Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher on Tuesday attended the funeral of William Sankey, in Millinburg.

Miss Jennie Bartholomew, after visiting in Bellefonte for several weeks, returned to her home here on Thursday evening.

Miss Edith Floray, now living in Lewisburg, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Floray, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Kittleberger and daughter, Miss Elizabeth, of Curwensville, spent a few hours in the Bartholomew home, Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. John Peck, of Tyrone, spent Monday with Mrs. H. W. Potter while her husband fished in Penna Creek at Coburn. That section had a heavy rain, while the rainfall here was very light.

Ray Sweetwood, of Potters Mills, while engaged in playing a game of ball, sprained one of his ankles. The injury was severe enough to make the young man resort to the use of crutches to locomote.

Bands and other musical organizations desiring an engagement on the park during the week of the Grange Fair—August 26-Sept 1—are advised to communicate with L. E. Dale, Boalsburg, for information.

The Reformed church school, Centre Hall, will hold an all-day picnic on Locust State park, one mile south of Potters Mills, on Saturday. Transportation to and from the park will be furnished to any not having conveyances at their disposal.

Clayton E. Wagner underwent a goiter operation in the Clearfield hospital, Dr. Waterworth being the operating surgeon. The gland removed was what is known as an inward goiter. Latest reports received by the family through W. W. Kerlin, were to the effect that patient is in very fair condition, considering the complications from which he suffered previously.

The ladies composing the Woman's class in the Reformed Sunday school, Centre Hall, yesterday (Wednesday) were entertained by Mrs. Eliza Meyer, a former member of the class, at her apartment in the First National Bank building, Tyrone. The class is composed of thirty, with Mrs. John Delaney, president. The outing was enjoyed to the full extent by the ladies.

Mrs. Emmette Brentlinger and her daughter, Miss Frances Spencer, of Champaign, Ill., were welcome Sunday guests at the Bartholomew home. Mrs. Brentlinger, who is a niece of W. H. Bartholomew, is a sister of Mrs. Anna Bartholomew Kittleberger, of Curwensville. The ladies were called East by the death of Mrs. Brentlinger's aunt, Mrs. Emma Decker, of Lock Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Henney and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Erb, also the latter couple's daughter, Miss Lila, a High school girl, all of Latrobe, were weekend visitors of Mrs. Lucy Henney, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Henney, in town. On returning home on Sunday the visitors took with them Mrs. Lucy Henney, who will be their guest for two weeks.

Mrs. D. M. Bradford, of town, underwent a long-dreaded operation for the removal of gall stones, Wednesday of last week, at the Geisinger hospital, where she has been a patient for three weeks or more. Reports from Mr. Bradford and other relatives who visited her indicate a gradual improvement of the patient, after having suffered severely for a few days following the operation.

Alberta M. Krader, of Bellefonte, will leave on Saturday for Chicago where she will attend the National Educational meeting and the World's Fair. She will appear in programs both in Chicago and Elgin, Ill. On the 15th of July, Mrs. Krader will go to New York City, her native city, where she will visit relatives, and also in Connecticut, returning some time in August to Bellefonte.

The Strohm farm, at Centre Hill, more recently owned by J. C. Goodhart, but now the property of P. P. Henshall, of State College, is being materially improved. The dwelling house was improved by the addition of a neat front porch, and the whole structure painted, as was also the barn. Lime and fertilizers are also being used liberally so the farm will not only pay its way, but a profit.

Richard Brooks, 5 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks, west of here, while playing at the Brooks barn climbed to the top of a door and in a fall from it broke the bones in the left arm midway between the wrist and elbow. A short time after the accident on Monday afternoon, the youth was taken to the Centre County hospital where the fracture was reduced and an x-ray picture taken. The lad, for nearly all of his life, lived with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brooks, in town, who report that he is not making any particular ado about the mishap.

Fred Bender, local councilman and agent for Raleigh Products, has been ill for more than a week with an old complaint, and today will be removed to the Lewisburg hospital for observation and possibly an operation by Dr. Cassidy. Mr. Bender has been suffering from stomach and intestinal trouble. During his enforced idleness, his business will be taken care of by Clifford Diehl, who will canvass the territory. Mr. Bender will be highly appreciative of all favors until he again is able to give his personal attention to the work.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

L. E. Allis has been confined to bed for two weeks from scarlet fever. Millheim is to have a cut-rate drug store. It will open in the old theatre building.

J. H. Knarr, of town, was appointed an under-foreman at the C. C. C. camp, Treasurer Kettle, near Colyer. He began work Tuesday.

Mrs. R. W. McCullough and son Bobbie, of Indiana, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Tressler, in town. The ladies are sisters and were formerly of Howard.

While working at the construction of an ice pond, at Potters Mills, on Tuesday evening, Ralph Neff broke a bone in the right ankle. The fracture was reduced by Dr. Light and later he was taken to the Centre County hospital for an x-ray examination.

While engaged at the Kerlin poultry plant, J. E. Rishel was struck below the eye with the point of a small saw that was being slid from the second to the first floor on a board, and left it. The eyeball was not injured, and time is expected to fully right the injury.

Twelve boys, members of a class in the Lutheran Sunday school taught by Mrs. W. W. Kerlin, together with the teacher and several others enjoyed an all-day picnic on Tuesday at Kish-acuquillas park, near Lewistown. The swimming pool was the chief attraction in the line of sports.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Luse and young daughter, also, Miss Gladys Smith, sister of Mrs. Luse, have been in Bellevue, Ohio, and other points in that state during the past two weeks. Mr. Luse, manager of the local Wells store, is on vacation. During his absence Ellis Wait, of Lock Haven, is in charge of the store.

Miss Ann Wert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wert, of Tussysville, an appendicitis patient in the Centre County hospital, was reported by her parents on Wednesday morning as getting along very nicely. She was admitted to the hospital on Thursday and underwent an operation on Friday. For a few days following the ordeal she suffered considerably.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Richie, a groom and his bride, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lanson Burris on Friday and Saturday, the couple having come here from Washington, D. C. After the honeymoon trip is completed, Mr. and Mrs. Richie will live in South Fork. The bride, formerly Miss Mary Coble, is a niece of Mrs. Burris and is well known here.

Among the guests in Millheim this week are a bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fetterolf, of Mount Union, who are being entertained since Monday by the groom's cousin, Randall Miller, and Mrs. Miller. Mr. Fetterolf is a son of Charles H. Fetterolf, a wholesale and retail lumber dealer and contractor, and is employed by the father. The bride was formerly Miss Ann Hackman, also of Mount Union.

Misses Agnes Geary, Louise Smith of Centre Hall, and Auderie Keller, of Pleasant Gap, on Sunday morning, started on a five-day Greyhound bus excursion to the Century of Progress Exposition, Chicago. The excursion rate includes rooming accommodations in Chicago, entrance to the exhibition, also to several leading concessions, and side trips. The former of the three is a local High school teacher and the other two are employed in the offices of the Agricultural Department, Penn State.

John Gramley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Windom Gramley of Millheim, is on a university tour with a group of teachers, each striving to obtain six additional credits in school work. The tour will take them to Chicago, where the great Century of Progress exhibition will be visited for a few days, Canada, the Pacific Coast and Mexico. The tour is being made in Greyhound buses. Mr. Gramley is returning to Clymer, Indiana county, at the opening of the 1933-34 school term, to resume teaching there.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Isaac Emery was surprised the other morning to find a large rattle snake coiled up nicely in his garage. It lay close to the door and remained quiet until struck with a fork and killed.

A consignment of cabbage and tomato plants will be placed in the hands of T. L. Smith, Centre Hall, by the 1st of July, and those parties who have been receiving relief orders, free seeds, etc., through the Relief organization, may call and obtain these garden plants.

Former Foes Meet in Common Cause

President Enrique Olaya Herrera of Colombia, S. A., (left) greets Gen. Vasquez Cobo, Commander of the Colombian Expeditionary Forces on the Amazon upon the latter's return by airplane from the front for a war conference with the chief executive. The two men were opponents for the Colombian presidency in 1930. Political differences were forgotten after election and Gen. Cobo was appointed Colombian Ambassador to France. When Peru seized the Colombian town of Leticia, President Herrera recalled his former political foe and appointed him army chief. With land, water and air forces, Cobo will continue his fight to retake Leticia from Peru. The Colombian forces are fortified by favorable international sentiment and a recent proclamation of the League of Nations condemning Peru.
