Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS

WHEN you see a middle-aged man with a puzzled expression on his face, you got to figure that he is thinking about what he is going to tell his daughter next time she talks back to him so smart. The middle-aged people are getting wrinkles from worrying about the daughters that are growwas out the daughters that are growing up and talking so funny.

Well, the father in this story says to his daughter, "What kind of a young man was that that you was out with last night?"

"Why he was a reach out"

"Why, he was a wash-out," says the daughter. "I wouldn't go out with him again for a new car and a flock of compacts made in Italy."
"But I saw him kissing you for a long time in the corner, and I supposed you were engaged to

"Oh, no?" she says. "No engagement there, dad. But I couldn't be positively rude to him, could I, even if he was a wash-out?" American News Features, Inc.

Metals Found in Scotland

The precious metals exist in several Scottish counties. The uncient Celts made their wonderful brooches, and other trinkets of native gold, probably gathered from the beds of streams. In the Sixteenth century the metal was extensively mined in Lanarkshire, Pennant describes a nugget weighing one and a half ounces which was discovered on Crawford Muir. Some years ago, a local writer, Doctor Watson, collected a fair amount of gold in small grains from the Wanlockhead

Popular Scottish Stone

One of the stones that has never waned in popularity is the Cairngorm. This splendid stone is a variety of rock crystal found in the Cairngorm mountains in Inverness-shire, Scotland, and also in the Grampians. In color it ranges from light orange to deep brown. The Calragorm is made to various articles of jewelry, while find a ready sale, especially amongst tourists visiting Scotland. From time Immemorial it has been used to decorate the dirks and brooches worn with Highland dress.

Teacher's Helper

A kindergarten teacher, who was obliged to leave the room for a few moments, returned just in time to see one mischievous little chap sneaking up the aisle toward the front of the

"What are you doing, James?" the teacher asked.

James hesitated a moment; then he replied hopefully: "I was just coming up front to see If everybody was good."

CO-OPERATION AIDS 4-H CLUB BOYS AND GIRLS

One of the most successful sales of aby beeves and fat lambs grown by 4-H club boys and girls, in the history of the Penna Farm Show featured the closing moments of this year's great indoor agricultural exposition, W. B. Connell, in charge of the livestock department, declar a

He was especially impressed by the arge number of buyers who attended the sale and the proportion of these who were successful bidders. Fortyseven packers, butchers, hotels, stores and farmers bought the 61 baby beeves and 54 pens of at lambs, offered at anction. Thesales average was several cents above the market price and the ouyers stemed pleased with the oppor unity to get high quality livestock and at the same time to give encour gement to the young feeders.

Connell praised the efforts of Alice Foust Centre Hall High school girl, vbo showed the grand champion When she won the grand championship four years ago Alice took her premium and sales and bought four purebred Southdown ewes. With these she proceeded to grow her own club lambs. Last year she won second prize and this year she stepped up to irst prize and then the grand chamdonship. This, says Connell, very for fbly points out the application of this ype of work to constructive farming

"SUE, ENGAGEDI . . . YOU DON'T MEAN TO TELL ME!"

How the young folks brighten up when the telephone rings! No item of home equipment adds more to their pleasure. It means closer friendships, wider opportunities. They never feel 'out of it' with a telephone in the home.

The farm home, particularly, needs a telephone for friendly contacts and neighborly news. Young and old share its pleasure alike. There's nothing more cheering than a telephone chee. THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNA.
