

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Clifford S. Thomas made a business trip to New York City last week, via the Greyhound bus line.

A chicken supper will be served in the Harris Township Vocational school building, Boalsburg, by a class of young ladies in the Lutheran Sunday school of that place. The supper price is 50 cents per plate, and the money's worth is guaranteed.

Two of the valuable Holstein cows belonging to Claude Dutrow, on the Keller farm, became bloated from eating young clover. One died and the other recovered. Three other cows were taken to the Vogt rendering plant at the same time the one belonging to Mr. Dutrow was delivered there.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Knorr, Irvin Hefficker and Robert Miller of Reading, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Huyett during the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Knorr being relatives of the Huyetts. Messrs. Hefficker and Miller were former employees of Knorr & Ruth, shoe firm, both now deceased.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Miller and the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Miller, all of town, motored to Niagara Falls on Friday, returning home Sunday, after a most delightful trip and visit to the great natural wonder. Enroute, they stopped off at Cyclone to see Robert C. Neff, who is teaching school at that point.

Howard Falls, aged 22, of Howard, while driving to Monument on Saturday, crashed his car into the mountainside. The result was injuries and cuts about the head requiring several stitches to close. He is a patient in the Lock Haven hospital. A faulty steering gear was blamed for the wreck.

Seeding wheat, cutting corn and silo filling are the chief numbers on the farmer's program for the present. Lifting potatoes is another item soon to find its way on the regular program. Potato vines regularly sprayed thru-out the season continue to be green and indicate the tubers to be growing, not quite ready for harvesting.

Personal from the Mifflinburg Telegraph: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Rossman will leave tomorrow for Philadelphia with the former's nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Markle of Altoona. They will visit for the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Paj Dinges and Mr. and Mrs. B. Brennan. Mr. Dinges and Mrs. Rossman are brother and sister.

Mr. and Mrs. George Luse and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Luse and their father, P. H. Luse, made a two hundred and fifty-mile auto drive, on Sunday. The trip was made by way of Lock Haven, Renovo, Driftwood, Emporium, St. Mary's, Rockway, DuBois, Curwensville, Philipsburg, and home over the new section of the Lakes-to-Sea Highway.

The exhibition game between the Boston "Braves" of the National League and apicked Lewistown team, at Lewistown, last Thursday, was witnessed by a number of persons from here. E. P. Geary, one of the spectators, tells us that the big leaguers won handily, and could as easily have scored three times the number of runs they did score.

Leading officials of the American Legion, whose convention is under way in Chicago this week, are finding at their disposal fifty special automobiles provided by the Chevrolet Motor company. Cars are dispatched from a central point at the call of designated Legion officials and will transport them to any points within reasonable limits of the city for the duration of the convention.

The Fall meeting of West Susquehanna Classis of the Reformed Church in the U. S. opened in the Mt. Bethel Reformed church at McClure, the Rev. E. H. Zechman, pastor, on Tuesday. The meeting covered two days, and was attended by Rev. Delas R. Keener and Elder D. K. Keller, delegate secundus, from the local Reformed church. Denominational matters constituted the major part of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Heckert, of Millheim, and their son, Benjamin, Jr., of Armagh, Indiana county, stopped at this office for a brief time Saturday on their way home from a business trip. The junior Mr. Heckert is engaged in school work and is now on the faculty of the Armagh Consolidated school for the eighth year. One of his hobbies is athletics, and consequently has charge of that department of school work.

The following were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William McClenahan during the past week: Mrs. Catherine Colman, of Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Stover and Edith Poff, of Montgomery; Mrs. Mollie Ishler, of State College; Samuel Ishler and son, Samuel, Jr., of Boalsburg. Friends of Mr. Stover will be pleased to learn that he has practically fully recovered from rheumatism, from which he suffered for many years, and that he can now get about without the aid of a cane.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Shunk, a few days ago, moved to Spring Mills into the Harvey Haugh property recently purchased by Harold Stover. Mr. Shunk is a P. R. R. trackman who has but a few years more service until he can retire. The P. R. R. company issued orders that will oblige two others—John Marts and Robert I. Smith—also trackmen, to make Spring Mills their residence. An effort is being made to induce the company to extend leniency, inasmuch as the three men own their own homes here. The outcome, of course, is a guess, since the railroad company appears to lack in consideration of its employees, except those collecting high monthly salaries.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

The L. & T. continues to operate on the old schedule, the fall changes of time for trains not affecting those on the branch.

Homer Gramley, son of O. S. Gramley, Millheim, is about town after having been an appendicitis patient in the Centre County hospital.

A son, 8½ pounds in weight, was born Monday morning to Mr. and Mrs. James Foust, in town. Both mother and young son are doing well. Dr. Morrow was the physician in charge.

Warren Barr, of Aaronsburg, is very seriously ill from cancer. One of the results of his sickness seems to be a fading of the mind. At times two attendants are necessary to properly care for him.

Philip Musser is gradually recovering from complications. He recently returned to his home in Millheim from Wilkensburg, where he visited his brother, Edward Musser, who was seriously ill for two weeks or more.

Hon. John A. McSparran, secretary of the State Department of Agriculture, will speak in the Methodist church, State College, Wednesday evening, October 4th, on the subject, "Awakened Citizens and the Ballot."

County Treasurer Robert F. Hunter passed through town, on Tuesday, on an auto drive for the benefit of his health, which in a general way appears to be improving. This is a bit of pleasant news to the many personal friends of Mr. Hunter on the south side of Centre county.

While attempting to head off a drunken driver, Corporal M. S. Kauffman, of the Bellefonte detail, was run off the road between Beech Creek and Mill Hill, and received two broken fingers. Clayton Waston, of Orliston, was placed under arrest and lodged in the Centre county jail.

Mrs. Theressa Smith, widow of former Prothonotary W. F. Smith, Millheim, shows no improvement from a serious illness. In addition to Miss Olive Kreamer, who has been with her for a few years, Mrs. Buck's services have been secured to assist in waiting on her.

Misses Mary Hess and Ruth Craibe, of Boalsburg, were pleasant callers at this office on Monday in the interest of the Lutheran Sunday school at that place. The young ladies are school teachers, the former having had charge of the primary grade and the latter to intermediate grade during the past few years. Both fitted themselves for teaching in Teachers Colleges. Miss Hess at Bloomsburg and Miss Craibe at Lock Haven.

Dr. H. B. Fitch, dentist, and J. L. Forsythe, a registered pharmacist, are getting their respective quarters in the Duck building, now owned by Thomas Ulrich, the barber, in Millheim, into condition for opening for business. The drug store is located on the first floor and dental parlor and waiting room on the second. The young men come from Wilkensburg, and are highly recommended in their respective professions. The equipments of both the drug store and dental parlor are new and modern. Spare moments are devoted to the care of rare fishes being hatched or bred as the case may be, in small aquariums.

Spring Mills

A Collection of Newsy Happenings and Personals from Gregg Township's Metropolis.

Many of the residents about Spring Mills are suffering from severe colds.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Braucht and young daughter Henriett, of Coalport, stopped here with friends on Saturday.

Rev. H. A. Pruyn entertained company from Hollidaysburg over the week-end.

Floyd Stoops, brother of Mrs. Pauline Roseman, visited at the H. F. Roseman home.

Mr. and Mrs. "Mike" Hassinger, of Millheim, were in town for a short while a few days ago. The Hassingers it appears, are operating a knitting mill in the northern part of the State.

Rumor has it that Daniel F. Kyler, of State College, and Miss Isabel Spicher, daughter of Elmer Spicher, of Spring Mills, were united in marriage a few days ago.

James Smeal, a tenant on the Martin Stover farm north of Penn Hall, will vacate the place next spring and become tenant on the Brockerhoff farm, east of Old Fort. Elmer Spicher will succeed Smeal.

The Groce silk mill is shut down for the present, for two reasons—first, the water pump temporarily lost its efficiency, and second, the supply of spools became exhausted. This latter condition arose from conditions following strikes among workmen in the large mills located in the East.

Miss Irene Herring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Herring, near Penn Hall, is a pneumonia patient at the Herring home. She first became ill more than two weeks ago, but later recovered and opened her school at Beaver Dam. A few days afterward she again became ill and has since been confined to bed. Mrs. Paul Wilson is her substitute as teacher. Miss Herring is a Penn State graduate, having completed her college work last June.

Squire Jamison is getting better. The Ladies' Aid of the Spring Mills Evangelical church will serve supper for the Past Templars of the Ladies of the Golden Eagle on Tuesday evening, Oct. 17, in the Grange hall. There will also be a play presented, "The New Minister Arrives." The public is invited.

The Spring Mills band is still filling engagements. Saturday, Sept. 30, they will play for the West End Fair at Laurelton, and later they have an engagement to play for a fire company from Gettysburg, at the firemen's convention at Lock Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Turnbull, of Harrisburg, spent a few days at the parental home of the latter, that of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wagner. Mrs. Turnbull is employed as a stenographer in the capitol and Mr. Turnbull is a chauffeur for the Ambassador from England, at Washington, D. C.

George F. Shook was taken to the Centre County hospital for surgical treatment for hernia. Miss Irene Hering is in a serious condition with a siege of pneumonia.

SECOND GLAD GIRLS' PLAY FRIDAY, EV'G, SEPT. 29

The second play by the Glad Girls will be held Friday evening of this week in Grange Arcadia. The title is "Aunt Billie from Texas." This organization has heretofore put on entertainments of merit, and the coming one will be no exception.

Cars Sold by Hagan Agency.

The R. S. Hagan agency recently sold the following new cars: Plymouth 2-door sedan, durolite gray, to Dr. Thos. McQueen, Millheim; Dodge-5 sedan, gun metal, to P. M. Fisher, Centre Hall.

The Keller property, near the P. R. R. station, occupied by Harold Bohn, is being repainted. The Dr. Lieb farm buildings east of Centre Hall, will also be improved in the same way.

The steel industry is understood to have decided against appointing a successor to Robert P. Lamont, who recently resigned his $100,000 job as president of the American Iron and Steel Institute. Why pay out good money for a "czar" when the government will appoint one at its own expense?
