SALE OF FIVE MILLION PIGS SAVES FARMERS AND IDLE

Slaughter 5,000,000 hogs, give the meat to the unemployed, add $55,000,000 to the farmers' income and increase the price of pork—that in brief was the corn-hog plan announced on Friday by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace.

He told several thousand farmers in the Court of States at the Century of Progress, Chicago, the plan was a deliberate attempt to "change the economic facts" and give the corn and hog farmers "their share of the national income."

He said the new deal for the farmer would be put into effect immediately and completed by October 1.

The Secretary and the Government would buy heavily enough to reduce the fall supply of pork by 16 percent and would pay more than present market prices.

The hog farmers he explained, should get higher prices later for the rest of their pork because of the reduction in supply.

He told them there was a new element in their troubles. The N. R. A. program, he said, would raise prices and make it impossible for the farmer to buy, unless his conditions were improved immediately.

The terms of the plan, as he presented it, were:

The Government would buy enough pigs light hogs and sows due to farrow in the fall to remove from the markets between 600,000,000 and 700,000,000 pounds of live pork. This would be done "as rapidly and effectively as possible," and the farmers would be paid prices "which encourage co-operation."

Secretary Wallace put himself in the position of middleman. He had already sold his huge order of meat, he said, to the Federal relief officials. Another part might go to export.

About 5,000,000 hogs would be brought in, 1,000,000 sows due to farrow 4,000,000 pigs or light hogs. This sharp reduction in the supply of pork, he said, should raise prices from 25 to 30 per cent. To pay for the hogs and the butchering a processing tax of most be levied to raise about $55,000,000.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kerlin and son William, returned from their western trip Tuesday evening. They were up through Michigan, to the Century of Progress fair, Chicago, and Cincinnati, Ohio, where they were guests of Walter Kerlin, an uncle. They report the fair most excellent, and well worth the time and effort required to see it.

Fleming, in his "Over the Town" column in the Philipsburg Journal, is giving tongue because of the fact that Philipsburg restaurant keepers in that burg boosted sandwich prices from ten to fifteen cents. He proves to his readers that the vendor has a profit of ten cents—and that's too much. Fleming is a young bachelor, and because he has no key to a family refrigerator, feeds on sandwiches to some extent and is acquainted with the scarcity of the second article in the average thing called a sandwich.

DEATHS.

MEYER.—Word was received on Tuesday that Mrs. Hulda Meyer died at the home of her grandson, Harold Meyer, in Millburg, where she made her home for much of the time since the death of her husband, the late Wm. Mr. and Mrs. Cross lived in Pittsburgh for a time, later locating at the Philadelphia suburban point, where Mr. Cross held a clerical position in a railroad office. There are no children.

WHOLESALE CHECK RAISER SENT TO FORT BOOB

G. W. Smith, employed by P. F. Confer, farmer living between Millheim and Coburn, is confined to the county prison on default of $500 bail. He is charged with having raised a half-dozen or more checks, some of which were those given him by his employer, Mr. Confer. Some of the checks were increased by as small a sum as two dollars, with the greatest boost about ten dollars. It was a bungling job of erasure, and rewriting on one of the checks that was Smith's undoing.

Spring Mills

A Collection of Newsy Happenings and Personals from Gregg Township's Metropolis.

The P. O. S. of a picnic and festival held in Hosterman's woods, below Penn Hall, was well attended.

The residence of Mrs. Dena Lingle is being repainted by Robert Slegal and Lloyd Ripka.

Messages received by friends of Blaine Bitner indicate he was in Des Moines, in Sunday. To some he imparted the information that beer was selling at 5 cents a glass in Illinois.

The Spring Mills Fish and Game Association dispensed with the August meeting. The regular meeting for September will be called at the proper time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Auman have returned from their visit to New York, as have also Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Condo, Harry Condo, Delores Condo and Lester Condo, from Chicago, where they attended the World's Fair.

H. F. Erdley, cashier of the Spring Mills National Bank, captured a turtle in Penns Creek which pulled the scales down to ten pounds. It was the largest turtle captured from that creek in many years.

There is but little sickness in this locality. The only patient in the village is Russell Rote, son of Harvey Rote, who is suffering from a well-developed case of quinsy.

A quantity of limestone chips has been delivered at Spring Mills by the Shaffer stone quarry trucks, Millroy. It is understood the road from the flouring mill to the Y. south of town, and then west for a mile on the Georges Valley road, is to be given a coat of oil and chips. The machinery to do the work arrived the beginning of the week. Others contend the oiling and chipping process will continue eastward on the Pinchot creek road as far as Coburn.

The Lock Haven Teachers' College will open the 1933-34 term on Sept. 11. Walter Wilkinson, clerk under Postmaster Coleman Wingard, will begin his last year's work at that time, as will also Miss Wanda Brown, of Pottery Mills. Kermit Stover, of Coburn, at the close of the first semester of the coming term, will be entitled to a certificate permitting him to teach in both high and grade schools.

Mr. and Mrs. Peeler Rossman and son of Pittsburgh, also Mrs. Rossman's brother, Wm. Hamilton, of El Centro, Calif., after spending some time at Lake Conneaut, N. Y., arrived at the H. F. Rossman home for the week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Rossman have returned home, leaving the young son and the Californian for a longer visit. Mr. Hamilton is son of John Hamilton, and went to southern California with his parents on leaving Tyrone.

The McCool reunion held at Woodward Cave, on Sunday, was well attended. Those from about here connected with the clan who enjoyed the event were Mrs. D. M. McCool, Miss Rae McCool, John Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCool and Randall Stump. From Altoona were Mr. and Mrs. Max Harshbarger, Roland McCool and from Rebersburg, Harry McCool.

A large number of property owners in Spring Mills during the past two years have been liberally purchasing ornamental trees, shrubbery and young plants of various description for hedges. A number of lawns already show great improvement in appearance, and also indicate that wise selection of trees and shrubbery have been made. While the investments have been comparatively light, in nearly all cases, each property adorned is already greatly enhanced in value. If the improvement of lawns becomes epidemic, our village will be a good sight for sore eyes.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Corman, of Pittsburgh, are visiting at the home of the latter's sister and brothers, Miss Alice and Robert and J. Howard Neess.

Richard Slack transacted business at Bellefonte last week.

The lowering of the status of the Millmont post office from the third to the fourth class, since July 1st, results in Ernest Ruhl, postmaster for fifteen years, to be obliged to compete under civil service rules with several others for the position. An examination was held last week, but no appointment has yet been made. The salary is $1,100.

AVOID DELAYS!

Delays cost money on the farm. For a broken mowing machine the hay crop may spoil. For the lack of an extra hand, you may miss the top prices of being "first in the market." You need a telephone on the farm when hitches come. It brings the necessary help without delay. It saves time. It saves trips. In a dozen ways every month the telephone more than saves its small cost.
