LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Corman now occupy the Mrs. William Slick house on Hoffer street. Mr. Corman is a son of O. T. Corman, Spring Mills, and his wife a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Jodon, Centre Hall.

Rev. J. F. Harkins spoke at the religious service at the Rockview Pentecostal Sunday morning. The boys' Glee Club of the State College High school, under the direction of Richard Dettler, furnished the music.

Mrs. Laura Lee entertained her sister, Mrs. Lizzie Mullen, of Altoona, and the latter's son, Robert, and wife, of Pittsburgh, from Thursday until Sunday. Mr. Mullen is in charge of the Pittsburgh office of a paper box factory located in Michigan.

Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Bitner, of Lewisburg, the former's son, Lawrence Bitner, wife and daughter, of Brookline, Mass., were in Centre Hall for a short time Friday, visiting friends. Mrs. (Dr.) Bitner had been ill for the greater part of the winter, but at present shows much improvement.

R. M. Smith, Miss Laura Runkle and the former's daughter, Miss Gladys Smith, of town, and Mrs. Maude Runkle, of Middletown, formed an auto party on a trip to Cave City, Kentucky, where they were guests of Miss Runkle's nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Gross R. Allison. The party left here in Mr. Smith's car on Friday and returned on Tuesday.

With a view of enjoying the cherry blossoms in the Nation's capital, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Meyer, of Boalsburg accompanied by Mrs. Meyer's sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Weaver and Mrs. Catharine Sauer, of State College, autoed to Washington, D. C., a few days ago. But in the final, the cherry blossoms were not the greatest pleasure they experienced—it was eclipsed by the reunion of the ten children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lucas at the home of one of the daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Ketchum. The other Lucas children not previously mentioned, all in Washington, are Mrs. Gladys DeLarco, Miss Agnes Ray, Robert, Theodore, and William. The gathering had not been pre-arranged and it was the first time the children met together in a long time.

NEW HIGH MARK IN RESOURCES FOR LOCAL FIRST NATIONAL BANK

In an interview with H. L. Ebricht, cashier of the local First National Bank, concerning revival of business in general and especially in our own community, he gave very interesting information concerning the growth of our local banking institution, and the financial condition of our community. He contends that the deposits of any bank reflects the prosperity of the community in which it is located.

He stated that on April 17, 1933, a month after the bank holiday, deposits in our local institution were $269,377.43 and on the day of the interview, April 16th, 1934, deposits totaled $331,982.98, or an increase of $62,605.54. Total resources on that date were $407,428.73, a new high mark since its organization in 1922.

He also stated that there were no special deposits which might increase the total for a short time, but that the increase was due to a general increase in bank balances.

Asked more about the demand for loans and whether loans were being made, he stated that all requests for proper loans were made. Lending money, he further stated, is one of the important functions of banking; but, making sound loans necessitates periodic reductions according to promise and complete repayment within a short time. This means the borrower must be able to submit to satisfactory plans for repayment.

When consideration is given to the fact that our community, served by the local bank, is purely agricultural, the increase in bank deposits is evidence that agriculture has improved.

OPERETTA TO BE GIVEN BY GLEE CLUB OF C. H. H. S., SATURDAY

Featuring a tropical island with pirates, gypsies, moonlight, and haunting melodies, the Centre Hall High school glee club, under the direction of Mrs. G. Malcolm Smith, will present its fourth annual operetta in the Grange Auditorium, Saturday night, April 28, at 8 o'clock.

The cast, approximately fifty members, includes ten leads, two dancing choruses of twelve girls and nine boys respectively, a girls' trio, and a large mixed singing chorus.

Sara Odenkirk '34, cast in the part of Peggy, and Ruth Hartley '34, play the ingenue roles, with Reuben Rickett '34, and Robert Bradford '34, as juvenile male leads. Mr. and Mrs. Mayfield, Peggy's parents who own the tropical island, are played by Ruth Reiber '34 and Robert Horner '36.

Peggy's insatiable love of romance is temporarily appeased when the boys, dressed as pirates and led by Bill Manning (Robert Bradford) attack her and her friends on the moonlit island of Pandora. Don Stirling (Reuben Rickett) who helped to plan the attack, rescues the panic-stricken maidens and proves his heroic proclivities to the complete satisfaction of Peggy.

Woodrow Bradford '36 and Kenneth Frank '36, add comedy in the roles of McGinnis and Gasaway, who complicate the plot by contending for the ownership of the island. Their comic song and dance is a feature of the first act. Donald Ruble '34, cast in the role of the lethargic old negro, Bingo, combines a whining southern dialect with antics to provide comedy throughout the performance.

Mabel Burkholder '34, as Jane Fisher, the club hostess, sings a mezzo-soprano part.

Special features of the program are a girls' trio composed of the Hess sisters, a Spanish dance by Sara Odenkirk, several interpretive dances, and the pirates dance and drill. The music is written in three-part harmony throughout most of the operetta.

Mrs. Smith has selected a group of soloists to act in a managerial capacity: Carl Burkholder, business manager; and Alice Foust and Jack McClendhan, property managers. As electrician, James Bradford '36, is responsible for the lighting effects.

Tickets for the performance (adults 25c, children, 20c) may be secured from Freda Burkholder '35, or at the box office on the night of the operetta. No seats are reserved. If the weather should be cold, the performance will be held in the Grange Hall instead of the Grange Auditorium.

CORRECTION.

The Reporter erred last week in stating that Roy Royer was one of two men who looted mountain cabins and had been arrested and jailed. The name of Fred Royer should have been used instead of Roy Royer. The confusion of names was occasioned by the information that it was in Roy Royer's stable or barn that the goods identified as camp property were found. The writer regrets having made this error, and makes this correction without request.

On Saturday forenoon a special session of court was held, Judge Fleming hearing cases not requiring trial by jury; among these was the case referred to above.

MILLHEIM BOYS PLAY WITH REVOLVER; JOHN MECHLEY SHOT

John Mechley, approaching his eleventh birthday, was shot in the right leg by a companion, Philip Reifsnyder, of about the same age, while the pair with several other boys were playing in their shack on the hill close to the site of the proposed swimming pool in Millheim. The accident happened Saturday forenoon. After a preliminary examination by a local physician the boy was sent to the Geisinger hospital where X-ray pictures show the pellet from a .22 calibre revolver to be lodged close to the knee, the point of entrance having been six or seven inches higher on the right side of the limb.

While the wound is painful, it is not considered particularly serious, assuming no complications develop.

The youth injured is a son of Saul Mechley, and the lad who had the revolver when it exploded, a son of Joseph Reifsnyder, both of Millheim.

MISS MARY DASHEM URGES APPENDICITIS OPERATION, FRIDAY

At the Lewistown City Hospital, at 5:30, Friday, Dr. Caspady performed an emergency operation for the removal of the appendix. Miss Mary Dasheim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dasheim, of Potter township, being the patient. After the operation the surgeon informed the mother that the daughter secured service in the nick of time, since the appendix was about to burst.

The young lady, a member of the senior class in the Centre Hall High school, attended classes as usual, but in the afternoon was obliged to seek medical aid. The physician in charge recommended an immediate operation, and as a result she was taken to the Lewistown hospital as soon as possible by Miss Helen Bartholomew, accompanied by Mrs. Dasheim and Miss Elizabeth Bartholomew.

NEW YOUTH MOVEMENT IS REPORTED IN PENNSYLVANIA

Headed by a small coterie of State officials, a new youth movement in Pennsylvania—with reduction of the voting age limitation as its chief objective—is reported gaining steady momentum.

Under present plans, the movement will reach its climax next year when it seems probable, a convention will be held to change the Pennsylvania Constitution.

Under the Federal Constitution, however, no definite age limit is set, the only prescription being that, in order to vote for president and other national offices, voters in each state must meet the requirements of the State in which they live.

As one of their principal arguments toward reducing the voting ages to at least 19, proponents point to the fact that, in the World War, youths of 19 were drafted for war duty, an instance it is declared of a certain proportion of the country's population being forced into action by men in whose choice they had no voice.

It is estimated by lowering the voting age to nineteen years that 600,000 persons would be added immediately to the voting lists in Pennsylvania, and approximately 8,000,000 throughout the state.

M. E. CONFERENCE NOTES.

It appears no new men will be admitted to the conference unless they now hold appointments as supply preachers. This is due to the fact that there is an oversupply of ministers.

In the class of candidates for supply, and applicants for admission on trial, were these:

Burton C. Bastuscheck, of Port Matilda; Walter F. Glenn, of Curfva, attending Dickinson Seminary; C. L. Gordon, of Concord; William Gould, of Rouzeville; Jesse K. Gunder, of Jersey Shore; Frank E. Hammaker, of Gettysburg; Hammond C. Mitchell, of Burnt Cabins; Carl C. Held, of Berwick; Benjamin S. Herold, of Trevorton; J. Warren Maclay, Altoona; Roland B. Ritter, Danville; Newton D. Shrey, of New Millport, and Joseph E. Wagner, of Needmore.

The statistician gave these figures: Gain in membership, 1,466; church members, 107,704; Sunday school enrollment, 107,900; average attendance for Sunday schools, 69,963 in 561 church school units; there was a gain of eight Sunday schools.

The churches contributed $494,095 last year for ministerial support. There was a deficit in salaries, however, of $23,646.

Considerable gains were registered, in the items of church improvement and debt reductions. Improvements amounted to $98,104, an increase over the previous year of $8,776. Old debts were reduced by $56,294, which was $15,000 greater than the reduction of the preceding year.

Church property over the conference is valued at $5,881,450. Offsetting this is $850,695 represented by trust accounts and endowments for individual congregations.

RE-ORGANIZATION OF GRANGE ENCAMPMENT & FAIR COMM.

The members of the Grange Encampment and Centre County Fair board of management are elected by the Centre County Pomona Grange, the county organization under whose ownership and control this great institution has grown and developed, and, at the last meeting of this body the several members of the committee, terms expiring, were again elected for three years and reorganization of the general committee for the year 1934 and the 61st anniversary became a very simple matter as each member had served the previous year well and faithfully in the selected capacity. In accordance, by unanimous action of the officers and superintendents were all re-elected and are as follows:

Camp equipments were discussed and the question of purchasing new tents given due attention; space in a number of the departments. All this indicates what varied activities we may expect to see on Grange Park for the next three months in preparation for the great Grange Fair which opens Saturday, August 25 and closes Friday, August 31.

THEOLOGICAL STUDENTS MUST PAY BILLS BEFORE GRADUATING

"Riding Charity through College and Seminary to secure an education," was denounced as "very dangerous and pernicious habit bordering on the edge of racketeering" by Dr. George W. Richards, President of the Theological Seminary at Lancaster before the 18th Annual Session of the Eastern Synod, assembled in Hain's Church, Wernersville, Wednesday morning session.

Dr. Richards stated that either through carelessness poor management, or negligence, certain students approach graduation with unpaid room and board bills. He asked Synod to sanction the policy of withholding graduation from such delinquent students. Synod unanimously endorsed Dr. Richards in his contention, as a means of breaking up what might develop in a very unwholesome practice by some thoughtless men who are assisted in their studies by kindhearted and benevolent-inclined parishioners.
