

CORRESPONDENTS' DEPARTMENT

Tusseyville.

Walter Horner spent Wednesday with his mother at State College. Myra Rokey accompanied Mr. and Mrs. John Neff to Lewistown Thursday to visit Mrs. Bitner who is a patient in the Lewistown hospital. Rev. and Mrs. D. R. Keener were dinner guests at the C. P. Ramer home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. S. Thomas Swartz and daughter Mary, accompanied Mary Fortney to State College on Sunday to visit the Swartz families, who have been on the sick list. Willard Smith and daughter Arlene have been housed up with the grippe the past week. Mrs. Mayno Runkle has been employed at the Emerick home at Centre Hall over the week-end. Herman Colyer, of State College, called to see his father, Reuben Colyer, one day last week. There will be a box social at the Tussey Sisk school house, Friday evening, March 2nd.

Boalsburg.

Miss Jessie Haven, of State College, was a guest at the Luther Dale home on Thursday evening. A new baby arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crumney last Thursday morning. A number of people from this vicinity are attending court this week. Citizens of the town donated the sum of $81.75 to the State College Fire Co. in appreciation of their valuable services rendered during the recent fire. Miss Margaret Gingerich, teacher of the Shingletown school, was compelled to remain at home Thursday and Friday on account of illness. The E. M. Kuhn residence was discovered on fire Friday forenoon, due to a defective flue, but the fire was extinguished by local firemen before much damage resulted. The result of the dairy cattle judging contest, held at State College, Feb. 19th, in connection with the Farmers' Evening School, was as follows: Fred Homan, first; C. M. Ross, second; Harry Leightley, third. Prof. E. B. Pitts, Dairy Extension Specialist, of State College, conducted the meeting.

Rebersburg.

Mrs. Stover, from Millheim, came to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lee Kidder, on Saturday, and will remain there indefinitely. Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Mallory returned to their home in town on Sunday after spending several months with their daughters, Mrs. Tolbert and Mrs. Frye, in Pittsburgh. Mr. and Mrs. Willis Bierly were shopping in Lock Haven on Saturday. Mrs. Helen Beal went to Johnstown on Sunday after spending several weeks at the home of her father, W. R. Moyer. She will make arrangements to move her household goods to Lewistown where her husband has secured employment. Owing to the intense cold for several weeks, the majority of farmers in the valley find themselves without water. It is a serious situation and a change to warmer weather will be most welcome. Mrs. Mary Abbott, principal of the M. T. H. S., is still at the bedside of her daughter, Martha Jane, who is a patient in the Geisinger hospital in Danville. Paul Ziegler is ably filling Mrs. Abbott's place in the school. Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Gephart spent Sunday with their daughters, Misses Helen and Luella, at their apartments in State College on Sunday. The Garretts are building a new planing mill to take the place of the one destroyed by fire several weeks ago, and will soon be ready to fill their many orders. James Mallory, quit the C. C. camp and left for Williamsport where he has secured employment in a tire store. Clymer Tyson and friend from Harrisburg, visited at the William Tyson home last week.

Will Rogers Picks A Story For This Spot

By WILL ROGERS A RIGHT respectable old darkey was caught in a chicken coop that didn't belong to him, out on the edge of Louisville. Everybody was surprised, especially George, the one that was caught. "How in the world," says the man that owned the coop, "do you get into such a fix as this?" "Well, sah," he says, "I ain't my fault, at all. My doctah is to blame. He done it. It's doctah's orders, absolute." "Can't imagine that. Your doctor tells you to run around in other people's premises at night, and risk catching cold, at your age?" "Well, he don't say jes' how it's to be done, but he do say, 'Nigga, you all must have chicken soup.' You see it ain't my fault, and you bettah talk to the doctah about it all."

Spring Mills

A Collection of Newsy Happenings and Personals from Gregg Township's Metropolis.

The committee representing Gregg township, who on Wednesday of last week interviewed State CWA and PWA officials at Harrisburg concerning the building of a community hall, were favorably impressed, and believe building under the rules of the PWA would be the most advantageous. Of course, nothing definite was accomplished, but the committee maintains confidence that ultimately the project will go through, and that our village will have a structure of which any township would have a right to be proud.

The Gregg township school board and Mrs. Elizabeth Snare, of Decker Valley, had their second inning which apparently ended in a "draw." The woman was arrested for the second time on the charge of violating a section of the school code on compulsory attendance. She was brought before Justice Stover, who in default of bail committed her to the county jail, the sentence being for five days. Mrs. Snare was fortunate to secure bail the following day and is now thumbing the school board. The case, it is reported, has been turned over to the State Board of Education, who are expected to adopt measures that will make it impossible for the woman to repeat the violation. The two children in question are eight and eleven years old, respectively. The family lives in Decker Valley, in the Beaver Dam school district. Mrs. Snare claims her children are entitled to be transported from the Beaver Dam school, while the school board holds the distance the children are obliged to travel is within that which transportation is not provided for in the code.

Arch Confer is recovering from the injuries to head and shoulder received when a special train west hit him while driving a Chevrolet truck over the Beaver Dam railroad crossing. A number of years ago a Mr. Weaver was killed at the crossing named. While this was the only fatality at that point there were plenty of half-splitting escapés from being run down. Mrs. Isabel Skyles gave birth to a child a few days ago at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Spicher, in Spring Mills. The father was struck and killed by an auto while walking on the concrete road between State College and Boalsburg, several months ago.

Mrs. Bruce McCormick, who has been suffering for some time from a severe attack of sciatica rheumatism, is slightly improved. Mr. McCormick, who is a railroad fireman, was obliged to ask relief from duty to take care of her. Mr. McCormick, by the way, is chairman of the Railway Brotherhood of Firemen, at Sunbury.

Ernest Styles recently moved from the James Imme place to a farm between Harrisburg and Woodward. Mr. Imme and son-in-law, Mr. Noll, of Pleasant Gap, contemplate moving on to the vacant place.

Thomas H. Rote, of Rote's Mill, was a business caller in Spring Mills a few days ago. Mrs. Blanche Wert, of Akron, Ohio, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Bright Bitner, for a week. Two other guests at the Bitner home are Mrs. Catharine Johnson and baby daughter, Barbara, daughter and granddaughter, respectively, of Mr. and Mrs. Bitner. Mrs. Johnson lives in Philadelphia.

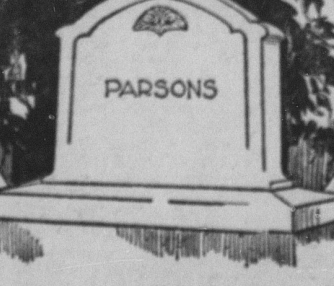

Arthur Grove is on the sick list. Andrew Bilger and sister, Miss Alta, of Pleasant Gap, were visiting friends in town last Sunday.

Messrs. C. F. Bariges and P. W. Weagley made a business trip to Harrisburg last Tuesday.

We are glad to see Miss Bernice Smitt out again and enjoying good health.

Centre Castle No. 159, K. G. E., will have their annual banquet in Gange hall on Thursday evening, March 8.

Sixteen below zero Wednesday morning, following 9 inches of a snowfall. Reports from various sections of Centre county, Wednesday morning, told of temperatures ranging from 16 to 30 degrees below the zero mark.

Historical Facts

[Under this head will appear one or more historical facts of local interest, to a large extent taken from Linn's History of Centre and Clinton counties, designated for reference as L. ANTI-JUG-LAW MEETING. The following record of the proceedings of a meeting held in Aaronsburg is taken from L. Kurtz's "Demokratischer Bericht," published in Aaronsburg Oct. 5, 1855, as illustrative of the temper and spirit of the people in eastern Penna. Valley: Friday, the twenty-eighth of September, was a great day for the citizens of Aaronsburg and Centre county, it having been the time fixed upon for holding a meeting of freemen of Old Centre in opposition to the infamous jug-law, and to show their disapprobation to preachers mingling in politics.

The weather was very fine, a bright sun never shed its congenial rays upon mother earth. The gathering numbered from fifteen hundred to two thousand of the most respectable farmers and mechanics of Old Centre; the meeting was orderly and well conducted, which the honest portion of the opposition does not hesitate to acknowledge. At 9:30 a. m., an eastern breeze, carrying with it the charming music of the Freeburg band, told that the Haines township delegation was approaching, and its entrance to our village was a glorious and grand one--one hundred and twenty-five of the finest horses, each one maned and decorated with a flag, made up this delegation. Besides this beautiful cortege, old Haines was represented by about the same number of persons who came in from the country en foot.

The Haines township delegation passed through our village and proceeded to Millheim, where they awaited the arrival of the delegations from Brush Valley, Penn. Gregg, Potter, etc. The delegations were escorted to Aaronsburg, Gen. George Buchanan was chief marshal for the upper townships and Col. J. Wolf and G. Kurtz for Haines. The large string of wagons, buggies and horses was a bitter pill for our pretty little sanhedrim, but they had to take it--there was no hiding in a cornfield this time. The meeting was organized with the following officers: President--Gen. George Buchanan. Vice Presidents--Judge Strohecker, Samuel Shafer, George Hubler, John Kremer, George Shafer, John Weaver, of Miles. Adam Fisher, Frederick Heckman, John Grove, Isaac Hettlinger, of Gregg; Major John Neff, Uriah Slack, Henry Witmer, Col. W. Love, John Taylor, of Potter; John Ott, John Swartz, John G. Swartz, Dr. Peter Smith, of Walker; George Swartz, Robert Smith, Michael Gebhart, Michael Stover, of Penn. John Kremer, Samuel Miller, John Moyer, Samuel Martin, Michael Daugherty, of Haines. Secretaries, J. G. Meyer, John C. Wolf, Major J. B. Fisher--L. H., page 96.

[Note:--The proceedings of the meeting will appear under this head in our next issue.]

The Miller Motor company of Centre Hall received a consignment of brand new Chevrolet touring cars on Tuesday evening direct from the Chevrolet factory. The cars were awaited by buyers.

Why I Am a Candidate for Republican State Committeeman Opposing Senator Scott

I am announcing my candidacy in opposition to that of Senator H. B. Scott for election at the primaries May 15 as Centre County's representative in the Republican State Committee.

I am standing as the candidate of thinking, self-respecting Republicans of our county who want to be proud of our Party, and who not only resent but are ashamed of Senator Scott's deliberate, brazen attempt to deliver the Republican Party in Centre County over to "Bill" Vare and the corrupt Vare machine in Philadelphia.

Senator Scott has placed himself openly for Vare and Vareism.

I stand squarely against Vare and Vareism.

I am for the New Deal in the Republican Party.

Senator Scott, as Centre County's representative in the Republican State Committee, not only voted to send Vare to the Republican National Committee. To add to the disgrace and humiliation he was heaping upon the Republican Party in Centre County, Senator Scott called upon the State Committee to jam Vare's election through by acclamation.

Senator Scott entered into this alliance with Vare and Vareism to promote himself for political reward. Vareism dishonored Philadelphia financially, politically and morally. And Senator Scott, as our representative in the State Committee, publicly endorsed "Bill" Vare, the head and front of Vareism. Vare had been repudiated and routed by the decent citizens of Philadelphia.

I say without fear of challenge that when he entered into this alliance with Vare and Vareism, Senator Scott cast disgrace upon the Republican Party in Centre County which had honored him and which deserved far better treatment from him in return.

I hereby pledge myself to Centre County Republicans that if elected as your representative in the Republican State Committee I will vote for and demand the immediate retirement of Vare from the National Committee.

In so doing I shall have aided to this extent at least in removing the blight placed upon our Party in Centre County by Senator Scott.

The leading newspapers in Pennsylvania, including the Philadelphia "Inquirer," the Philadelphia "Public Ledger," and the Harrisburg "Telegraph," have editorially demanded Vare's retirement from politics if the Republican Party is to march to victory next November.

My vote to remove Vare from the National Committee will be notice to Republicans throughout Pennsylvania that Centre County Republicans believe in and demand demand decent, clean, honest politics.
