175,000 TONS OF COAL FOR PENNA.'S UNEMPLOYED

From the ten million tons of coal to be given the unemployed by the Federal Government, Pennsylvania unemployed will garner 175,000 tons. Responsibility for distribution rests with the county executive directors who will make allocations to various dealers. It appears that in Centre county Mr. Hamfner, connected with the Emergency Relief office, State College, has the coal distribution for Centre county in charge.

It appears further that while the general distribution of fuel will be made through local dealers, in Centre county the dealers will be ignored and distribution made from some mine or mines. This is due to the wide range in price asked by the dealers compared to that asked at the mines, owing to the high freight rates. Distribution direct from the mines to the consumers in the county will therefore be made by truck.

FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

BRING BACK LAYING—When a sudden cold spell causes a drop in egg production, the hens and pullets will need a warm moist mash at noon to stimulate feed consumption. The regular laying mash made crumbly with milk or water may be used for this purpose.

TAKE CARE OF EWES—Neglect of the breeding ewes during the early part of the winter season is a costly practice, say State College livestock specialists. For the first two months corn silage and good quality legume hay will be satisfactory. If the ewes are thin as a result of poor pasture a small amount of oats will be needed.

CONTROL CORN BORERS—Where the European corn borer is a menace all corn stalks should be ensiled or shredded, plowed under, deeply, or burned. Borers move downward in the stalks during the fall. Where the corn has been cut low as soon as mature few borers will be left in the stubble.

LIME POOR PASTURES—Fall and winter are good times to apply lime to the pasture. Unproductive pastures usually indicate sour soil. If tests show more than a ton of lime an acre is needed, little improvement may be expected until the lime is applied.

PRUNE FRUIT TREES—Winter is the best time to prune bearing apple and pear trees. Young fruit trees should be pruned in late winter or early spring to avoid injury. Raspberries, blackberries, and grapes generally are pruned in the spring when canes suffering winter injury can be detected and removed. Peaches, cherries and plums are pruned late for the same reason.

KEEP POULTRY HEALTHY—Poultry needs direct sunlight and good ventilation to keep in the best of health.

DODDS' HORSE SALE POSTPONED UNTIL SATURDAY

Cold, stormy weather prevailed on Monday, the day set for the Dodds horse sale at Centre Hall, and it was decided to postpone the sale until Saturday of this week, December 16th, at one o'clock. A large number of prospective buyers were on hand for the sale, but the near-zero weather was not conducive to arousing interest or enthusiasm a good sale. Let it be remembered that Mr. Dodds has a fine express load of South Dakota horses, and anyone looking for a good horse or team will find it in this load.

POTATO PRICES LIKELY TO ADVANCE; CROP VERY SHORT

The potato crop is seemingly in a strong position, says the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The crop is very short, estimated as amounting to scarcely two and one-half bushels for each person. This is the smallest production per capita in forty-three years. Anything below three bushels per capita is considered a light crop even in times when consuming demand is reduced. Most potato crops have been well above three bushels per capita, and some have provided more than four bushels for each person. There is ample reason for the advance in potato prices, the bureau said.

The second touch of winter weather was experienced Monday morning. About two inches of snow fell and was chased by a high wind until it found a protected resting place. Buck deer, however, were less annoyed than during any day except Sunday since the beginning of the month. And so again, it's ill luck that brings no one some good.
