

"Futurist" Church Arouses Protests

EXTERIOR view of St. Saviour's church at Eltham, England, which was completed recently at a cost of about $50,000. While some church-goers express a liking for the new edifice, it has, in general, aroused a storm of protest because of its fortress-like construction.

THE FIRST GOOD SNOW

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

WHEN you find the first white hair, Sort of takes you by surprise. You have had your usual care, Clouds that came to summer skies, But the clouds have drifted on, And the sun has shone again— Though the spring has passed and gone, Never thought of winter then.

But some morning in the fall, Yes, some day before you know, You will find the meadows all Covered with the first good snow. It's a warning and a sign That the winter isn't far, And you fill the shed with pine, Knowing what our winters are.

When you find the first white hair It is time to think of things, Wrap your heart in warmer wear, In the faith that comfort brings, Draw up closer to the fire, To the loved and loving near, Think of things the old require, For the first good snow is here.

BONERS

The leading character in "The Merchant of Venice" is Skylark.

BONERS are actual humorous tid-bits found in examination papers, essays, etc., by teachers.

Pedagogy is the science of walking.

The words "give me liberty or give me death" are attributed to Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt.

The Albanians are people with pink eyes and white hair.

By the Monroe Doctrine the United States would consider anyone coming to her country as enemies.

The Golden Gate is the gate of heaven where all good children go after they are dead.

The division of powers means that the law-making, law-enforcing, and law-breaking powers are separated.

CAKE WISDOM

FROM the lowly gingerbread to the luscious melting sweetness of the Lady Baltimore, there are cakes and still more cakes, for every occasion, birthday, Christmas wedding and christening cakes.

With cake for dessert there is an infinite variety from which to choose. A square of gingerbread with whipped cream flavored with a bit of chopped preserved ginger and sweetened with its syrup—there is nothing equal to it, if you like ginger.

Chocolate cakes seem to hold the preference, they may be rich and luscious, full of soft rich fillings of fruit and nuts, or plain, covered with a fudge frosting, any kind, if chocolate, is welcome.

Ribbon cake, an old-fashioned favorite, is another pretty cake with its light and dark layers and fruit filling.

Cup cakes filled with various fillings are always popular. Scoop out the center, leaving a shell thick enough to hold a chocolate nut filling or sweetened and flavored whipped cream and topped with a maraschino cherry. Chocolate cup cakes filled with a mocha or a caramel filling are especially tasty.

BEDTIME STORY FOR CHILDREN

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

REDDY COMES BACK WITH A BRIGHT IDEA

IN VAIN Reddy Fox sat on the bank of the Smiling Pool waiting for Jerry Muskrat to reappear. After awhile it became clear to Reddy that Jerry didn't intend to return. He got up and stretched. Then he yawned. He looked down in the Smiling Pool and his face was anything but pleasant. In fact there was an ugly look on Reddy's face.

"Now what did he have to think of that mud for?" growled Reddy to himself. "Everything was going fine until he thought of that mud. He was so interested in the plans for that house for me that in a few minutes more I would have had him out of there to show me what to do and how to do it. Then he remembered that he had to have mud to build a house properly and that ended his interest. I believe he was as disappointed at having to give up the idea of that house as I am at not having him for my dinner. I must think this over. I certainly must."

"Hello, Jerry Muskrat!" He cried.

The next night Reddy was back at the Smiling Pool, just as pleasant as ever, and, if Jerry Muskrat had only known it, just as crafty as ever. He waited some time for Jerry to show himself. You see, having remembered that no house could be built without mud and that there was no mud to be had where Reddy would want to build a house, Jerry had given up all thought of that house and concluded that Reddy had done the same. So he wasn't looking for Reddy to return this night.

As soon as he saw Jerry swimming Reddy called to him. "Hello, Jerry Muskrat!" he cried. "I've good news for you. I've thought of a way to get the mud for that new house, so we won't have to give up our plans after all."

In an instant Jerry was all interest. He headed straight toward the bank where Reddy was sitting. "How are we to get that mud?" he squeaked. "I've thought and thought and thought until my head ached, but the only way I could think of is to carry it from here, and that we can't do."

Reddy grinned. "Listen," said he. "What is mud?"

"Why—why—why I suppose it is earth and water," stammered Jerry.

"Exactly," replied Reddy. "Certainly. Of course. To be sure. Now don't you see how we can get all the mud we need?"

Jerry scratched one ear. Then he scratched the other ear. "No-o-o, I can't say that I do."

"We'll wait until it rains!" cried Reddy triumphantly. "We'll wait until it rains and then we will get all the mud we need from the pile of earth I have thrown out in digging my underground house. Wasn't it clever of me to think of that. Now we won't have to give up the house after all and you will help me build it just as we planned. We'll make it the most wonderful house that ever was!"

For a minute or two Jerry Muskrat brightened up. Then he remembered that what Reddy probably had thrown out was mostly sand, and sand does not make real mud.

"You'll have to think again, Reddy Fox," said he, and told him why. So once more Reddy went away disappointed.

RESOURCEFUL

The bachelor was paying his recently married friend a visit.

"Well," said the latter, after they had inspected the flat, "what do you think of it?"

"Pretty good," praised the bachelor; "but there's one thing that has struck me as rather strange. Why did you choose a flat with such a tiny kitchen?"

The married man winked artfully. "You're the first man I've told this to, so keep it quiet," he whispered. "It's so small that I can't get in there to help my wife when she's doing the washing-up."

Gave Him the Works

The new office boy had been instructed how to answer callers. Just before noon a man asked, "Is the boss in?"

"Are you a salesman, a bill collector or a friend of his?" the boy inquired.

"All three," was the answer.

"Well, he's in a business conference. He's out of town. Step in and see him."

Something Classical?

Muscleman (after much pressing)—Well, all right, since you insist. What shall I play?

Host—Anything you like. It is only to annoy the neighbors.—Buen Humor (Madrid).

Playing Safe

Aunt—So you call your canary Joe. Does that stand for Josephine? Niece—We don't know. That's why we call it Joe!

Love's Ecstasy

Park-keeper (to lovers)—I'm closing the park gates now.

"Good! I've been wondering where the draft was coming from."

EXPLANATION

For several minutes the young man did not speak. His heart was too full. It was enough for him to know that this glorious creature loved him; that she had promised to be his wife.

With a new and delightful sense of ownership he feasted his eyes upon her beauty, and realized that henceforth it would be his privilege to provide for her welfare and happiness.

His good fortune seemed incredible. Finally he whispered, tenderly: "How did it happen, darling, that such a bright, shining angel as yourself fell in love with a dull, stupid fellow like me?"

"Goodness knows," the girl murmured, absently. "I must have a screw loose somewhere."

BEYOND THE LIMIT

"Nothing but women at the beach where I was stopping last summer," "Summer girls, eh?"

"Yes; some were girls, but most of them were too old even to pretend to be."

One for Papa

Angry Father—Well, young lady, explain yourself coming in at this hour.

Daughter (returning from late party)—Oh, daddy, I was sitting up with the sick son of the sick man you are always telling mummy you sit up with.

Important Question

Herbert had observed that his mother's friend was fond of smoking.

Recently the lad visited the hospital to call on the mother and her week-old baby. While giving the baby the onceover the lad inquired: "Does she like to smoke?"

Concession

"You think me a perfect idiot!" "Well, perhaps you are not so perfect as I thought."

Polar Bears Are Happy in Chicago's New Zoo

CHICAGO'S new zoological park at Brookfield, a suburb, is fast approaching completion and many animals are being installed in quarters made to resemble closely their natural habitat. The photograph shows a group of polar bears in their den rejoicing in a touch of wintry weather.
