

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Miss Jean Noll, of Pleasant Gap, a State nurse, made a physical examination of pupils in the grade school building, Monday.

Jennie R. Kline has been confined to bed because of illness, for the past few weeks, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Zettle.

A White Candle and White Gift service will be held in Trinity Reformed church on Sunday evening, December 24th, at 7:30 o'clock. All are cordially invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Boozer, of Chicago, Ill., have been in Centre Hall the greater part of the past week, guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Boozer and Mrs. D. A. Boozer.

A play entitled "The Christmas Carol," by Charles Dickens, will be presented in the Evangelical church, Thursday evening, December 21, at 7:45 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

If you do not mail your Christmas package within the next few days you will not be mailing early. Remember, your package must reach its destination early enough so it can be delivered before Christmas.

Edward Durst and assistant, LaRue Decker, are painting the interior of the Packard Motor Company Garage, in Williamsport, this week. Mr. Durst is employing his DeVilbiss spraying machinery on the job.

Roy Wilkinson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wilkinson, of Bellefonte, a student at Pennsylvania State College, has been elected a member of the college debating team. During the year the team will engage in at least seventeen meets.

On last Thursday evening, Mrs. W. W. Kerlin entertained at her home the Clover Club, a social organization of ladies, who aim to do various services in the community throughout the year. The attendance was unusual, all members but two having been present.

John B. Wert is representing Progress Grange at the State Grange sessions in Johnstown, this week. Others from the local Grange attending the State convention are Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Spayd, Logan Grange, Pleasant Gap, is represented by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest A. Frank, of Centre Hall, the former being Master of that Grange.

C. B. Moore, of State College, while driving a car on ogan Boulevard, on Tuesday, struck Lewis Mowery, 16-year-old son of Samuel Mowery, of Burnham, causing cuts and abrasions, necessitating hospital treatment. Mr. Moore was in no way at fault. The youth was walking across the bridge when he slipped and fell in the path of the car.

From his winter home in St. Petersburg, Florida, A. H. Kerlin sends us a heavy issue of the Evening Independent, in which is stressed the coming Festival of States celebration which annually takes thousands of persons to St. Petersburg. Pictures of bathers and warm sandy beaches make us wish we could trade our winter weather for Florida's sunny climate.

The senior class of the local High school very successfully presented their play, "Fuller's Fortune," in Grange hall, Saturday evening, to a large audience. The youthful actors took their parts in an able manner. The cast was made up of the following students: Richard Ross, Jack McClenahan, Ruth Hartley, Mabel Burkholder, Beulah Meyer, Paul Foust, Ruth Reiber, and Reuben Rieker.

Ernest Ruhl, recently appointed postmaster at Millmont, resigned the postmastership so that he will be able to give all his time to the sale of Chevrolet cars in which business he was engaged for some time. In making up a report to the Post Office Department, Mr. Ruhl found he was supposed to give all his time to the postal service, which he claimed he could not afford to do considering the small monthly remuneration, hence the resignation.

Prof. J. F. Wetzel received much encouragement from Geisinger hospital authorities, on Monday, at which time he underwent a critical examination. He heard his recovery predicted. It will be recalled the head of the local High school had the puss from an abscess on the lung formed following a severe attack of pneumonia removed with the aid of a bronchoscope. Mr. Wetzel was taken to the hospital by C. A. Miller, and was accompanied by Mrs. Wetzel and daughter, Clara Lou; also, Mrs. Miller.

H. S. Metcalfe, director of the department of information of the West Penn Power Co., Pittsburgh, was a most pleasing visitor at the Reporter office on Monday afternoon. Mr. Metcalfe has prepared a series of most interesting articles on Christmas outdoor lighting, which will be found in this and the remaining issues until Christmas. The illustrated booklet giving detailed information on simple but attractive Christmas decorations and how to make many of them will be given free by calling at this office.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Zarfos and son, Harold Zarfos, of Columbia, Lancaster county, were about Centre Hall last week where the gentlemen spent the time hunting deer with the Frazier hunting party, from their cabin east of the Foust Place. While Mr. Zarfos is a successful hardware merchant in Columbia, he only ranked with the hunters as a recruit, falling to capture a buck. Mrs. Zarfos, who before marriage was Elvora Fory, when a young girl lived with her parents in Potter township, where the head of the family conducted one of the grist mills. During her stay about here she visited Mr. C. A. Miller, a cousin, and other relatives.

WORK FOR LOCAL MEN ON CWA PROJECTS TO START FRIDAY

Centre Hall borough's Civil Works projects—the building of Hoffer Street on a Macadam basis and completing the water works undertaking—have been approved at Harrisburg, and orders given borough council to put to work twenty men on Hoffer street and nine men on the water works project.

An illustrated reading of Van Dyke's "The Other Wise Man," will be given in the Evangelical church Wednesday evening, December 20, at 7:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Gervin Schaeffer and young daughter, Beryl, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur McClellan, in Harrisburg. The couples were chums from school days. Business in the large stores in Harrisburg is reported, is booming.

TO PRESENT CLASS PLAY.

The senior class of Miles Township High school Rebersburg, will present their class play, "Here Comes Charlie," on Saturday evening, December 16th, and also on Tuesday evening, December 19th. The admission will be fifteen cents for children and twenty-five cents for adults. Performances begin at 7:30 o'clock.

"Here Comes Charlie" is a three-act comedy. It is worth seeing. You will get many a laugh at "Charlie" and "Uncle Aleck," who are hill-billies from the Ozarks. This play has become quite popular, and you can't afford to miss it.

TWO ILLEGAL FAWNS COST THREE HUNTERS $200

John and Wm. Popp and Joseph Herman, three Washington county men who were lodged in the Clearfield county jail Saturday, 2nd inst., following a hearing held in Clearfield before Squire John E. Herdman on charges of possessing two illegal fawns, were released Wednesday, following payment of fines assessed in each case.

Each of the defendants was fined $200, but upon recommendation of Game Protector Wm. Deanskyer, the men were released when a total of $200 in addition to the costs were paid. The fines were assessed at the rate of $100 for each deer in their possession and was divided among the three men. The deer, which were found in the car occupied by the trio in the Karthaus region, were turned over to the Salvation Army post.

THE NEW FORD ON DISPLAY.

The new Ford V-8 for 1934 was put on display Saturday in more than 7,000 Ford dealerships throughout the United States.

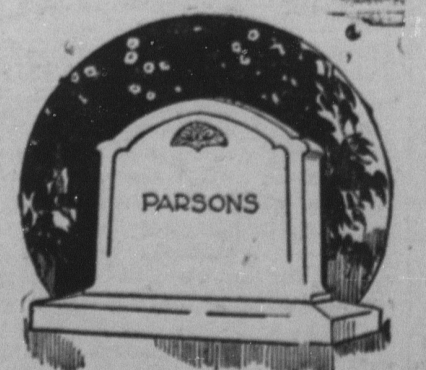

The new Ford is said to have greater power, smoother performance, more miles per gallon, especially at higher speeds, and quicker starting in cold weather, plus refined body lines and a new built-in system of clear-vision body ventilation.

The improvement in engine performance are the result of the use of a new dual down-draft carburetor and dual intake manifold which increase the engine's power approximately 12 per cent and provide a remarkable improvement in pickup.

"The new car is the best car the Ford Motor Company ever built," the Ford president said. "Basically, it is the same car as the hundreds of thousands of other Ford V-8s now on the road. It simply incorporates numerous improvements in engine and chassis design, the new body ventilation system and refinements in body styling and appointments which have been brought to a proper stage of development during the past year in our engineering research."

Football Awards for Two Centre County Boys at Penn State.

Two Centre county boys were among those who received varsity and freshman football awards at Penn State this year. The two boys are Richard H. Maurer, who received a minor varsity letter, and Richard S. Eisenman, who was awarded freshman numerals. Both are residents of State College. Maurer, who prepiped at John Harris High, Harrisburg, and recently moved to State College, saw considerable action as a quarterback for the Lion varsity during the season just ended, while Eisenman, a former State College High school player, won his class numerals on the freshman eleven.

Christmas Outdoor Lighting

The arrangement of an attractive outdoor Christmas lighting display need not be very much trouble nor need it be expensive. The materials can be bought for a very little and the cost of the light is figured in cents. Most of this material can be used for two or three years with proper care.

The Centre Reporter presents for its readers some practical suggestions on various types of simple Christmas outdoor lighting that anyone can make. If the house has a large window in front, silhouettes may be cut from black paper (costing about ten cents a sheet) of wreaths, three wise men, stars or candles. Paste this on the window and then cover the whole pane with orange or red crepe paper and place a light behind it.

Another way is to cover an upstairs window with blue crepe paper in which stars have been cut—a light placed about eight feet behind this gives a most pleasing effect.

A small well-shaped tree can be painted or sprayed with white paint or lacquer and then planted in a bucket of sand. Around this four or five lights of different colors connected to miniature flashers will rotate the color effects through on the tree. These lights can be made by using bright tin pans with a hole cut through the socket, or heavy cardboard funnels.

A pretty effect may be secured by taking two tin pans about 14 inches in diameter and cutting a star in the bottom of one, covering the opening with wax paper. Place two or three porcelain sockets in the rim and back it up with the other pan. With different colored lamps in the sockets connected to miniature flashers, the result is a star of continuously changing color. This star may be placed on a porch roof, over a door, or in a window.

Many lovely decorative effects for doors and windows may be secured with even less trouble by using wreaths or electric candles or a string of colored lamps twined in laurel or ground pine.

The Centre Reporter will give free to anyone requesting it (by calling at this office) an illustrated booklet showing details and suggestions for simple and inexpensive Christmas lighting. The use of light is a source of pleasure to the whole community and this year a cheerful atmosphere is appropriate. Elaborate displays are not necessary to achieve this, for one or two lights twinkling in every home create the Christmas spirit to the full.

$50,000,000 TREASURY CERTIFICATES SNAPPED UP

The Administration's $50,000,000 refundance program has been successful. The 2 1/2 per cent one-year Treasury certificates, issue was oversubscribed long before the time limit to receive subscriptions.

This ended fears expressed by some "orthodox money" men that the uncertain monetary policy of the Administration would endanger the refundance program.

With the bond issue's proceeds amounting to more than enough to take care of immediate Treasury needs the President is now free to proceed with his monetary policy.

ORCHIDS From Colombia, S. A.

Veteran orchid collector and largest grower in the Middle West is Andres Benson, Des Plaines, Ill. Here you see him in Colombia, South America, where, from 1910 to 1916, Benson conducted orchid-hunting expeditions, seeking new varieties of the "Queen of Flowers." Each exquisite and delicate plant was packed with pains-taking care for shipment to the U. S. A. Approximately 75 per cent of all orchids worn by American women are "grand-children" of the original plants which came out of the Colombian jungles. While orchids are commercially grown on a large scale in this country today, many of the most beautiful original plants came from Colombia, treasure-land of emeralds, gold, platinum and the finest coffees.

Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS

I DON'T have any idea when this here reducing fad is going to stop. It's a shame, the way some of the women spend all their money trying to get so thin that they'll die the very first time they catch cold. And it used to be that a woman didn't have a chance to get a husband until she was nice and plump. Anyway, one woman went to a beauty doctor that was kind of dumb.

"I have a little problem for you," she says. "Fact is, my chin has grown a trifle heavy."

The dumb beauty doctor just listened.

"Well," she went on, "I thought maybe you could reduce it. Make it a little smaller. Just like it used to be. It isn't bad, of course, but it's too big to suit me. A trifle fat, in fact."

"I can help you a lot," says the dumb doctor. "Yes, I can fix that chin up. But I'll reduce all three of 'em for only a little more money. Why not have 'em all fixed up at once?"

To many a farm wife the telephone is a source of extra dollars. With its aid she sells her poultry, butter and eggs.

In this Christmas season, particularly, housewives in town will welcome the offer of fresh country produce. Let your telephone earn for you the cost of your Christmas gifts.

A telephone on the farm more than earns its keep. It helps you buy—it helps you sell—it helps you keep in touch.
