Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS

WELL, it seems like there is nothing funnier than modesty any more. If anybody thinks they see a girl that has old-fashioned notions they make up some real funny story about her wrapping lap robes around her ankles when she goes out riding, or something like that. The Queen of England gets more laughs than Harry Lauder, I reckon, because she wears long skirts, and maybe even petticoats.

But the most modest woman I ever heard of lives in New York, they tell me. She is an old lady that never married, and she still wears old-fashioned clothes. She keeps the shutters closed on her windows, and hardly ever goes out, because she gets shocked so easily. She got a new maid lately, and the maid was kinda shocked herself when she heard the mistress say something about being careful to dust the limbs of the dining table.

The maid says she got her real education, though, when her mistress had her bathe the dog. After the maid had been washing Fluffy with soap and water in the bath tub for a while, the mistress knocked at the door.

"Have you finished bathing him?" she asked, coyly. "Sure, I'm done." "Oh, all right, then, I may come in, I suppose."

DEATHS.

FLEISHER.—Thomas Jefferson Fleisher, one of Potter township's oldest native residents, passed out of this life Tuesday morning at 12:30 o'clock, after an extended illness due to complications brought on largely by the advanced age of the subject.

Funeral services will be held in the Zion Hill Evangelical church, this (Thursday) morning, 9:30 o'clock, with Rev. J. W. Zang in charge, assisted by Rev. H. A. Pruyn. Burial will be made in the cemetery close by.

Mr. Fleisher was a son of Jacob and Eliza Lutz Fleisher and was born at Colyer, November 11, 1847, making his age 85 years, 5 months and 19 days. Aside from the time he was in Michigan, a raftsmen on Saint Joseph river, he lived in Potter township and for the greater part of that time in the vicinity of Colyer, where he made baskets for a livelihood in his younger days.

His wife, whose maiden name was Susanna Luckenbach, died Jan. 12, 1925, but there survive him eight of eleven children, namely: Mrs. Carrie Horner, Youngsville; Harry E. Fleisher, Lewistown; Mrs. Henry C. Gettig, Braddock; William A. Fleisher, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. Henry Faust, Potters Mills; Mrs. Daniel Fohringer, Colyer; Mrs. D. Sparr Wert, Aaronsburg; and Miss Orpha Fleisher, at home. The three children now deceased are Mrs. Lillian Gettig, Mrs. Harry A. McClellan and Mrs. James Wagner.

CONFER.—Jerry Confer died Sunday morning at 4:09 o'clock at his home in Spring Mills, where he had lived since discontinuing an active farm life, a period of about fourteen years. Almost his entire life was spent in Gregg township. The last farm he lived on was the Ross farm, now owned by Elmer Hettinger. His illness extended over a period of several months. Funeral services were held Wednesday morning in the Georges Valley church, by Rev. H. A. Pruyn, and burial made in the cemetery close by.

The deceased was a son of William and Barbara Zettle Confer, and had attained the age of 75 years, 9 months and 20 days. His wife, whose maiden name was Henrietta Smetzler, survives him, as do also these children, being three of six born to the couple: Mrs. Robert Finkle, Centre Hall, R. D.; Mrs. Wm. Madara, Reedsville; Mrs. Elsie Tressler, Milroy; Howard Confer, of near Potters Mills, is a surviving brother.

BEATTY.—Charles Ross Beatty, a prominent Bellefonte citizen, passed away at the Centre County hospital, Sunday morning at 7:40, following an appendicitis operation, after having been admitted in the institution for a week. Mr. Beatty was born in Pittsburgh 45 years ago. Surviving him are his wife and six children, all at home. His mother, Mrs. J. E. Elliott, of Pittsburgh, and a sister, Mrs. Wm. S. Lindsay, of the same place, also survive.

Mr. Beatty came to Bellefonte from Pittsburgh seventeen years ago and since that time had been proprietor of the Beatty Motor company, incorporated.

Funeral services were conducted at his home Wednesday afternoon and burial made in the Union cemetery.

JUDGE JOHNSON FAVORS SON'S "RECEIVERSHIP RACKET"

Attorney General Cummings announced a sweeping investigation into a "receivership racket" in the jurisdiction of the Middle District of Pennsylvania, centering in Scranton.

The investigation is to include all bankruptcy procedure in the area, with a special report on Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson, of the Middle district, whose residence is in Lewisburg. His appointment of receivers is to be closely scrutinized.

Cummings explained that from the reports and complaints he had received, "it is apparent that Judge Johnson is under a cloud, and that suspicion concerning his appointment in receivership cases is widespread."

He also said he had heard that two sons of Judge Johnson were frequently appointed as receivers or counsel in bankruptcy cases, and that Judge Johnson also gave many appointments to relatives.

A son, Donald M. Johnson, is under fire now in connection with the Glendale Anthracite Colliery company, near Scranton. Federal Judge Albert Watson has named a special master to inquire into methods employed by young Johnson in handling funds for the company. Young Johnson was trustee in the company's bankruptcy. It is charged that he spent money without authorization.

Johnson was appointed to the Federal post by President Coolidge in 1925. There was considerable opposition to his appointment but dry forces marshaled back of him and secured the appointment for him. Of late he has been considered lenient in liquor violation cases.

The Thursday and Saturday issues of the Lewistown Sentinel gave an account of an auto accident at the junction of Third street and Electric avenue, resulting in the death of Lawrence Koch, ten years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Koch, of McAuley's Fort. The article further stated that one of the five other passengers in the car was Ward Gramley, of Millheim. The newspaper account appears correct except as to the reference to Mr. Gramley, who was in no way connected with it, or even having been in Lewistown on that day. Mr. Gramley's version is that one of the occupants of the car that was rammed by a heavy truck, desired to keep his identity unknown and gave the name he did to accomplish it.

AGED LADY BREAKS LEG IN FALL AT HER HOME

Mrs. Mary Weber, while walking through the kitchen of her home, on Sunday evening, fell and broke her right leg above the knee. The Centre County hospital ambulance was called to take her to the hospital after an examination by the family physician. Her condition is considered very serious, due largely to complications existing prior to her fall. The fracture has not been reduced, and probably will not be.

Mrs. Weber is the widow of the late John H. Weber and is a highly respected lady. She and a granddaughter, Miss Mary Weber, have comprised the family since the death of Mr. Weber.

BOSSIE DROWNS IN WELL; COW AND HORSE GO TO R. P.

R. P. stands for rendering plant. In this instance the rendering plant conducted by Lloyd Smith, Milesburg. The cow that drowned was the best of three kept by Paul Bodgan and his mother, Mrs. Susan Williams, near Potters Mills. In a pasture lot there once were improvements, all now obliterated except a well, and from it the cows were regularly watered. Monday about noon one of the cows was missing and on going to the well she was found in it—dead. The animal evidently stepped onto the cover which gave way under her.

Before the rendering plant operator left, it was decided there was no more use for old "Dobbin," so he was killed as humanely as possible and with the cow went to the R. P.

SPRING MILLS.

Archey Bartlebaugh, a member of the Walter Anman household, on Monday went to New York City to visit with friends.

Miss Miriam Tschudy, teacher of economics in the Gregg Twp. Vocational school and retained as a teacher during the coming school year is at present at her home in Lebanon.

Gregg township's population was increased by two by the way of the stork's activity. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Randall Steiger, in Georges Valley, and the family of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bailey, on the hill, was increased from one to two.

C. A. Krape is having his dwelling house roofed. P. G. Garrett, of Rubensburg, is superintending while his men are doing the work.

The Shiloh Sunday school will observe Children's day with an appropriate service on the evening of Sunday, June 25, 7:30 o'clock.

Henry Ford Dearborn, Mich. May 29, 1933. WOMEN'S CONTRIBUTION TO THE MOTOR CAR There is some doubt that people care to hear very much about what goes on under the hoods of their cars. The driver knows that "driving qualities" are not accidental; they are put there. How the manufacturer creates or evolves those results may not interest him. He judges entirely by the results he gets in driving. Well, it is not essential to talk "shop"; let us talk Results. Smoothness. Drive the Ford V-8 and you will find that the engine runs with surpassing smoothness, due to its design and the extra precise methods of its manufacture. Power. There it is, 75 horsepower (we could say 80) at the drive-shaft for the driver's use. With less weight to pull around, the mettle of this car—its life-like response—is rather remarkable. Economy. Our V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gasoline than any car we have made. Mileage is partly a matter of individual driving, but under average conditions the Ford V-8 does 17 to 20 miles a gallon. Of course, car economy is not only a matter of fuel. Ford V-8 has that too, but it is also economical in the complete sense—initial cost, operation, maintenance. Appearance. This is woman's contribution. The motor car must not only be useful, but also good-looking. View the Ford V-8 and you will not need our comment on its fine appearance. Comfort. This also is woman's concern. In 30 years she changed the motor car from a wagon to a coach. Comfort is a quality made up of numerous ingredients. There is no comfort without a quiet, smooth-running engine. We have all the other ingredients too—color, good taste, quality, ease, safety, roominess and convenience. Henry Ford
