THE PROBLEM PERSISTS.

(Evening News, Harrisburg, April 7.)
However much some persons may be irritated or even frightened by parts of the New Deal's program, the program ought to less the concern of the Nation than the problem which is lack of the program.

It may seem a long distance from the disappearance of the last of the free land in the West to the complexities of the alphabetical groups by which the present Administration is trying to promote recovery and reconstruction.

The connection, however, is very direct and strong. What is happening is simply that we now are tackling the problems from which we ran away when they were taking shape. We ran because we had a Western frontier to go to; lacking it now, we have to pitch in and try hard to solve the difficulties.

These problems are many and varied, but most of them stem from the fact that it is hard to make a political democracy work smoothly in a land where economic power continually is concentrating itself in the hands of a few.

That development is not a new thing. In its modern form it began to appear directly after the Civil War; and the maladjustments which it brought to American society at that time were profound and disturbing.

But the country at large did little or nothing to remedy matters. The West was open and any man who felt that the cards were stacked against him could move to the frontier and start over again.

The open West was a safety valve which kept the national pressure down. As the Twentieth Century dawned, the frontier vanished, and immediately we began to feel the loss of our safety valve. Theodore Roosevelt's fight against the trusts, the rise of La Follette group in the Senate, Woodrow Wilson's battle for "the new freedom"—these things all testify to the Nation's effort to grapple with the issues it too long had ignored.

Then came certain diversions. The war took our minds off these issues for nearly a decade. Then came the skyrocket of mass production industry, symbolized by development of the auto industry, to provide a temporary new safety valve.

These outlets, too, are gone now. And in the enormous complexities of the New Deal we simply are witnessing our final head-on collision with the problems that should have been attacked two generations ago.

Dr. F. K. White's legion of friends are delighted to know that he has so far recovered from his recent serious illness as to be able to walk out a little on nice days from his home in Phillipsburg. May he soon be enjoying his wonted health.

Deaths

BUSH—George Tome Bush, a life-long resident of Centre county, died in his apartment in the Bush Arcade, Bellefonte, at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon. Death was due to heart trouble at the age of 66 years and 6 months.

The deceased was born in Bellefonte on September 24, 1867, the son of the late Daniel G. Bush, and spent his entire life in this section. Following the death of his father, he assisted his mother in handling the real estate and insurance business for a time. He also conducted a book and stationery store in Bellefonte for a period of years during his life.

Mr. Bush was a graduate of Swarthmore College and was also a member of the class of 1887 at the Pennsylvania State College. He is survived by one brother, Harry P. Bush, of Medford, Oregon. He was unmarried.

MILLER—John Miller, eldest son of Jerry and Margaret (Harpter) Miller, died as the result of a second paralytic stroke, in DuBois, on Friday, at the age of about fifty-two years. He was born in Centre Hall and went to the Clearfield town with the Miller family in 1909, where he engaged as a barber.

There survive him his father, a wife also two sisters and two brothers: Marion, married, at Beaver Falls; Roy, of Salamanca, N. Y., and Harry, in the South; Anna, married, Salamanca, N. Y.

LESHER—The mother of Rev. Louis V. Leshner, Millheim, died at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Paul Riden, Lewistown, at the age of 61 years. Her maiden name was Sarah Salome Sankey, a daughter of John Sankey, Bellefonte. She is survived by her husband, James M. Leshner, and four children.

LINGLE—Thomas J. Lingle, 56 years old, of Williamsport, died at the Williamsport hospital. He is survived by his wife and four children, Mrs. Marcella Winter, of Williamsport; Charles, Bernadine and Doyle Lingle, at home; and the following brothers and sisters: James Lingle, Madisonburg; Mrs. Clayton Frick and Harry Lingle, Lewisburg; Mrs. Jasper Wagner, of Spring Mills, and Miss Gertrude Lingle, of Philadelphia.

Henry Reitz Sr., who has been in poor health for a year, is quite ill.

Mrs. A. J. Hazel is convalescing after an illness of more than a week.

The Dodds horse sale, on Saturday, was attended more largely than heretofore. In the area used for parking by those attending the sale there were over four hundred cars. This did not include cars parked in alleys and on side streets in the section referred to.

MR. AND MRS. W. P. ALEXANDER CELEBRATE 51st WEDDING ANNIVERSARY IN HARRISBURG

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Alexander quietly celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Emerick, 310 Keiso St., Paxtang, Harrisburg, on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander were married April 10, 1883, and lived in Spring Mills until the spring of 1905 when they moved to Yeagertown, and later to Harrisburg.

Mr. Alexander was born February 15, 1862, and Mrs. Alexander was born November 16, 1862. They have four sons and one daughter: Charles of Arizona; Edgar, of Lancaster; Jay, of Lancaster; William, Jr., of Carlisle, and Mrs. J. H. (Lulu) Emerick, Paxtang, Harrisburg, with whom Mr. and Mrs. Alexander make their home.

PFOHL—LEE.

(Allentown Call, April 6.)
Miss Dorothy K. Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lee, Jr., of Spring Mills, and Kenneth Pfohl, Jr., of Salisbury, N. C., were married Thursday afternoon in a pretty wedding ceremony attended by relatives and a few guests in the Old Moravian Chapel in Bethlehem.

The service was read by the Rev. J. Kenneth Pfohl, of Winston-Salem, N. C., bishop of the Southern Province of the Moravian church and father of the bridegroom Mrs. Pfohl, the bridegroom's mother, played "Traumerei" (Schumann) and "O Perfect Love," besides the Lohengrin and Mendelssohn wedding marches on the organ.

The bride wore a simple gown of white lace with matching hat and carried a bouquet of white roses, lilies-of-the-valley and gardenias. She was attended by Miss Lillian Best, a classmate at St. Luke's Hospital for Nurses, who wore peach-colored lace with matching hat and carried pink roses. James Pfohl, brother of the bridegroom, who is head of the music department at Davidson College, Davidson, N. C., was best man.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Pfohl left for Salisbury, N. C., where they will make their home. Mr. Pfohl is a graduate of Moravian College, where he took an active interest in the musical organizations and now holds a government position in Salisbury. Mrs. Pfohl relinquished her duties as supervisor of the obstetrical department at St. Luke's hospital on April 1.

Among those present were Miss Ruth Pfohl, instructor at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, and Miss Elizabeth Pfohl, dean of Mary Baldwin College, Stanton, Va., sisters of the bridegroom, and Donald Pfohl, of Winston-Salem brother of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lee, Jr., and Miss Bettie Lee, Spring Mills; Miss Elizabeth Bierly, Rebersburg; Mr. and Mrs. David Wachstetter, Bethlehem. The latter and Miss Bettie are sisters of the bride.

VON DAY—DETWILER.

Mr. Von Day, of Rockwood, and Miss Virginia Detwiler, of Smulltown, announced their marriage on Easter at Rockwood. They were married October, 1933, at Cumberland, Maryland. Mrs. Day was graduated from the Penna. State College in February. Mr. Day is enrolled in the pre-medical school in the Penna. State College.

The second pronounced spring rain accompanied by electric display and thundering visited this section Friday evening. It was these two showers of rain that had much to do with the rapid growth of wheat plants, grasses and clovers; in fact, it brought them out of their dormant stage.

AFTER 8,000 MILES AS STRONG AS NEW

93%

Per cent of tensile strength remaining in cords after long use in tires:

Miles Run	Supertwist Cord	Ordinary Tire Cords
8,000	93%	82%
16,000	81%	36%

Supertwist Cord—a Good-year patent—stretches, absorbs shocks, and comes back strong! Thoroughly rubberized to resist heat, it gives lasting blowout protection in every ply. Ask us to demonstrate!

The super-soft tires the new 1934 cars are wearing can be easily applied on most 1933 or 1932 cars. Ask for our special offer on the GOODYEAR AIRWHEEL.

Any good new tire is pretty safe from blowouts—but how safe is it after thousands of miles? Think over those percentages above! Remember, the public finds that Goodyears stand up longest—that's why more people buy Goodyears than any other tires. Since Goodyears cost nothing extra, put them on your car!

The famous $5.70 Goodyear Pathfinder—blowout-protected by 4 FULL PLYS of Supertwist Cord insulated with heat-resisting rubber. Also, the Goodyear $4.10 Speedway—blowout-protected—yet costs as little as
