In an advertisement this week, J. S. Boozer, of the Boozer Garage, gives information of special interest to a large number of persons in this community.

The annual meeting of the I. O. O. F. Hall Association will be held Wednesday evening, January 17th, at 8:00 P. M.—By order of the President, J. W. Delaney.

The West Branch Bank and Trust Company, Williamsport, resumed unrestricted business on Tuesday. Peter G. Cameron is the president of the new banking institution.

Judge Leshar appointed Amandus Yount, former deputy sheriff of Union county, as detective for that county. This is the second time in the history of the county that there has been a detective.

The painting of the grade school building has been completed and now the work of painting the High school building has been begun by the same workmen—Messrs. Coldron and White-man.

Earl Lutz, employed on the Hoffer street CWA project, sustained an injury to the left eye one day last week when a spawl from stones he was hammering caught him in the eye. Dr. Light is treating the optic.

The borough engineer for State College, H. B. Shattuck, who served continuously for twenty-seven years, informed the borough council that he would not permit his name to be used as a candidate for re-election.

While splitting wood at his home near Potters Mills, John Meeker struck his hand with the axe and cut a deep gash. He is a foreman in CCC camp No. 65, at Colyer, but was off for only a day on account of the accident.

The Mifflinburg Telegraph of last week mentioned the illness of Prof. Lee Francis Lybarger from a pus-kidney condition. For many years Prof. Lybarger was a lecturer, having appeared here at a high school graduating exercise about thirty years ago.

W. M. Sweeney, of Potters Mills, long a reader of the Reporter, showed his appreciation of the paper in expressions of praise and further by paying subscription in advance. Mr. Sweeney is now with a large crew of men employed on the CWA road project over Nittany Mountain from Blue Ball to Hecla Park.

Farmer T. F. Delaney, of Old Fort, lost by death one of a pair of mules purchased a few weeks ago at a sale of western horses and mules. Since the animals were insured against death from sickness for a stated length of time, which had not expired at the time of the loss, Mr. Delaney expects to be reimbursed.

Centre county auditors, Robert D. Musser of Spring Mills, David Holter, of Howard, and C. A. Yearick, of State College, met in the Court House on Monday morning and began the annual auditing of the accounts of the various county officials. It will require a number of weeks to perform the work, which is being done without the aid of a clerk.

Lee W. Frazier, Esq., and friend, Dr. Chamberlain, of Palmerville, Ohio, made a pleasure trip by auto to the attorney's former home along Sinking Creek, east of Centre Hill, now occupied by his mother and brother, Earl Frazier. They returned home on Sunday so they would be ready to resume business at their respective offices on Monday morning.

While driving up one of the many steep grades in Bellefonte, the car driven by Chester Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Wagner, Centre Hall, R. D. 1, failed to make the grade owing to the slippery condition on the road, and instead went backward until it jammed against a tree. The car was pretty badly damaged at the rear. It was taken to the Miller Motor company garage for repairs.

Miss Ellen Burkholder reached her home here on Saturday, having come by train by way of Lewistown. On Monday she went to State College to resume her duties as Assistant Dean of Women at Penn State. She is reported to have fully recovered from the effects of an automobile accident, mentioned in the issue of this paper last week, except for an injury to a knee.

An ambulance marked U. S. C. C. C. came into town and went out almost immediately, one day last week, arousing much speculation as to its mission. Inquiry revealed the handsome new vehicle was on another than an emergency mission—it transported a C. C. C. truck driver from the Po Valley camp to town so he could drive back one of the familiar trucks that had been brought here for repairs.

Relatives from out of town who attended the funeral of Mrs. C. H. Meyer of Reedsville, whose remains were laid to rest in the local cemetery here, were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Butler and daughters, Miriam, Virginia and Connie, of Short Hills, N. J.; Mrs. Eliza Meyer and son, John D. Meyer, of Tyrone; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCormick of Columbia, South Carolina; Mr. and Mrs. W. Gross Mingle, of Riverton, N. J.; Mrs. (Dr.) W. B. Park, of Asheville, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. John J. Bower and son, James Bower, Bellefonte. A number of friends from Reedsville also accompanied the body to its last resting place.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

E. T. Jamison, the well-known insurance agent of Spring Mills, accompanied by his youngest son, Guy Jamison, visited Mr. Jamison's sister, Mrs. W. H. Homan, who has been ill for a long time.

Miss D. L. Kirkpatrick, who for twenty-three years was employed in Girard College, Philadelphia, has been compelled to retire on account of her health. She is visiting for a few weeks with her brother, Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick, in town.

While at her home here, Mrs. Margaret Godshall fell and splintered the bone in one of her arms, necessitating splints and bandages to be used in treatment of it. Mrs. Godshall is acting as companion for Mrs. Perry Gentzell, near Zion.

Miss Gladys Smith, next to the youngest daughter of Postmaster R. M. Smith, had been ill for a few days with symptoms of a case of appendicitis developing. On Wednesday the family physician decided the ailment was of character less serious.

Mrs. Zang, wife of Rev. J. W. Zang, and young son, Donn Richard, arrived at the Zang home at Centre Hall on Tuesday. The son became two weeks old at about the time he reached home, his birth having occurred at the Evangelical Hospital, Lewisburg.

Harold Whitehill, of Lemont, was driving a sedan on Half Moon Hill, Bellefonte, Saturday evening about 9 o'clock. He was attempting to turn his car when it went down over a 30-foot embankment. Mr. Whitehill sustained bruises of the head and left knee. The car was damaged to the extent of $30.

Miss Louise Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Smith, had been suffering from a severe case of tonsillitis at her home here. She is now beginning to improve, but is not yet out of bed. Miss Smith, for several years, has been regularly employed in one of the offices of the Agricultural Department at Penn State.

E. M. Smith, the senior member of the firm of Smith Brothers, auto salesmen, State College, was a caller on Tuesday. He is anticipating a brisk business the latter part of the winter and spring when the farm sales bloom in all parts of Centre county, being one of the leading auctioneers in Central Pennsylvania.

S. W. Decker, who lives near Penn Hall, as will be seen by the sale register in this issue, will quit farming this spring and after his sale, March 15th, will move into a home in Spring Mills, purchased a few days ago. The property is that of John D. Horner, and comprises five acres of land and a comfortable dwelling. The price paid was $2,000.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Keller, Tuesday evening, drove to Tyrone where they spent several hours with Mrs. Sallie McClenahan, a relative. A granddaughter of the latter, Miss Kathleen, is a patient in the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, for the removal of a tumor in the abdomen, the results of which were not known at that time. The young lady is one of Tyrone's school teachers.

A high class Guernsey cow belonging to J. H. Dettlifer became emaciated to such an extent that she was killed to prevent further suffering, and upon examination after being killed it was discovered the trouble was all in the teeth. Long sharp edges on the teeth had developed, preventing masticating. The animal was twelve years old, but that is only "middle" age for a cow kept only for breeding purposes.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Danie Bohn has improved to such an extent that she is able to be up and about the house for a part of each day.

George W. Wolfe advertises a carload of well-broke high-class mules at private sale at Harmon's farm barn, Millheim. See adv. for further information.

The Reporter was pleased to have a call from Samuel Kilmefelter, of Potter township. He was accompanied by a ward, Beatrice, who is a wide-awake bit of humanity.

C. R. Neff, principal of the Cyclone, McKean county, consolidated schools, on Sunday returned to Cyclone after a two weeks' vacation, which time was spent in Centre Hall.

Mrs. Mary W. Harper suffered an injury to her hip Friday evening when she fell in the kitchen of her home in Bellefonte. She was removed to the Centre County hospital where an X-ray examination revealed that there were no bones broken. Mrs. Harper is the widow of the late Jared Harper and an aunt of Mrs. George H. Emerick of Centre Hall.

After putting a new battery in his car, Ralph Tressler cranked it and it backfired, the crank striking him on the right arm with sufficient force to break the large bone a short distance below the elbow, as was revealed by an X-ray picture. Mr. Tressler is tenant on the Daniel Daup farm but expects the break to be well mended before work opens next spring.

A display of the 1934 Chevrolet cars in Harrisburg was visited by Messrs. E. W. Miller and C. R. Neff, of the Miller Motor company, P. V. Goodhart, W. F. Keller, and George Sweeney, all of town; Harold Ard, a Miller Motor company salesman, and Mr. Eisenhuth, both of Woodward. The new car, it was unanimously agreed, was much improved over the 1933 product in appearance and otherwise. The prices are given under another head in this issue.

Auto Crash Near Potters Mills.

The sedan of Charles E. Myers, of State College, collided with a roadster operated by David Wright, 27, of Narberth, Friday near Brownie's Place in Seven Mts. near Potters Mills. Mr. Myers was traveling west on Route 53 when his car collided with a truck traveling east and the car driven by Mr. Wright closely following the truck, after colliding with the truck and car, struck the guard cable, breaking off one of the posts. Christine Myers, a passenger in the Myers car, received lacerations of the face and snook. Fred Doelp, of West Philadelphia, a passenger in the Wright car, received lacerations of the face. The Wright car was damaged to the extent of $125 and the Myers car approximately $110.

C. W. A. INVESTIGATORS

APPOINTED FOR ALL SECTIONS
F. H. Lehman, Civil Works Administrator, has appointed investigators under the CWA to do special investigation work in order to do away with all possible duplication on CWA jobs; to look into cases having supplementary incomes unreported on application blanks; and to remove from the rolls those applicants who have furnished the CWA with false information.
A determined effort will be made by the CWA officials to clear their rolls of all those who have "chiseled" their way into jobs by withholding information on additional incomes or by giving false information.

JUST HUMANS

By GENE CARR

"How Old Are You, Kid?"
"Where Do Y'get That Stuff, Kid? I Wuz Old Before You Wuz Born!"

Our Guarantee of MORE EGGS PER FEED DOLLAR certainly means MORE PROFIT FOR YOU!

NO matter what you are now feeding or what it costs, B-B will either give you more eggs for each dollar invested in feed or your money back! So frankly, can you think of anything that offers greater possibilities for increased profits than a switch to B-B Vitamized Laying Mash?

This remarkable feed produces more eggs because it combines a perfect mineral balance, all the health-giving vitamins and a variety of needed proteins. Also it is the most palatable feed. The average ration is a floury mass which a bird swallows with difficulty even when washed down with water. Not so with B-B. Although of mash fineness, the ingredients contained in B-B Rations are cut instead of rubbed to this fineness. Consequently, B-B Vitamized Laying Mash consists of infinitesimal edged particles which a bird swallows easily, enjoys, and digests more thoroughly in the same amount of time.

Give B-B a trial and if it doesn't give you more eggs per feed dollar and healthier birds too, just bring your figures and empty bags back and we'll refund every cent of your money. Sold and Recommended by
