Among the twenty-seven applicants granted automobile drivers' license following a test held Monday, were W. B. Gentzell, Centre Hall; F. M. Hosterman, Boalsburg; R. D. Martz, Centre Hall; K. Houtz, Lemont; P. C. Gates and J. E. Hollinger, Pleasant Gap.

Miss Alice Burkholder, a student nurse in the Methodist Hospital, Philadelphia, was at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Burkholder, near Centre Hall, over the week-end. Miss Burkholder, who had been on night duty, this week begins her first work as a day nurse.

Mrs. T. A. Hosterman continues to make daily improvement in her condition while a patient in the Lewistown hospital under the skillful treatment of Dr. Cassidy, who a short time ago performed a gall bladder removal operation. On Sunday she began sitting in a chair by the side of her bed.

W. D. Shoop has been housed up at his home in town during the past ten days from stomach trouble, a condition from which he has been suffering for a number of years. He became ill while on the Blue Ball mountain road where he is time-keeper—a CWA project. His condition is improving.

Visitors at the M. C. Delaney home on Sunday were: B. E. Yearick and daughter Sylvia, of Altoona; Frank Zeigler, of State College; Willard and Boyd Harter, of State College; Ed. David Hosterman, farmer near Penn Hall, had the misfortune to lose one of his work horses through an injury. The farmer was driving a pair of horses along a steep grade on the farm, when the icy condition of the hill caused the horses to slip and fall after plunging through a wire fence, resulting in the injury of one of the animals to such an extent that it was killed to put it out of its misery.

Mrs. Henry Gettig, of North Braddock, on her way home from Potters Mills where she visited her sister, Miss Opha Fleisher, gave this office a pleasant call. Mrs. Gettig came to the old home on a bit of business which resulted in her taking over the Fleisher home, thus preventing its coming into the hands of strangers. The old home will be improved and will be used as a summer home by the Gettigs—a fine idea.

A meeting of farmers was held recently at the home of A. H. Spayd, in town with the view of ascertaining the possibility of their cooperating in having the West Penn Power Company extend its service on the Old Fort-Boalsburg road for a distance of several miles. The outcome was not favorable due to the owners of three farms not being willing to assume their share of the obligation. The extension of electric lines should be looked upon as are good roads, good school facilities, telephone service, all for the betterment of the community and the increase in value of real estate.

128 VOCATIONAL BOYS-CLEAR $4,997.48 IN PROJECTS

The summary, just completed, for the projects carried by boys enrolled in Vocational Agriculture in Centre county for 1932-1933 reveals some interesting facts.

These projects are carried on as a part of the pupil's class work. He does the project work at home as laboratory exercise. Several different kinds of projects were carried by the 128 boys completing their year's work. Garden, potatoes, swine, poultry and small grains were the leaders in numbers completed.

The boy carries on with a job, say, for example, one or more acres of potatoes. He will keep track of all expenses as labor, use of equipment, rent of land and buildings, seed, manure, fertilizer and lime, spray materials, repair, marketing expense, interest on money invested and any miscellaneous expense. These items he then compares with his own income to determine profit or loss. The list below includes all expenses listed above:

Boys completing potato projects—24. Number of acres grown—26.5. Total income from potatoes—$3205.55. Total expense—$1479.22. Net profit—$1726.33. Cost of producing each bush—44.6 cents.

Some of the other types of projects came close to breaking even with little, if any, profit, while others went into the red.

The summary of costs and income for all projects in the county is as follows:

Total income ..... $14,370.16
Total expense ..... 9,372.78
Net profit ..... 4,997.48

Considering the present conditions the boys, although they did not make any great amount of money, were able to pick up something which was worth while.

The project, run in conjunction with the class room work, has been helpful and profitable and very popular, judging by the enrollment increase during the past five years.

BRUCKART'S WASHINGTON LETTER INTERPRETS THE CAPITAL NEWS FOR YOU

History is being made rapidly in Washington these days.

Day after day new plans are announced by various departments and bureaus of the federal government. New policies are being formulated by the President and high executives of the administration. Routine news reports of these moves on the part of government officials do not always tell the whole story and often are confusing. What has led to the adoption of new policies and the formulation of new plans and what their effect may be upon the nation and upon various industries and groups are the things that are of interest to people generally.

It is to give its readers this sort of illuminating information that this paper is publishing each week its Washington Digest. It is an interpretative news letter written from the capital by William Bruckart.

EDWARD W. PICKARD

No American writer is better equipped for this particular task.

For years Mr. Bruckart made a special study of everything concerning government financing and treasury department activities.

His weekly letters in this paper will give you a very comprehensive idea of what is going on in Washington and what it all means. Your friends will appreciate a tip as to where they can get this kind of information.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. and Mrs. W. H. Homan, Mrs. Annie Homan and daughter, Miss Cora, Annie Elizabeth and Warren Homan, spent Sunday at the home of Waldo Homan, at Oak Hall.

"TIPPING" BEGAN IN MERRY OLD ENGLAND

The custom of tipping is believed to have originated in the early English coffee houses, where frequently hung brass-bound boxes inscribed "To Insure Promptness." Into these boxes patrons dropped coins and the word "tip" originated from the initials letters of the three words.

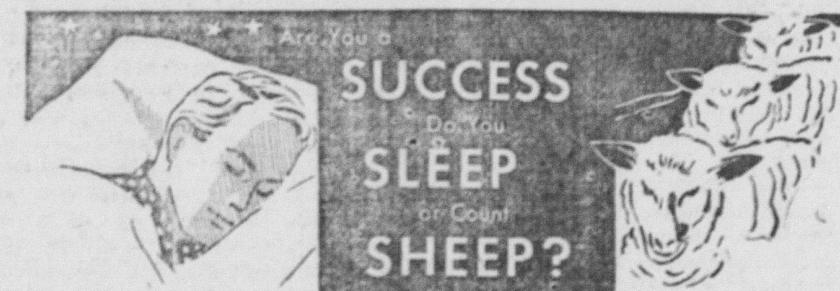

Just What Does It All Mean to Me?

That is the question that naturally comes to your mind when you think of or talk to your neighbors about the rather bewildering activities of the federal government in Washington.

Fragmentary news reports of congressional action or administration policies often are confusing, but if you will read William Bruckart's interpretative WASHINGTON DIGEST, which is published each week in this paper, you will know more about what all the moves on the capital checkerboard mean to you.

Through long service as a Washington correspondent, Mr. Bruckart is particularly well qualified for this particular job. He gives you an illuminating interpretation of what Congress is doing or is expected to do, and what is happening or is expected to happen in other departments of the government.

READ the Bruckart letter every week for an intelligent understanding of what is going on at the national capital.

For business and social success you must have refreshing sleep which increases your efficiency and endurance, clears the mind and keeps you in good humor.
