

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Luse, Sunday evening. He is getting along fine, but as yet has not been named.

Mrs. Edward E. Bailey is a patient in the Centre County hospital, where in a few days she will submit to a serious operation.

Mrs. George Vogt, a patient in the Centre County hospital, returned to her home here on Friday, and is again in normal physical condition.

Thomas Fleisher, one of Potter township's oldest residents, is very feeble at this time. His condition has been alarming for several weeks.

Elijah H. Follmer was appointed acting postmaster for Milton, succeeding Luther W. Gehrig. He assumed charge of the office on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Daniels, of Whiting, Vermont, are at the home of the latter's sister, Miss Sarah McClenahan, in town, for their annual summer vacation.

Daniel Daup is having hardwood floors laid in his dwelling, which with the installation of a hot water heating plant will complete the improvements begun several weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ebricht, Saturday night and Sunday, attended various functions incident to the commencement at Selinsgrove University. This included a reception, banquet and baccalaureate sermon by Rev. J. F. Harkins, of State College.

Misses Florence Hackett and Doris Moltz, of town, last week accompanied T. A. Hosterman to Harrisburg and remained there as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kerlin, the young ladies being close friends of their daughter, Miss Dorothy. They viewed the capital and capitol in detail.

James Spayd and sister, Miss Metta Spayd, of Bellevue, Ohio, and the former's son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Spayd, and their son, Dick, of Fremont, paid a visit to the A. H. Spayd family and P. H. Luse family in town. They arrived Sunday and returned home Tuesday morning.

Saturday, a large amphibian plane, owned by a well-known gas company, landed on the Bellefonte field, its objective point being the Boalsburg field. J. S. Boozer, his wife and two children, Pattie and David, became cabin passengers between the two fields. At the latter field a large number of dealers in the products of the company concerned were given free rides.

At the festivals held here by the High school pupils on Memorial day and by the Rebersburg ball team on Saturday night, at Rebersburg, Wm. Lingle, representing the Polar Wave Ice Cream Co., Sunbury, was on hand to serve delicious cream. At Rebersburg the festival was attended by an unusually large number of persons, many of whom were attracted through the advertising of the presence of a popular band.

"The Golden Chord" was the title of a very pretty children's service rendered by the children in the Methodist church in town on Sunday evening. The service consisted of responsive reading in which the entire audience participated, songs, solos, quartets, recitations, and psalms, all by children. In the absence of the pastor, Rev. H. A. Pruyn, the service was conducted by T. L. Moore.

Mrs. Robert McClenahan and small son are at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Orrep, in Yeagertown. She is receiving attention frequently at one of the Lewis-town hospitals. Her case was first thought to be appendicitis, but later developments disproved the belief. The ailment, however, is of a rather serious nature and with the best of care she will not be able to perform household duties for some time to come.

The local Lutheran Sunday school on Sunday arranged to send two boys to Camp Susquehanna, at Susquehanna University, Selinsgrove. Kenneth Dutrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dutrow, is one of the youths to receive this benefit, and this year will complete the course there. Vinton McClellan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McClellan, is the other youth selected. This will be his first year at camp. The camp opens for this group on Thursday, June 15th and closes Friday, 23rd.

Dr. W. E. Fischer, of Shamokin, accompanied by his daughters, Mrs. Marion Keen and Mrs. Buery, and Dr. Charles E. Buery, all of Philadelphia, composed a family auto party, who on their way to State College, on Monday, stopped for a brief time with friends in town. Dr. Buery, president of Temple University, Philadelphia, was the commencement speaker at Penn State, Monday afternoon, substituting for former Ambassador Roland S. Morris, whose mother died on Saturday.

James E. Scott, of Cleveland, Ohio, was among the Reporter's callers last week on his way to Pottery Mills and then to Walter Garrity's. He was accompanied by a granddaughter, Miss Kathryn Kinsley, and Edward Fording, both of whom saw this section for the first time. Back in 1887 Mr. Scott was pressman in the Keystone Gazette office and the writer was picking up local news items. This was during the period when James A. Fiedler, the founder of the Gazette, was playing the duce with the Democratic majority in Centre county. Since leaving Bellefonte, Mr. Scott changed his occupation. For nineteen years he has been with the Dictaphone Corporation, in Cleveland, and his granddaughter is doing clerical work in the office of the Travelers Insurance company. Mr. Scott will be found at 7001 Clinton Avenue, Cleveland.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kerlin are due to arrive here on Saturday from St. Petersburg, Fla., where they spent the winter.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Noll, Pleasant Gap, in a Philadelphia hospital. She has been named Janet Lucille.

C. E. Bradford completed the erection of a large and handsome porch to the front of his home in the south section of town.

Mrs. Orvis Weaver was taken to the Centre County hospital on Tuesday evening. It was planned for her to undergo an operation Wednesday forenoon, too late to ascertain the results for publication in this issue.

Rev. John F. Harkins, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, State College, delivered the baccalaureate sermon before Susquehanna University's seventy-fifth graduating class on Sunday evening.

Centre county will receive $16,905 for its share of relief funds for the month of June. This is twenty per cent. less than the sum originally planned, due to the fact that employment is estimated to have increased.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Heim and son Merrill, of Harrisburg, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Colyer. The young man was obliged to walk on crutches due to a broken toe caused by a slight accident at a gas station where he is employed.

Burglars recently gained entrance to the office at the Rockview penitentiary, cracked the safe and got safely away with $261.85 in cash. The office is outside the stockade and was unguarded. The money represented contributions by employees to the State Welfare relief fund.

So that you may recognize an official beverage crown compare it with this description: The color is orange, with the official keystone and lettering in dark blue. The lettering "Penna. Beverage crown" appears in the keystone. The word "Penna." is shown in the upper portion of the keystone; the word "Beverage" in the center, and the word "Crown" in the lower part.

A plot of about four acres on the Huyett farm, Ralph Luse, tenant, sown to winter barley is attracting the attention of a considerable number of local farmers. The plants came into full head last week. The stalks stand erect and the prospects for a heavy yield are promising. If the yield fulfills its present promising appearance, the crop will no doubt be sown by other farmers next fall.

Rural mail carriers are making a report on hogs, milk cows, sheep and poultry in the section covered by them. Ten farms are selected with a view of having them represent the average in the district covered by the carrier. The information in each line is very complete, but most of the questions can be answered by the farmer without much calculating. The information is for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Frank recently spent a week in Baltimore where they lived during the beginning of their married life. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Franke. The ladies went to Baltimore together, after graduating from the High school here, and took a course in a business college there, and have since retained a close friendship. While in the Maryland city they also visited H. M. Hipple, a brother-in-law to Mrs. Franke, and found him in a hospital being treated for cirrhosis of the liver.

Logan Grange, Pleasant Gap, will hold a festival Saturday evening. The Spring Mills Junior baseball team put it over a similar team from town on the latter's school field, Tuesday evening. The visitors excelled their rivals in practically all respects. The youths are uniform in size and age and ability. The local team has several diminutive players, hot for their size, but out of place in a competition like that staged Tuesday evening.
