Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS

THERE was a Scotchman who came over to America to lecture a couple of years ago. He made a killing, telling American audiences how crude America still is.

The Scotchman and the taxi driver both hunted around for the coin a long time. They couldn't find it, and neither could the doorman at the theatre there.

"I'll do it," says the doorman. "You're too good to forget. I'll keep right on hunting for that nickel, and if you ever come this way again, come around and see me about it."

So the Scotchman was back the other day with another lecture. He went to Columbus Circle and found the doorman.

"Did you find the nickel?" he said. "No, but I'm still looking."

The Scotchman looked around and saw the whole neighborhood was tore up. They're building a subway station there and they've got the streets all running on planks and a terrible lot of blasting and digging going on.

"Weel, weel, I thank ye kindly," says the Scotchman. "Ye're right diligent in the search, and I dimna ken that I expected ye to go to all this mess an' trouble for ma nickel. But I'll reward ye if ye find it!"

DEATHS.

ZETTLE.—After an illness extending over a long period due largely to complications, Mrs. Andrew Zettle died at her home near Milroy, on Tuesday afternoon. The body was brought to the morgue at the Goodhart undertaking establishment, from where it will be taken to the Georges Valley church, Friday morning, and after services there will be interred in the cemetery connected with the church.

KERN.—Frank T. Kern, for a number of years engaged in the laundry business in Bellefonte died Tuesday at 11:00 A. M. at the Centre County hospital, following an appendicitis operation Sunday evening at 9:00 o'clock, having entered the hospital three hours previous.

POWERS.—Mrs. Eva Jane Powers, aged 23 years, wife of Charles Powers, of Mill Hill, died Saturday morning at the Lock Haven hospital, of peritonitis. Mrs. Raymond King, of Aaronsburg, is a sister.

HOLMES.—Richard Conly Holmes died suddenly at his home in Bellefonte on Wednesday evening of last week. He was born on a farm in Little Nittany and was aged 65 years.

SANKEY.—William Sankey, a prominent figure in Milfford when "Sankey's Life of Leather" was a household word, died on Thursday. Funeral services were held Tuesday forenoon. He was a son of John Sankey and a resident of Milfford for many years.

The Fish Commission stocked 1,000 black bass and 325,000 pike perch fry in waters of Centre county last year. Bald Eagle creek was stocked with both species.

Robert Dodds will offer a car load of horses for sale here within the near future. The horses are ready for shipment now.

Spring Mills.

Miss Bernice Smith was taken to the Mary Packer hospital by her mother, Mrs. Mabel Smith, where she underwent a tonsil operation.

A very serious misfortune happened Richard McCool, young son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. McCool, in Georges Valley, resulting in a broken bone in the arm and dislocated shoulder. The lad riding on a load of hay fell from it, sustaining the injuries. The fracture was reduced and the shoulder put in place by Dr. Thomas and Dr. McCQueen.

Miss Delsie Morris will spend her vacation with her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Krape, having come home on Saturday from Doylestown, where she finished teaching a term of school in a successful manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Auman spent last week in New York City on business and pleasure.

Tuesday night birthday party was given to Jane Rossmann at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rossmann, where she lives with her mother. Jane became six years of age on the evening of the celebration, which occasion was enjoyed by a number of her playmates, and her sister, Dorothy, 9. Of course, refreshments were served, games were played, and everything possible done to insure the children a pleasant evening.

Mrs. Charles L. McCool is a patient in the Mercy hospital, Altoona, where she underwent an appendix operation. She was visited on Tuesday by her husband and the latter's mother, Mrs. D. M. McCool.

Mrs. Jerry Confer, whose husband died recently, closed her home here for the present and until fall expects to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Elsie Tressler, in Milroy.

If Ralph Kerstetter's word is as good as his bond, he recently became a member of the great society of benedictines. The bride, who is now at the home of James Kerstetter, at Penn Hall, where the groom lives, before marriage was Miss Violet Kramer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Kramer, of Woodward.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Johnston, in Philadelphia, on Sunday, 11th inst. and has been named Barbara Ann. Of course, the event is hailed with delight by the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bright W. Bitner, in Spring Mills. To give the fond grandpa and grandma a detailed description of just how a first grandchild looks and acts, Miss Geraldine Bitner was dispatched to Philadelphia to visit her niece and report.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Coramm, Mrs. Annie Smith, Mrs. Emma Hazel and Mrs. Nellie Gramley took a pleasure trip on Sunday and had dinner at Hazell's camp, east of Bellefonte.

Members of the local camp, of the P. O. S. of A., will have a festival in Hosterman's grove, east of Penn Hall, on Saturday evening, July 22nd. The Variety Entertainers of Lock Haven will furnish the music.

Locust Grove S. S. will have a festival Saturday evening, July 8. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lee and Miss Betty visited their daughter, Mrs. Wachstetter and family, at Bethlehem, last Saturday.

Mrs. Silkman of Yeagerstown, is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. Sylvia Grenoble. Mrs. Silkman is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Grenoble, formerly of this place, and was before marriage Miss Ana May.

Mr. and Mrs. Raybold and Miss Mae Musser, registered nurses, all of Altoona, spent the week-end at the home of Mrs. Raybold's father, R. D. Musser.

R. R. Bartkus, of Sunbury, arrived here on Saturday evening and spent the night with his father, Ivy W. Bartkus. Mr. Bartkus is working for the Bob Shirt Co., and has been very fortunate to hold his job during the depression.

The program rendered by the Reformed and Methodist S. S. last Sunday evening was very good and was appreciated by a full house.

Richard Bergstresser left Monday for the World's fair. He is on an excursion with a crew of members of the Y. M. C. A. who are traveling on an international truck. He will be gone 15 days, and on his return expects to visit his mother, Mrs. Harvey Hauen, who is on the sick list.

BODTOLF—DOUGHERTY.

Miss Mabel Elizabeth Dougherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Dougherty of Jersey Shore, R. D. 3, was married to Rev. Roy Oakley Bodtolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bodtolf, of Milroy, and grandson of Calvin Bodtolf, Tusseyville, at a pretty wedding which took place Thursday evening in the DuBoistown Methodist church.

Dr. A. Lawrence Miller, superintendent of the Williamsport district of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony, assisted by Rev. T. M. Stone, pastor of the First Methodist church at Jersey Shore, and Rev. J. E. Kahler, of Reedsville.

The bride was attended by Miss Helen Reiter, of Latrobe as maid of honor, and Mrs. Marion Young, of Jersey Shore, as bridesmaid. The best man was Rev. S. H. Russell, of State College, and the ushers were Rev. Donald Miller, of Jersey Shore; Rev. Charles Dohl, of Salona, Alvin Manning and Hall Sortman, of DuBoistown.

A reception was given following the ceremony, at the parsonage which was attractively decorated with pink and white roses. There were 35 guests.

The bride is a graduate of Jersey Shore high school class of 1928, and attended Dickinson junior college.

Rev. Bodtolf is a graduate of Milroy high school and attended Dickinson seminary and Drew university. Rev. and Mrs. Bodtolf are now at home at the parsonage in DuBoistown.

1933 ELECTION PERFORMS FOUR SEPARATE FUNCTIONS

The calendar, revised according to changes made in election laws by the 1933 Legislature, was completed last week.

Among the changes in the election calendar made by the recent legislative sessions are the elimination of one day at which assessors sit at polls and changes in the hours of registration in third-class cities.

Assessors formerly sat on the last two days for assessment; now they will sit at polls only on the last day. No changes were made in election dates. The primary election will be Tuesday, September 19, and the municipal election Tuesday, November 7.

The municipal election in November will really perform four separate functions this year.

As in all odd-numbered years, candidates for judgeships and for county city, borough, township and school offices will be elected at that time. Four parties—Republican, Democratic, Prohibition, Socialist—must select their nominees at the primary election. Other parties, if they wish to participate in November, must pre-empt their names and nominate their candidates as independent groups.

The second function of the November election will be the selection of the 15 delegates-at-large to cast Pennsylvania's vote for ratification of rejection of repeal of the 18th Amendment.

The third will be submission of a referendum in each municipality to determine whether voters favor legalizing Sunday baseball and football under local licenses.

The fourth will be to give voters an opportunity to ratify or reject a series of amendments to the State constitution.

The usual election of burgess, councilman, school director, tax collector, auditors, judges and inspector of election, assessor and justices of the peace will take place in the boroughs and townships. Petitions for these offices will be available at the office of the county commissioners after July 1st. For all county offices petitions must be signed by at least 100 qualified voters of the county. For borough and township offices by at least 19 qualified voters.

A District Attorney will be elected this fall. John G. Leve's term of office expires, while Mr. Jury Commissioners will be elected; the terms of J. C. Condo and J. C. Gates expiring.

"Nerves" "NERVES" "Nerves"

Dr. Miles' NERVE "Did the work" says Miss Glivar WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT?

After more than three months of suffering from a nervous ailment, Miss Glivar used Dr. Miles' Nerve which gave her such splendid results that she wrote us an enthusiastic letter.

If you suffer from "Nerves." If you lie awake nights, start at sudden noises, tire easily, are cranky, blue and fidgety, your nerves are probably out of order.

Quiet and relax them with the same medicine that "did the work" for this Colorado girl.

Whether your "Nerves" have troubled you for hours or for years, you'll find this time-tested remedy effective.

At Drug Stores 25c and $1.00.
