H. T. V. S., Sunday evening, May 21st, at 8 o'clock, in the Lutheran church.

Forrest and Millard McGirk of Altoona, were in town on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Risher and sons of Millbrook, were supper guests at the A. J. Hazel home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reitz entertained Mrs. Fred Dornisfe, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lenker, Mrs. Eva McGaw, Mrs. Otto Doell, Jerry Dunkleberger, of Sunbury, and Charles Rose of Belvidere, N. J., Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Charles Kuhn and sister, Mrs. Mitchell Stover of Altoona, enjoyed a week-end visit with friends in Williamsport.

The flower bed at the Diamond is bright with yellow tulips; a number of lawns in the town are also beautiful with lovely tulips.

The young men's class of the Reformed S. S. entertained their young men's class of the Lutheran S. S. in the Bear Meadow camp, Friday night.

Spring Mills.

T. R. Wagner and family, of Williamsport, spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wagner. Mr. Wagner is a railway mail clerk on the Williamsport division.

Mrs. Wm. Osman is spending a week with her parents at Curwensville.

Clayton Snyder is having an addition built to his house on Long street, and when completed the home will be very much improved.

Miss Isabell Musser rendered a musical reading at St. Mark's Lutheran Sunday school last Sunday. Miss Bernice Musser presided at the piano. Both ladies rendered their parts remarkably well.

Prof. C. C. Hayes and his sister, Miss Isabel, spent the week-end at the parental home at Mackeyville.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, of Sunbury, are spending a week at the home of their son, Dr. George C. Thomas.

Mr. Sells, of Milton, moved into the vacant house of J. C. Lee, last week.

Mrs. Paul Grove is at present in Sunbury for surgical treatment.

30 Years Ago

Items of news which interested those of a generation ago, taken from the files of The Reporter, year 1903.

May 11, 1903.

Dr. C. E. Emerick and brother Geo. Emerick will set out a peach orchard of five hundred trees.

A new style of double row corn planter is being introduced in this section.

There is much plowing for corn to be done yet. Many farmers have been obliged to discontinue plowing on account of the drought.

At a meeting of the consistory of the Centre Hall Reformed church, a formal call was framed asking Rev. Daniel Gress to become its pastor.

Messrs. Paul Murray and Claude K. Stahl, who are closing their sophomore and freshman years, respectively, at Penn State, Saturday came to Centre Hall to visit their parents. Both young men had quarters in the University Inn, in the destruction of which by fire they lost considerable clothing and all their books.

W. B. Krape opened a jewelry store in the Dinges store building.

Capt. George M. Boal roofed the barn and some outbuildings on his farm south of Centre Hall.

John Spicher and brother are in search of carpenters to rebuild the barn on the Spicher homestead south of Centre Hall.

D. Earl Fleming on Friday returned from Munson Station where he just completed a term of school teaching. He is a graduate of Lock Haven Normal and met with good success at Munson.

P. Hoffer Dale, who will graduate from Penn State in June, has decided to enter the drug store of Dr. William Keller, Munson Station, until the opening of the University of Pennsylvania, where he will take up the study of medicine.

J. Shannon Boal, of this place, who recently had a cataract removed from one of his eyes, is improving slowly.

The Hat Shop, Millheim.

Just in at The Hat Shop—new hats for summer; stitched crepes, piques, wool sport hats, fancy straws, all in white and new Summer shades. Large head sizes a specialty. Prices very reasonable. Come and see for yourself. Mrs. Lenora V. Burd, Millheim.

SPRING MILLS.

Blaine Bitner, rural mail carrier on Route No. 1, and Coleman Wingard, postmaster here, on Saturday evening attended a meeting of the Federal Business Association, Penn. Alto Hotel, Altoona. The organization is under the control of the President, Col. F. G. Knabenshue and M. E. Evans were the principal speakers. An inspector of rural mail routes informed the body that with the advent of automobiles and good roads, rural mail carriers would be able to serve a much larger number of patrons on a cover a greater mileage than the average present route covers, and that longer hours and more work would be demanded of the carriers. What the inspector meant to convey to his hearers was that present routes would be consolidated.

After the 6:00 o'clock banquet the guests were invited to inspect the new half-million dollar post-office and its modern equipment.

Postmaster R. M. Smith and W. F. Keller, carrier on Route No. 1 from Centre Hall, were the only other persons at the gathering from the valley.

Jerry Confer, whose illness has already covered a period of four weeks, is not improving. His condition in reality is becoming more serious.

Representatives of the Millheim fire company were here last week in quest of donation of funds for the support of the company. The company gives service here upon request and with its present equipment is able to give an efficient service, consequently our citizens should feel it their duty to respond handsomely in the way of contributions for the support of the fire fighting outfit.

E. T. Jamison, the insurance agent, made a business trip to Boalsburg last week.

About thirty thousand trout measuring from two to three inches, were placed in thence troughs last week. Therearing pond is nearing completion, the concrete side walls having been poured. The Fish and Game Association will meet on the evening of the 15th.

Former Sheriff A. B. Lee is establishing a reputation for making high grade bologna sausage; last week he manufactured 125 lbs. of the product that met ready sale.

James Carson, father of Mrs. Theodore Wagner, died at Buffalo, N. Y., at the home of a daughter. The body was interred at Sunbury, where Mr. Carson had his home.

Before he could subdue a motorcycle on a rampage, Ira Lingle received an injury to one of his feet, obliging him to take a day off at the Groce silk mill, where he is employed.

The condition of Mrs. Margaret Finkle, widow of Robert Finkle, who is a patient at the Centre County hospital is reported as improving by her mother, Mrs. Jerry Confer, and Mrs. Coleman Wingard, who called on her a few days ago. The lady underwent an operation for appendicitis and gall stones.

More than 1,000 free trips to the Chicago World's Fair will be awarded to the Chevrolet field organization by the company this summer on the basis of meritorious sales during May and June.

CENTRE HALL DROPS OPENER TO MILLHEIM, 6-0

Millheim Bunts Way to Victory, While Aumiller Pitches One-Hit Game.

A scratch hit by Walker in the early part of the game is all that robbed Aumiller, Millheim's star twirler, from achieving a baseball pitcher's highest ambition—a hitless and scoreless victory. Score: Millheim, 6; Centre Hall, 0.

Centre Hall played its first game of the season at Millheim, on Saturday, and if a good beginning makes a bad ending, and the reverse is also true, we'll be sitting on top when the season ends; for Millheim was good, while the local club was not even fair. Aumiller kept the opposition popping up files or rolling infield grounders which were gobbed up by Wagner at short and Peely Musser at third, like these boys were playing in July or August.

Millheim's defense was superb, while their batting was also highly potent. While hits to the outfield were not rare by Millheim, their victory is attributed to bunts, which paralyzed Centre Hall in the first inning. Millheim scoring three times. Several attempts at the squeeze play worked to perfection.

Martz, for Centre Hall, although fanning nine Millheim batters, was hit when runs were needed—not distance hits, but measly, little infield taps which the speedy legs of the Millheimers beat out to the chagrin of the opposing players and their supporters.

It looks to us like this will be Millheim's forte this season, and it behooves the local management to see to it that a fast-stopping, peppy infield is organized to take care of this system of play.

Reduced to figures, Saturday's game looks like this:
