This (Thursday) evening the bankers in Centre county will meet in Bellefonte to work out a banking code to apply to banks in this county. It appears they have a free hand in naming service charges except as to checks. Of course, the code adopted must have the signature of Johnson and the President.

The Tri-county Past Templars' Association, Ladies of the Golden Eagle, held their monthly meeting at Lock Haven last Wednesday. A good representation from the South district, Spring Mills and Centre Hall, was present. The next regular meeting will be held at Jersey Shore in February.

Miss Nellie Smith, superintendent of the Ohio Valley hospital, located in Steubenville, Ohio, was in Centre Hall from Thursday until Monday. While here she visited her aunt, Mrs. T. A. Hosterman, in the Lewistown hospital. She was pleased with the conduct of the institution, and expressed confidence in the general belief that Mrs. Hosterman will recover.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kelley and daughter, Miss Ruth, the latter a public school teacher, and Mrs. Lou Reynolds, a sister of Mr. Kelley, came to Centre Hall on an auto drive on Sunday. The slight indisposition mentioned as having recently overtaken Miss Lizzie Koehn Millheim, has developed into a serious illness. She is being cared for by Miss Ruth Ingram, R. N., assisted by neighbors. Miss Koehn has been living alone since the death of her invalid sister, Miss Ida, for whom she cared for many years, and it is to the great exertion in this care that her present condition is largely attributed.

From the Philipsburg Journal it is learned that Dr. F. K. White, popular dentist, who has been able the past few months to look after his office work following a critical operation, having suffered a relapse, was removed to the Philipsburg State hospital where on Wednesday afternoon of last week he underwent another operation. His condition is reported to be as good as could be expected. A legion of warm friends hope for his speedy recovery.

Although in a precarious condition, very hopeful reports come from Mrs. T. A. Hosterman, a patient in the Lewistown City hospital. There has been a gradual improvement since the operation on Thursday morning. The operation, performed by Dr. Cassidy, chief surgeon at the hospital, consisted in removing the entire gall bladder, much enlarged and inflamed. Mrs. Hosterman is receiving the attention of both a day and a night nurse, not directly connected with the hospital.
