A Collection of Newsy Happenings and Personals from Gregg Township's Metropolis.

The improving of the athletic field connected with the Vocational school—a CWA project—is progressing slowly owing to weather conditions being unfavorable. Blasting became necessary but with the aid of dynamite the "upper crust" was removed with much difficulty. It is feared the funds will be exhausted before the work is completed. The project providing for the erection of a community hall is being held up for the present owing to necessary corrections of plans and specifications. The papers are now in Harrisburg. Entire confidence is felt that the project will be accepted and that the delays are due to but slight errors and omissions of but small consequence. The Fish and Game Association will hold a regular meeting Thursday night, this week. A good attendance is desired, and a report of all game killed is also desired at this time. Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Harshbarger and Mr. and Mrs. Roland McCool, of Altoona, on Sunday, came to visit Mrs. D. M. McCool, who has been ill for a few weeks. She was taken by the party to Altoona, where she is now a patient in the Mercy hospital. It is the sincere wish of her many friends here that she will recover speedily. Former Squire E. T. Jamison continues to improve. He is not circulating much about the village, but is taking automobile rides frequently. Philip Auman, who is in his 87th year, became ill while at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Kerstetter, the latter a niece of Mr. Auman makes his home with his daughter, Mrs. R. E. Sweetwood, in Georges Valley, having come to the Kerstetter home on a visit and soon thereafter became ill. Kermit Stover, Coburn, and George Wingard, of near Rote's Mill, were visitors in the village on business a few days ago. A kitchen shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob T. McCool, at east end of Georges Valley, for their son, Robert McCool, and bride, who was formerly Miss Mary Guisewite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Guisewite. The affair was largely attended, and the "shower" was almost an all-night rain of pretty and useful kitchenware of all description. Mrs. Bright Bitner and daughter, Miss Geraldine Bitner, and Miss Marian Tschudy, a member of the Vocational school faculty, on Saturday, made a trip to Bellefonte. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Fiedler will soon go to housekeeping in one of the apartments in the Bibby house, on the hill Mrs. Fiedler, before marriage, was Miss Ella Albright. S. J. McMullin, of Millheim, was about here on Friday. He is a State Workman's Insurance adjuster. Dr. and Mrs. George C. Thomas spent last Sunday at Sunbury visiting the former's brother, who is in the hospital at present. Squire Stover is a very busy man these days, dividing his time between giving legal advice and repairing bursted pipes and pumps. Mrs. Della Reiber and daughter, Miss Ruth, of Centre Hall, and friends, Messrs. Robert Byars and Charles Meyer, of State College, were visiting friends in Spring Mills last Sunday. Local lodge of dOd Fellows have had degree work every week since the first of January, and will have for the remainder of this month. The Spring Mills M. E. group spent Tuesday evening at the parsonage with Rev. and Mrs. Russell, and enjoyed a very enjoyable time. The following were present: Misses Lydia and Gladys Zeigler, Harold Sharer, Mrs. Leroy Wagner and daughter, Emma Jane, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Fetterolf and daughters Bernice and Barbara; Mrs. P. A. Fetterolf, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Robinson and daughter Betty Jane, Prof. and Mrs. C. M. Watts and daughter Jean, Mrs. D. H. Slegel, Mrs. Clarence Zerby, Prof. Conley Hayes, Calvin Kennedy, C. P. Long and daughters Marie Long and Isabel Musser, Dr. and Mrs. George C. Thomas, Mrs. Annie Smith and daughter, Martha Corman, Rev. and Mrs. Seth Russell. Refreshments were served.

Historical Facts

[Under this head will appear one or more historical facts of local interest, to a large extent taken from Linn's History of Centre and Clinton counties, designated for reference as L. H., the figures following indicating page. The "Notes," if any, are those of the editor. The history was written in 1883.]

SNOWSTORM OF 80 YEARS AGO.

April 15, 1854, occurred the remarkable snowstorm. The buds and blossoms were unfolding and gardens being made after a season of very fine weather. On Friday, a cold rain fell, which changed on Saturday, 15th, to sleet, which continued to fall all day; Saturday the snow was nine inches deep. It continued to snow until noon of Monday, reaching a depth of twenty inches. The storm was accompanied by wind from the northeast. On Tuesday, 18th, the sun came out and it soon disappeared. A similar storm is said to have occurred on the last day of March, 1897. In 1854, Governor Elger was renominated by the State convention of the Democracy for governor; J. S. Black, for Supreme Judge and Henry S. Mott for canal commissioner. The Whig State convention put in nomination James Polk for Governor on the 15th of March. The chairman of the convention, ex-Governor Johnson, appointed Hon. A. G. Curtin, of Centre county, chairman of the State Committee. In July hints came out of the formation of a singular fraternity, the "Know-Nothings," and in August it was reported to have two hundred members in Bellefonte. The Democratic county nominations were made in August. Hon. S. Stohecker, for congress; Assembly, Major John Neff, of Potter; Sheriff, J. G. Larimer; Prothonotary, J. S. Barnhart; Register and Recorder, Michael Shaffer, of Walker; Commissioner, D. Kimport, of Harris; Auditor, Christian Mark, Half Moon. M. P. Crasthwaite, it was alleged, failed to get the nomination for register and recorder because he had voted for Andrew Gregg, temperance candidate for the Legislature the year previous. A paper signed by a large number of Democrats requested him to run as an independent candidate. On September 12th the Whig county convention met, Harry Keller presiding, and resolved that it was inexpedient to nominate a county ticket. The Whig congressional conference also declined to nominate a candidate, and Rev. John J. Pierce, of Clinton county, as an independent candidate against Allison White, and a full independent ticket appeared on the mast of the "Democratic Whig" newspaper, as follows: Assembly, David C. Boal; sheriff, Mordecai Wadde; Prothonotary, Geo. B. Weaver; Register and Recorder, M. P. Crasthwaite; Auditor, C. Rankin; Jonathan Kreamer and R. D. Cummings were also independent candidates for sheriff. The regular fall election was held October 11, and at that time Centre county also voted on prohibition for the sale of liquor. The vote in the county was: for sale, 2428; against, 1871. Gregg township voted 62 for, 195 against; Haines township, 62 for, 195 against; Penn township, 79 for, 144 against; Potter township split even, 171 for each. The Know-Nothing party carried its candidates into office. At the spring election in 1855, on Feb. 16, in every township except Haines, the Know-Nothing party elected its candidates.—L. H. pages 94-95.

Note: In the next one or two issues will appear accounts of politics in Centre county; also, a report on the Anti-Jug Law meeting held in Aaronsburg, October 5, 1855.

FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

BREED FOR HEALTH—Breeding for disease resistance may prove exceedingly helpful in solving the problem of excessive laying flock mortality. Three years ago 14 daughters of a White Leghorn at State College were housed. At the end of the laying year 13 of these survived and they had averaged 220 eggs per bird. Last year eight of these hens were used in the breeding pens. Of their progeny 81 pullets were housed. At the end of six months of production 81 of these pullets were still alive.

WATER ON SUNNY DAYS—Watering early vegetable plants under glass in the forenoon of a sunny day gives the soil a chance to warm up during the day and the plants can dry off. Plants seldom need watering on cloudy days.

USE COLD STORAGE—Cotery growers in the Philadelphia area have found that they can keep their crop in good condition in cold storage for later marketing. Interested growers in Lancaster county are considering a similar method of handling their next crop.

CONTROL BERRY DISEASES—Septoria leaf spot and anthracnose two diseases of Pennsylvania raspberry patches, can be controlled by spraying with liquid lime-sulphur. Two sprays are needed, one when the leaves are out one-eighth of an inch and the second when the new canes are 3 or 4 inches long.

FEED GOOD COWS WELL—High producing cows should be fed liberally with balanced rations and given good care, since the cheapest milk production is a cow's normal maximum production. Low producing cows are a handicap to the dairyman and a source of loss.
