Prof. John Rossman, Mrs. Rossman and daughter, Miss Virginia, of East Chicago, Indiana, are guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rossman. Local farmers are not all of one accord as to the benefits they will receive from the bonus offered them in return for reducing the wheat acreage by twenty per cent. It appears it is up to the farmers who have made the matter more or less of a study to induce the skeptical to join in the movement. Agriculturists frequently lose opportunities to help the farming situation by failing to act in unison and accept measures beneficial to the class as a whole. In the question now before them the greatest benefit will be shared only provided all wheat growers join hands in the common good of all interested. One of the stumbling blocks arises from the provision that the acres reduced are to be placed in cold storage, but this as a demand is not unfair. No one can "eat his cake and have it, too." If the wheat grower is paid through a bonus for the acres he agrees to reduce his crop, that is all he can justly ask. To do otherwise would destroy the whole purpose of the scheme.

Mr. and Mrs. Pealer Rossman and son Hays, of Pittsburgh, were at the Rossman home over the week-end.

The festival held Saturday night by the Spring Mills band was a success. One of the attractions was the presence of the Millmont band, another was a boxing bout by amateur "punchers" from Fox Valley C. C. C. camp.

The Spring Mills baseball team was again defeated by a Centre Hall team of equal standing but the defeat was not a discredit. The boys played the game well and conducted themselves like real sports. They are a fine lot of boys, and share in successes as well as defeats.

TIMELY HITTING, JAMISON'S HURLING, SWAMPS LAMAR, 4-0

[Reported by Hugh Morrow, Jr.] Facing nine opposing batsmen, allowing but two hits and polling out three singles out of three trips to the plate, Roy Jamison, Centre Hall's portside, was the "fair-haired lad" of the seven-inning contest held at Lamar last Thursday evening.

Both teams were unable to advance a man over the pentagon until the beginning of the final frame when Paul Martz, Rimmer, and Jamison each singled, and Jack Bradford pounded the pill over the left fielder's head for a three-sacker. These hits, coupled with a misplay by the Lamar short-stop, caused four markers to be put down to Centre Hall's credit in the score-book.

Lamar had a man on second and third in the second inning after Baird put one in the cabbage patch for a triple and Heckman stopped one of the Jamison offerings with his shoulder. However, a strike-out by Harris, and an out at first by "Tink" Hines who did the Lamar moundwork, soon drowned the enthusiasm of the unusually ardent Lamar cheering section. This was Lamar's only scoring threat during the entire fracas.

The Centre Hall team totaled four errors, two of them charged to Rimmer, who covered the first base position and one each to Crawford and Paul Martz, 2b and ss, respectively. Dolan's 7th inning fumble of Goodhart's grounder constituted the only Lamar misplay. The box score:

Centre Hall R H O A E table. Goodhart, rf .1 0 0 0 0; Bradford, 3b .0 1 0 4 0; Emery, cf .0 1 0 0 0

LOCALS LACE FIRST-HALF WINNERS BY 10-3 SCORE

Lapping the offerings of Corman, Millheim pitcher, for 15 hits, three of them two-run variety, the local nine dented the winners of the first half in the Centre County League by a count of 10 to 3. The contest took place on the Millheim grounds on Saturday, Paul Martz pitching for Centre Hall, was touched for seven well-scattered hits during the nine-inning game, allowing but three Millheim players to cross the plate.

Centre Hall scored three runs in the second inning when Fetterolf singled, and Stover, Paul Martz and Goodhart each gathered in a two-base blow. Singled by Bradford and Fetterolf, supported by Emery's sacrifice and Crawford's free trip to first, scored another run in the fifth inning. Three singles by Stover, Bradford and Emery and Paul Martz's sacrifice hit scored two more markers in the sixth, while four bingles by Fetterolf, Rimmer, Stover and Paul Martz and a sacrifice by R. Martz, in the 7th frame, added four more markers to the Centre Hall side of the score sheet, to bring the total to ten. Windom Gramley, erstwhile Millheim manager, took the mound in the eighth for his team and blanked the Centre Hall boys for the remaining two innings, being obliged to face but six opposing batters.

Millheim scored single runs in the first, third and ninth innings. Wagner erred twice and Amiller once for the boys from East Penns Valley, and Ralph Martz and Bradford each have one misplay chalked against them for this particular game. The box score:

Millheim R H O A E table. Wagner, ss .1 1 2 2 2; Spigelmeyer, 3b .0 0 1 1 0; Amiller, 2b .0 1 4 3 1

WITH THE JUNIOR TEAMS. A Potters Mills junior baseball team, which was obliged to fill in with a few Centre Hall youths in order to make a complete line-up, met the local junior team on the baseball diamond here last Thursday evening. The game resulted in a 2-2 victory for Centre Hall.

Colyer and Potters Mills ball teams gave an exhibition of their expertness with the stick and ball, Friday evening on the Potters Mills field. The visitors carried off the honors, having scored eight runs to three. Luke Jordana, a former High school boy here, who got his first mound training on the school ground here, pitched for the Colyer team, and succeeded in humiliating several star batsmen selected from a league team. John Stoner, manager of the Colyer team, is one of the team's sure hitters and scores if there is a chance to do so. The Potters Mills team was out of luck—the breaks were against them. They can do better.

CENTRE HALL "CUBS" BLANK SPRING MILLS table. Fred Spkyer, pitching a no hit, no-run game for his youthful henchmen, well deserved his 2-0 victory over the Spring Mills Junior League ball team.

The local youths totaled six hits to put over three runs, while but one Spring Mills player reached first base when the Centre Hall short-stop fumbled the horsehide. The battery for Spring Mills was Musser and Ziegler for Centre Hall, Spkyer and Woodrow Ishler.

Centre Hall Cubs Win in Final Frame. Putting over the winning run in the final inning, Centre Hall's Junior Leagueurs won from their Spring Mills rivals by a score of 7 to 6 in their 7-inning contest, Monday. The youths crossed bats on the local diamond at 2:30 p. m. Spring Mills had eight hits, five off Kenneth Frank, starting pitcher and three off Fred Spkyer, who finished the game and was the winning pitcher. The local lads collected ten hits, two of them for three bases and three for two bases. The game was won in the last half of the closing stanza when Donnie Goodhart doubled and Fred Spkyer hit safely to right field.
