

Spring Mills

A Collection of Newsy Happenings and Personals from Gregg Township's Metropolis.

Miss Phyllis Wagner, of Spring Mills, and her "boy" friend, Stanley Bierly, a Penn State graduate, of Robertsville, motored to Cochransville, during the Easter season, where they visited Miss Wagner's sister, Nona, wife of Harry Detweiler. Later they came back to Harrisburg where Miss Phyllis was a guest of another sister, Bernadine, now Mrs. Allen Trumbell, and family. On Sunday her escort autoed to Harrisburg and brought back with him his "charge."

Mrs. George Gentzel, although quite feeble, is slightly improved.

Mrs. Michael Hammer, of New York City, is a guest at the W. S. Auman home.

The Smeal brothers—Robert and Fred—were week-end visitors at State College.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Krapp, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Swabb and Joseph Bitner autoed to Centre Hill where they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Jacob C. Lee.

Walter Auman is back from New York City where he had been for a week.

Arthur Creeger of Altoona, was a week-end visitor here among friends.

Norman Rosman was with friends in Bellefonte on Sunday.

Another case of scarlet fever developed in Georges Valley when an only son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kerstetter became ill from that disease. The Kerstetter family a short time ago moved from Spring Mills to lower Georges Valley.

Elizabeth Confer was granted a driver's license at the last test given in Bellefonte.

F. W. and Mrs. Blanche Porter, of York, due to the fact that they could not be located for a few days, arrived saturday late for the funeral of Robert Gates Kennelly, uncle of Mrs. Porter. The Porters were traveling at the time of the death. Mrs. Porter is a daughter of Rev. M. Augustus (deceased) and Mrs. Kennelly. The other children of this family are Mrs. Blanche Jammers, New York State, and Donald Kennelly, Williamsport. These nieces and nephew were named heirs of Mr. Kennelly, whose death occurred Monday of last week. Rev. Kennelly's widow, by the way, lives with her daughter, Mrs. Porter.

T. R. Wagner of Williamsport, is laying plans to be along the streams in Centre county at the opening of the trout season, next Monday. He is railway mail clerk with a fixed run between Williamsport and Harrisburg.

The P. R. R. Co. added three to the track force located at Spring Mills. The new men are Mr. Brown, formerly of Milton, now living in the Evangelical parsonage; Bobby Smith, Jr., of Centre Hall, and Mr. Rider.

The Spring Mills band broadcast a program on Monday, evening through the "mike" connected with the Four Jolly Loggers traveling station. The amplifiers performed splendidly, making it possible to enjoy the program throughout the entire Spring Mills environs. The band has a membership of twenty-eight, all males except Frances Zerby, a David Holter, of Howard, who is a paid leader, directed the numbers on the program included Soldier Boy, Flirtation Schottische, Merrimac, Zava Waltz, Them Bases, Washington Post, Over the Waves, National Emblem, Cupid Charms, Microphone, Bliss Eternal, Return of the 47th Regiment.

A birthday party was held for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grasser, in Tidoute, Warren county, on April 1st. Mrs. Grasser's maiden name was Shunk, who is a native of Spring Mills. The birthdays of the couple come on the same day, Mr. Grasser having attained his 83rd year and Mrs. Grasser her 81st. They are in very good health considering their age.

The guests who participated in the event were: Mrs. Annie Eisenhuth, Dena Lingle, niece, Spring Mills; Mrs. John Ramon, niece, Millmont; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stover, Dony and June Stover, Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Will Stover, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Putman, Grandvalley; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Carrier, Warren; J. A. Ettinger, Clarendon; Mrs. Gardner, Tidoute; Mrs. W. H. Gettenberger, Mrs. L. H. Schwab, and Miss Jannett Schwab; John Ramon, Millmont; Mrs. Mary Mealy and Mrs. Cora Carpenter, Mayburg.

Information relative to the gathering was obtained from Mrs. Annie Eisenhuth, housekeeper for George N. Wolf.

Mrs. Wm. Kern, of Patton, is visiting her aunts, Miss Kate Fredericks and Mrs. Hubler.

A. H. Brown, of Dewart, moved into the Evangelical parsonage, vacated by Herbert Gobble. He is employed as a trackman on the railroad.

Wm. Graden and Mrs. Braucher spent a day visiting the latter's daughter, Mrs. Pearl Warner, at Orrstown.

The Four Jolly Logger Boys are a troupe of musicians who do special entertaining and advertising. They gave a program by use of stringed instruments in town Saturday evening. The following members appear on the program: R. T. Eisenhuth; Coburn; Wm. Snyder, Spring Mills; Al Klingler, of Centre Hall, and Joe Roberts, Bellefonte. Their car is equipped with powerful amplifiers similar to those built in large coaches. The Jolly Logger Boys spent the entire evening in Spring Mills. Anyone interested in advertising should see R. T. Eisenhuth, Coburn. The program consisted of advertising for local merchants, business men and for Prof. John W. Decker, who is a candidate for representative in the General Assembly. In addition to the Four Jolly Logger Boys the following groups of musicians rendered short programs: The American Eagle entertainers, of Spring Mills, and Stover Sisters, of Millhelm. The programs were more than pleasing, and the methods of advertising very attractive.

The Spring Mills Fish and Game Association received 10,000 rainbow trout from the Federal Government to be used in their nursery project during the coming season. This is only part of the shipment and more are expected within a few weeks. The representative who delivered the fish was well pleased with the set-up at this place and the methods used by the club in rearing trout. He stated that it was one of the best equipped nurseries in the State to which he makes deliveries.

The Fish & Game Association is sponsoring a card party at the Grange hall in Spring Mills on Thursday evening, April 12th, to which the public is invited. Your support will be appreciated. Admission, 25c.

FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

DIVIDE RHUBARB ROOTS—Rhubarb clumps should be divided every 6 to 8 years. The best time to do this is in the fall but the work may be done in the early spring before growth starts. Each clump can be divided into 4 or 5 pieces with one or more buds on each piece.

SAVE YOUNG PIGS—Seven of every 20 pigs farrowed never reach market. They die from chilling, being lain on by sows, and from thumps, scours, and intestinal parasites. Proper care at farrowing time and for several days afterward will prevent most of the loss.

FEED CHICKS EARLY—Chicks require early feeding. They lose weight rapidly after hatching. Feed should be ready for the chicks as soon as they are placed on the brooder house floor. Unless this is done the chicks are likely to start eating litter.

SEED WINTER-KILLED AREAS—Where winter grain has been winter-killed the ground may be disked or thoroughly harrowed in preparation for sowing of spring barley or oats. In most cases however, the cheapest and most satisfactory plan will be to sow clover or alfalfa as usual and harvest any surviving wheat. Where the wheat is thin or dead the seeding usually will grow rapidly and often will make a cutting of hay in August.

ORCHARDS NEED HUMUS—A soil containing a liberal supply of humus has proved the most desirable for orchards in a long-time experiment at the Pennsylvania State College. This condition assures greater moisture supply, promotes tree growth, and improves the yield.

USE EFFICIENT TOOLS—Sharp points and polished moldboards on the plows save time, make plowing easier, and do a better job. Sharp teeth and disks on the harrows also mean better soil preparation.

PEDESTRIANS FAIL TO USE CARE IN AVOIDING AUTOS

As long as motorists and pedestrians have occasion to use the same thoroughfares there will be accidents involving the two, and it is equally certain that as long as pedestrians fail to follow even the simplest rules for their own safety these accidents will be especially numerous, Secretary Metzger said.

Accident statistics emphasize the danger of walking along a highway with rather than against the traffic. Recent statistics show that the pedestrian who turns his back to automobiles instantly doubles the accident odds against him. Last year 430 pedestrians were injured and 85 were killed while walking on rural roads with their backs to traffic.

In this connection it is worth while to note that safety regulations which direct pedestrians to walk along the left side of the road, facing traffic, dictate that procedure so that the man on foot not only can see cars approaching him but can, if necessary, step out of the way if the motorist does not see him or change his course rapidly enough.

In this situation there are frequently conditions where the pedestrian commands a better view than the motorist of the impending danger. This is particularly true when two cars pass at night or in foggy or rainy weather. At such times a sensible pedestrian will lose no time in giving space for two-way traffic.
