VOL. CVIII. CENTRE HALL, PA., THURSDAY, MARCH 15, 1934. NO. 11

2000 NOMINATION PETITIONS WILL BE FILED IN PENN'A

The State Bureau of Elections anticipates a busy two weeks ending March 26 the final date for candidates to file nominating petitions for the primary elections, May 15.

George D. Thorn, head of the bureau, said candidates are filing petitions "unusually slow" this year. However, he expects increased activity within the next few days which will result in a larger number of candidates than ever before, he said.

Five state offices—Governor, Lieut.-Governor, United States Senator, Superior Court Judge, and Secretary of Internal Affars—are at stake.

In addition, a lot of the 208 members of the State House of Representatives, all the 34 Pennsylvania congressmen, and half, or 25, of the State senators, will be elected this year.

Less than 200 candidates, mostly among the State legislative group, have filed nominating petitions since February 14, the first day for filing.

During the next two weeks the daily average will have to reach approximately 150, if, as predicted by Thorn, between 2,000 and 3,000 candidates file petitions with the election bureau.

Although the Democratic party has two complete state-wide tickets in the field and a few Republicans have announced definitely they will be candidates for one or another of the five State offices, not a single nominating petition has been filed for a State-wide office.

More than half the petitions filed to date have been for the State House of Representatives, with a few for congressional seats.

WELCOME, MR. WAGNER.

The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board now has a member who knows something about liquor.

Out of a lifetime of experience in the liquor business, W. Worrell Wagner can tell his fellow members of the board a few things about liquor merchandising that they don't seem to know. Among those points are:

That there is no excuse for the State board, the largest liquor dealer in the world, to be undersold by private dealers anywhere.

That there really is such a thing as good, low-priced wine.

That the liquor business is highly complicated and specialized and needs purchasing agents who are experts in their fields.

That there is no reason a liquor store should look like an arsenal.

Mr. Wagner comes late to the liquor board. In the usual course of events the senior members would show him the ropes. Under the circumstances, the procedure should be reversed. It's up to Mr. Wagner to tell the board what the job is all about.

AS BANKS, SO INSURANCE.

(Philadelphia Record Editorial)

Governor Pinchot does not seem to have done a much better job on insurance than on banking.

Delays in closing unsound banks, timidity in grappling with the problem, slowness in liquidation, terrific liquidation expenses, are matched in the Governor's record on bankrupt insurance companies.

The joint legislative problems of the State insurance department discloses that $6000 was spent collecting $9000 on the assets of one bankrupt company; that 90 per cent of assets collected for another was spent in expenses; that counsel for the liquidation division of thedepartment shares offices with the Deputy Attorney General Harold D. Saylor.

Match that with the recent charges that the Workmen's Compensation Board is over-encumbered with politicians, that the State Highway Department has become a political machine and the picture of what has been happening under Pinchot becomes clear.

Our Governor seems to have expected nothing from his departments save that they supply him with their full quotas of political jobs. When that was done nothing else seems to have mattered.

GOV. GUFFEY IS CONFIDENT OF DEMOCRATIC SUCCESS

Belief that the Democratic party will be the major party for the next 16 to 20 years is expressed by Joseph F. Guffey, candidate for United States senator.

Addressing an Erie county meeting Friday night the Democratic chieftain said the "Republican party definitely is passing" and told Erie party leaders that "all we need to do is to get together, stay together and continue the good work."

Guffey, selected by the Democratic State Committee to seek the senatorial nomination in the spring primary, and a leader of Roosevelt forces in Pennsylvania, summed up the party's activities for the last year.

Thirty leaders attended the meeting.

UNION COUNTY CLUB BOY WINS PUREBRED HOLSTEIN

When Union county Holstein breeders recently met at the farm of J. L. Reitz, near Lewisburg, 150 admireres of the black and white cattle attended, reports R. R. Welch, dairy extension specialist of the Pennsylvania State College.

George Spangler, New Berlin, a member of the 4-H Holstein calf club, held the lucky number in the drawing for a purebred bull calf, awarded by the county Holstein club. This calf was bred by H. K. Benner, Vicksburg.

UPHOLDS PINCHOT'S POLICY TO USE GAS TAX ON HIGHWAYS

Edward R. Weber, a Reporter subscriber from Huntingdon, thinks Governor Pinchot is doing just the right thing when he refuses to divert any of the gas tax revenue from its proper use, namely, that of building highways. He takes exception to a paragraph in a recent editorial re-printed from the Philadelphia Record and appearing in the Reporter. Mr. Weber says:

"In your issue of Feb. 15, 1934, you copied an editorial from the Philadelphia Record, entitled, 'Pinchot-Coat-Tail Candidate.' I suppose that you endorse the editorial in toto. One of the 'points' of the indictment against the Governor is this:

> " 'To build his own political fences, he has spent the entire 65 million annual gas tax revenue on highways, refusing to divert one cent of it for relief of the State's destitute jobless.'

"For what purpose did the motorist think the gas tax was being collected? For the building and maintenance of highways! According to the editorial, that is where the money went. Why should motorists, as motorists, be penalized by the diversion of their funds to purposes other than for which they were collected? Why not, for instance, levy a tax on newspaper publishers, and postmasters, for the relief of 'the State's destitute jobless'?

" It may be of interest to you to know that the Colorado legislature recently levied a special registration fee for unemployment relief, but the Supreme Court of the State declared it unconstitutional. Quoting now from 'Forbes': 'Too long has the automobile owner been a ready source of collectible revenue for divers purposes.' "

CWA WORKER MEETS DEATH ON ROCKVIEW PEN. PROJECT

Jesse Schreffler, 19, of Lemont, a laborer employed on a CWA project at McBride's Gap on the Penitentiary grounds, was fatally injured when he was crushed against the concrete side of the foundation of the dam by two mine cars loaded with stone. The accident happened last Wednesday afternoon. The young man was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Schreffler and was born at Houserville 19 years ago. In addition to his parents he is survived by a sister, Miss Charlotte Schreffler, at home.

MOTHER OF 6 WORLD WAR VETS DIES AT BURNHAM

Mrs Ferdinand M. Miller, a gold star mother, died at Burnham. She was the mother of six daughters and seven sons, all of whom except one survive her, as does also her husband.

Six of Mrs. Miller's seven sons served in the United States Army during the World War, one son, Davidson, being the first from Mifflin county to lose his life in the war.

NINE OF 104 CCC CAMPS IN PENN. TO BE ABANDONED

A revision in the number of Civilian Conservation Corps camps to be operated in Pennsylvania this year gives the state 95 instead of 104 it had this winter.

Officials of the CCC said on Friday 103 had been planned for the state, but it was decided the 95 units could absorb approximately 19,500 of Pennsylvania's quota of 22,101 men, and inasmuch as a large number of the Conservation Corps workers quartered in Pennsylvania were sent there from other states, the reduction would have no ill effect.

Officials said the camps to be abandoned have not been decided.

There is reasonable assurance that the Lewistown Narrows roads, Route 22, will be rebuilt the coming summer. That section of road is the worst, considering its importance, of any through road in a half-dozen counties.

AARONSBURG COUPLE MARRIED 50 YEARS, CELEBRATE

On the evening of March 9, at their home in Aaronsburg, the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Mingle was celebrated.

Mr. Mingle is the youngest son of the late Henry and Eve (Bower) Mingle, and Mrs. Belle Margaret Mingle is the eldest daughter of the late Emanuel and Harriet Minnick Cronemiller. Both were born in Aaronsburg. They were married March 9, 1884, by the Rev. Zwingli A. Yearick, then Reformed minister of the Aaronsburg charge, now retired and living at Bethlehem. Five children were born to this union: W. C. Mingle, Akron, O.; Nellie C. McCormick, Potters Mills; Mazie E. Hosterman, Buffalo, N. Y.; Henry E. Mingle, Akron, O.; Albert E. Mingle, Coburn. There are eleven grandchildren and one great-granchild. Mrs. Mingle is 73 years of age, while Mr. Mingle is one year younger.

The program for the evening was rendered by Mrs. McCormick and A. E. Mingle (being the only children able to be present), and their children with the aid of Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Griesing, and Mr. McCormick, after which refreshments were served.

Mrs. Mingle taught school for six years in the school house that stood in the corner of the land now the Lutheran cemetery, in Aaronsburg.

Mr. Mingle, when a young man, clerked for Mr. Tomlinson and W. H. Phillips in Aaronsburg, and for J. F. Mullen in Centre Hall. Later he hauled cream for the Spring Mills creamery company and then engaged in agriculture. The couple have always lived in Aaronsburg.

They received many beautiful gifts.

Guests present at the celebration were these:

Mrs. John M. Otto, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. A. Guisewite, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Miller and daughter Catharine, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Bower, Mrs. George Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Stover, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Stover, A. S. Stover, Mrs. Katherine Phillips, Mrs. Katie I. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Foster, Mr and Mrs. W. E. Boob, Mr. and Mrs. (Rev.) G. A. Fred Griesing, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Bower and daughter Mabel, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Winkleblech, Mr. and Mrs P. M. Winkleblech, Carl, Dean and Mary, all of Aaronsburg; Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. William Adams, of Millheim; Mrs. Laura McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Palmer, Miss Caroline McClaskey, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McCormick, William, Robert, Laura Belle McCormick, Miss Goldie Stover, of Potters Mills; Miss Isabel Bradford, of Centre Hall; Mr. and Mrs A. E. Mingle, Jensen and Adrienna Mingle of Coburn.

CELEBRATE 59TH MARRIAGE ANNIVERSARY, FRIDAY EVENING

Mr. and Mrs. James Wert, on Friday evening, celebrated the fifty-ninth anniversary of their marriage at their home in Aaronsburg. Mrs. Wert's maiden name was Miss Amanda Brungard. The celebration included none but the three sons of the couple and their respective families. The sons are John B. Wert and Claude E. Wert, of Tusseyville, and D. Sparr Wert, of Aaronsburg, but these with their wives, children and grandchildren comprised a considerable group, who were happy to bewith the well preserved and fond heads of this branch of the Wert family in Penns Valley.

PEDESTRIANS' CARELESSNESS LOOMS LARGE IN ACCIDENTS

Out of 12,645 accidents in which 964 pedestrians were killed and 11,681 were injured, 3203 occurred when the victim was walking or playing in the street. In 2214 accidents the pedestrian was crossing between intersections and, in 2627 others, he was coming from behind a parked car. Another group of 234 occurred when the victim, usually a child, was riding or pitching on a motor vehicle.

One out of every four persons killed last year was a pedestrian who did not look for danger at times when he should reasonably have expected it.

LOCAL EAGLES TO BANQUET TUESDAY MARCH 27TH

Centre Hall lodge, Knights of the Golden Eagle, will observe their anniversary, Tuesday evening March 27th by holding a banquet in their lodge hall. All members and their families are invited.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Last Wednesday evening a few friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank White, who to Mr. White's surprise came to celebrate his thirtieth birthday. The evening was spent playing cards.

Those who took part in the celebration were: Mr and Mrs. Jacob Sharer, Jr., Mrs. Gregg Carper, SpringMills; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Sharer and family, of Millheim; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Daup, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Emery, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sharer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry White, Jacob Sharer, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Earl White, and John Walker, Misses Ida Frazier, Martha Yearick, Estella Hosterman, Helen White; Wm. Brown, Glenn Hackett, Mr. and Mrs. Frank White, June and Harold White, all of Centre Hall.

Refreshments served consisted of sandwiches, pickles, cake, ice cream and coffee. Later in the evening everyone returned home, wishing Mr. White many more happy birthdays.

BURKHOLDER FAMILY GIVEN FAREWELL PARTY, FRIDAY

After a residence among them for fifteen years, the neighbors of the M. A. Burkholder family, on the Spayd farm, gave them a rousing farewell party at the Burkholder home on Friday evening. The family moved there from the Stiver (now Meeker) farm, near Potters Mills. Like on previous farms Mr. Burkholder occupied, he made the acres tilled produce a profit. The growing of staple grain crops and hay were engaged in, and potato growing was made a specialty. He was by great odds the largest producer of potatoes in Potter township. About April first the Burkholders will move onto their own farm, located west of Centre Hall on the Brush Valley road, purchased a number of years ago, and here a transformation of conditions may be looked to in the near future.

At the party there were present the following: Mr. and Mrs. Tom Delaney and daughter Agnes; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blazer, Dorothy, Bob, Lynn, Eunice, Esther and Henry Blazer; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Delaney, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Delaney, Edith and James Delaney, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, Louise, Helen and Randall Miller, Mr. and Mrs. James Royer, Evelyn and Francis Royer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andrews, Thresa Andrews, Mrs. Mary Neff, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McClellan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meeker, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Frantz, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Smith, Bruce, Hazel, Philip and Bryce Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Burkholder, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Philip, Sue and Jean Smith; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ripka, Paul, Luella, Bernice, Dean and Wava Ripka; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Frazier, Robert and Kenneth Frazier, Mrs. Foster Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith, Don, Carl, and Laura Smith; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stover, Anna Fay Stover, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neff, Mr. and Mrs. John Condo, Mrs. George Ralston, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Ralston, Louise and Gilbert Ralston; Mr. and Mrs. Larue Decker, Alice Decker, Samuel Grove, Junior Noll, Adelyne Bradford, Bob Horner, Leroy Brooks, Florence and Lila Dullen, Gross Gentzel, Harold Mowery, Lee Geary, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Burkholder, Eugene, Carl and Mabel Burkholder.

G. T. V. S. NEWS.

The G. T. V. S. varsity boys basket ball team will play the Phi Mu Delta Fraternity team at Spring Mills on Friday night. Mr. Lohr who did his practice teaching at Spring Mills last month, is a member of this team. The G. T. V. S. alumni team recently defeated Mr. Lohr's team, but considered it a hard game, and a team that will make the present boy's combination step to ward off defeat.

The Alumni girls feel that they can defeat the G. T. V. S. girls' junior varsity, and hope to prove that by the game on Friday. The game last week was very close until several of the first stringers were put into the fray.

Last Friday night at Spring Mills the G. T. V. S. boys took a hard game from the Alumni team with Dr. Fitch of Millheim playing guard during the last three periods. The H. S. team won 32-23. During the first half the Vocational boys earned their margin of victory, outscoring the Alumni in the first quarter 12^6 and continuing during the second quarter by outscoring them 8-4, thus having a lead of 20-12 at the half. The last half was much closer.

The G. T. V. S. girls won 17-11 in a close hard fought game.

Remember Friday evening, April 6th —Senior play at Spring Mills.

PENN STATE STUDENTS GET FEDERAL AID JOBS

As part of the federal relief program, 360 students at the Pennsylvania State College were put on part time jobs this month which are expected to continue until the closing week of college in June. The monthly payroll allotted to Penn State for this work is $5400. The jobs are limited to students who need aid to continue their education. This is the second time Penn State students have been able to avail themselves of federal relief to augment rapidly dwindling funds. Some twenty to thirty men students remained at college during the Christmas vacation to work on campus projects approved under the CWA.

SHEFFIELD MILK PRICES.

About this time there will be paid to the members of the Sheffield Producers Cooperative Association a base price of $1.80½ for every 100 pounds of Grade B milk delivered by them during the month of February, 1934, testing 3.5% of butterfat. This price will be affected by the established freight, grade and butterfat differentials which will be added or deducted as the case may be. The base price for February is 74½ cents a hundred pounds more than the base price for February, 1933.

Attention is again called to the desirability of keeping down the volume of milk. This is best accomplished by getting rid of every diseased and every unprofitable cow and by generous foremilking especially in grade A dairies. Liberal appropriations for the eradication of tubercular cattle will go a long way toward less surplus milk and higher blended prices.

WASHINGTON, D. C., LADS BEAT PA'S AND MA'S TIME

Two Washington, D. C., youths beat their elders' time—made a trip to Centre Hall and got back before orders "to hold" reached Policeman George Vogt.

The youths were Eugene Long, a son of Mr and Mrs. F. S. Long, and his buddy, Kimmel, of the National Capital city. The former youth had visited here frequently with his parents, Mrs. Long is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geiss Wagner, of town. On Wednesday, 7th inst., they took leave from their respective homes without the usual formalities due from lads of 16 and 15 years, respectively. The parents became alarmed, and consequently dispatched a message to the borough's chief law enforcer to hold the boys, a very detailed description of them and their wearing apparel having been made.

In the meantime the boys arrived, and had a pleasant visit with the grandparents and aunt, the latter Mrs. Frank McClellan, and on Saturday morning left here for their homes, arriving that evening at 5:00 o'clock, thus evading Policeman Vogt's grasp in his first call to duty since assuming the important role of city policeman.

PROF. WETZEL LOOKING FORWARD TO COMING HOME

A card received by the Reporter from Prof. J. F. Wetzel, a patient in the Geisinger Memorial hospital, Danville, states:

"Since my operation three weeks ago I have been making steady progress and am anxiously looking forward to the time when I may be in dear old Centre Hall with my family."

STATE COLLEGE FALLS SHORT; C. H. GAINS IN RED CROSS

The membership for the State College Chapter of the American Red Cross for 1934 is 1,078 of which 1,026 are annual memberships at one dollar each, 40 are five dollar memberships, 11 are ten dollar and one is a twenty-five dollar membership, in addition to the memberships a total of $373.05 was donated to the chapter, making a total income of $1,734.05.

It is particularly interesting that outlying districts of the chapter, Millheim, Spring Mills, Centre Hall, Boalsburg, Lemont and Pine Grove Mills, all showed an increase in their memberships and financial support, though the borough of State College showed a decrease.

$300,000 SPENT ON CWA PROJECTS IN CENTRE COUNTY

Up to the present time well on to $300,000 has been spent in Centre county on 50 or more CWA projects, and work is till under way on a score of them with a number of new applications in the hands of the State administrator in Harrisburg awaiting action. While a good percentage of the projects were of the township road variety, there were a number of a more costly and durable variety, notably among which are the construction of Hoffer street, about three-fourths mile in length; improvement at grade school building and reservoir, Centre Hall; building Boy Scout camp and extensive dam, Seven Mountains; construction of athletic field connected with Gregg Township Vocational School; swimming pool, Millheim borough, on the south side of Centre county, not taking account of the half-dozen projects being carried on at State College town and the Pennsylvania State College.

In Bellefonte all the important projects consisted of an entire new sewer system and extensions to the water system from the town's big spring at a cost in excess of $100,000. These arethings the borough has needed badly for years, but the financial condition of the town rendered the work prohibitive.

Bellefonte also has an application on file for a new sewage disposal plant, but what will become of it cannot be foretold. Lesser projects in Bellefonte included painting of the Centre County hospital, the courthouse, school buildings and street improvements.

Over in Philipsburg CWA projects included street and water system improvements, cleaning the streams and construction of a big impounding dam.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS

D. Glenn Moore, of Washington, and John T. Harris, of Harrisburg, are two recently appointed trustees on the Pennsylvania State College board.

The local Odd Fellow lodge will initiate a class of four candidates this (Thursday) evening. A good attendance of members is requested.

Paul Henninger, of Boalsburg, was committed to the county jail Thursday by Parole Officer Harvey E Huff charged with violation of parole.

"Bill' Gruenewald, the So. Dakota horse dealer, advertises in the Reporter this week a public sale of S. Dak. horses which will be held at Bloomsburg on Saturday, March 24th.

While working with a repairing crew on the State highway on Thursday, George Carson fell and injured the wrist of the right arm. He was unable to work for a few days.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Claude Dutrow, east of Centre Hall, on the Keller brothers farm, on Tuesday of last week, but as yet has not been named. He is the fifth child of the couple.

Kenneth Stover, of Coburn, is teaching the Centre Hill school during the illness of the regular teacher, Miss Catharine Hosterman, who is suffering with scarlet fever at her home in Spring Mills.

Miss Gladys Smith, daughter of Postmaster R. M. Smith, has been taken on as an extra clerk in the Weis Pure Food store to take the place of Miss Evelyn Bradford, who has found employment in Bellefonte.

R. T. Hess takes pride in exhibiting a bone finger ring, initialed T. R., cut from a bone in the front leg of a horse shot from under his grandfather, Thomas Hess, while making a cavalry charge during the Civil war.

Harry W. Potter is making preparations to materially improve the buildings on his farm west of Centre Hall. The dwelling house will be newly weatherboarded and painted, and otherwise improved. He is setting a good example to farm owners, many of whom are most woefully neglecting the old farm home buildings.

The Jersey Shore Trust Company and The State Bank of Jersey Shore, are among the nineteen banks in Pennsylvania expecting to open their doors for business within the next thirty days. The Union National Bank, in which Boyd Jordan is the cashier, a third bank in Jersey Shore, opened shortly after the banking holiday a year ago.

The stone foundation walls for the new garage about to be erected by J. S. Boozer to take the place of the one destroyed by fire late last fall, is being laid by Orvis Horner, of Colyer, and Wallace Woomer, of Boalsburg. The new structure will be approximately the same size as the old one, but will be set a few feet back of the building line.

C. E. Flink, who operates one of the milk routes from the Sheffield Farms milk plant, has been unable to perform that service for about two weeks because of illness. It is the first time, since attaining manhood, that he has had to rely on a medical doctor, and is not relishing the confinement to his home and bed more than is becoming an ordinary man. George Rimmey is taking care of the milk route, which is an important one.

A. E. Rimmey, tenant on the Rimmey farm west of Tusseyville, was a brief caller at this office Friday. He has pretty completely recovered from the effects of an operation for appendicitis, but is not up to100 per cent. on some classes of work. Farmers, including Mr. Rimmey, are suffering great inconvenience in his section due to the water systems freezing, obliging them to either haul water or drive their stock to runs, neither of which is giving pleasure.

The publisher of the Huntingdon Monitor, Joseph G. Lesher, is a patient in the J. C. Blair Memorial hospital, Huntingdon, suffering from a severe cold. Mr. Lesher left by bus Wednesday morning, 7th inst., intending to continue on to Florida for a vacation. While in Washington he became ill and decided to return to his home immediately. Word was forwarded to Huntingdon of his return by train and he was removed direct from the train to the hospital where he is resting well. Last week's Monitor stated Mr. Lesher very weak but resting well.

State College council, when it passed the zoning ordinance, seems to have included more restrictions than the borough now fancies farthering. C. E. Disney, who some time ago was arrested for keeping roomers in the restricted residential district, officially known as the U 3 district, was fined, but the council refunded the fine, and on February 26, Mrs. Annie Hartswick, a resident of the district named, caused the re-arrest of Mr. Disney as well as of Mrs. Alex Buchan, a boarding house keeper for violation of the zoning ordinance. After hearing the case, Burgess Leitzell found both guilty. The parties appealed to the county court, and it is planned to hear the case at the May term.
