While laying brick on the construction work of the Booser garage, Joseph Wolf received an injury to his left eye that since prevented him from performing that work. The injury was caused by a nail fastened to a plumb line striking him. The garage walls were completed by Luther Zorby, of State College, and Wallace Woomer, of Boalsburg.

Clyde Fetzer, at Linden Hall, on one of the Boal farms, appears to have been one of the first farmers in this section to sow oats. Last week the grain was put into the ground by Guy Brooks on Monday, and by Charles Weaver at Penns Cave Station, on Friday. There may be others who performed the work during that week, but their sowing was not reported to this office. In Nittany Valley the sowing of the oat crop was more general during the third week in April, and this week it is the regular program on the farms all through Penns Valley.

Mrs. H. E. Fye very graciously entertained the members of the Senior Service class in the Lutheran Sunday school at her home on Thursday evening. The ladies brought the refreshments in antique dishes, which brought to the table an array of ware of early periods—the embellishments of tables surrounded by the grandparents, and in other instances generations more remote, of the participants in the affair. The class after discussing the merits of the "Big Sister" movement adopted the plan and great are the expectations of pleasures to come from it during the next year.

Jasper Brungart, one of the best known citizens in Brush Valley, suffers somewhat from shock due to the Chevrolet coupe he was operating striking an electric light pole between Madisonburg and Ebersburg. The car was badly damaged and it was almost a miracle that the aged auto driver escaped serious injury or loss of life. When discovered he was unable to explain what had happened, but from appearances the wreck may have been due to the bursting of a rear tire. Mr. Brungart was traveling alone, having been at the funeral of Mrs. Jacob Hazel, at Madisonburg, on Saturday.

Two Pauls—Paul Bogdan, Potters Mills, and Paul Orndorf, Woodward—met Friday afternoon at Old Fort without having had a formal introduction, and since their communications are more formal than heretofore. Both parties were driving Chevrolet cars, Bogdan going north and Orndorf south, it being the latter's intention to go east at Old Fort, and at this juncture the cars came together, resulting in considerable damage being done to the Bogdan car. The gentlemen could not agree as to their rights and consequently a partolman was called. The difficulties have not yet been adjusted. Mr. Orndorf was accompanied by his wife, and Mrs. Bogdan by his mother, Mrs. Spise Williams. The latter suffered from bruises and shock. The others escaped injury.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

FIT COLLAR TO HORSE—A horse does his work most efficiently when his collar and harness fit. When the collar is too large it will interfere with easy breathing. The harness should be adjusted so that the point of draft pull comes from 2 to 5 inches from the point of the shoulder, depending upon the size of the horse.

PLANT GOOD SEED—The use of good seed is indispensable to economical potato production. Good seed is free from diseases which result in poor stands and lack of vigor or which may be transmitted to the growing crop.

TEST SEED CORN—Testing affords the only way of knowing before seed corn is planted whether it will grow. Reports from all over the state indicate that seed corn is in very poor condition this spring. A great deal of trouble and loss of time can be avoided by careful testing of the corn intended for planting.

BE SURE RODS ARE RIGHT—Lightning rods should be checked to see that the ground connections are firmly placed 10 feet deep in the earth or are at least 12 feet out from the corner of the building where it is impossible to reach the required depth.

SOIL MOVEMENT A PROBLEM—Soil erosion is a problem that affects the life of everyone. Marked changes are occurring in the course of many streams. Undesirable soil movement is noted on great areas of watershed land. Problems to be faced in the immediate future include supplying abundant water for domestic and industrial use, regulating stream flow for water power and navigation, and prevention of floods and soil erosion.

HENRY T. TODD, SR. FOR STATE SENATOR, HAS FINE RECORD

In the candidacy of Henry W. Todd, Sr., of Philipsburg, for the office of State Senator for the 34th Senatorial District, comprising the counties of Centre and Clearfield, subject to the rules governing the Democratic Party at the Primaries, May 15, 1934, the voters of this district have a most exceptional opportunity of nominating and later on, electing one of the most outstanding candidates ever presented for their approval, to this important office from this district.

Henry, as he is better known to his host of friends, is a candidate rather because of popular demand than for his personal ambition to enter the political field. He is the type of citizen who feels his responsibility to his community, his State and his Country.

Born in Philipsburg, he entered his business life at the age of seventeen as an employee in the Moshannon Banking Company, which later became the First National Bank of Philipsburg. Later, he successfully engaged in the mining business in this district, extending his interests to include the fire brick business at Osceola Mills, and the quarrying of limestone at Salona, on the border of Centre and Clinton counties.

Aside from these business activities, all of which he heads as president, he again became interested in the banking business. At present, he is president of the First National Bank of Osceola Mills, and also of the First National Bank of Philipsburg, both institutions having proven veritable creditors to their communities during the stress of the recent banking crisis, closing only on the President's general order, and opening immediately after that order was lifted.

In his recreational hours, he is an ardent sportsman, fishing and hunting actively since boyhood. He loves the forests and streams of his native State. Those interested in the popular sports, hunting and fishing, and those interested in conservation could have no warmer advocate of their interests at Harrisburg than Harry Todd.

Indorsed by both parties, he served four years as Burgess of Philipsburg in a most efficient and satisfactory manner, and characteristically, without ostentation, donated his salary to the borough in beautifying the public grounds and preserving the trees thereof.

He has been a large employer of labor during his life, and the fact that today many of his ardent supporters are a candidate for State Senator, are former and present employees, speaks a volume as to the high esteem in which they hold him.

He is progressive, fearless and has the complete confidence of all who know him. He has always been a loyal Democrat, and is squarely back of our great President and his liberal policies. He is against child labor, is

PAY THE BONUS UNDER the DIXON PLAN

THE SOLDIERS' BONUS will cost approximately $2,400,000,000 and is due in 1945. Instead of waiting until 1945 to issue bonds and pay hundreds of millions of dollars in interest, why not pay the bonus in full at once with cash, in the following manner:

Print $2,400,000,000 in paper money and pay the bonus. It would put money into circulation. Some of this money would be spent for clothing, furniture, radios and new automobiles. This would give factory workers more work and the transportation industries would have the job of transporting the merchandise to the jobber and consumer, all of which would help President Roosevelt's recovery program. Here is how to retire out of circulation the $2,400,000,000 of greenbacks:

Government employees, which includes Congressmen and Senators and employes of States, cities, counties or any political sub-division, do not pay any income tax on their salaries or fees they receive. Why not make these employees pay the same income tax that they would pay if they were working for a private individual.

During the past 5 years many working men, farmers and business men have been struggling to keep their heads above water and at the same time many of those holding public office have been drawing good salaries and paying no income tax.

Some Judges draw $15,000 a year and pay no income tax. The Register of Wills and Deeds of Allegheny County will receive approximately $240,000 this year as fees settling the R. B. Mellon Estate, and he will not pay any income tax on the $240,000. Approximately $600,000,000 a year can be collected in this manner and each year use this money to retire the greenbacks issued to pay the bonus, at the end of four years the bonus greenbacks would all be out of circulation.

No stock market losses or losses from private business should be deducted from the net income from these salaries or fees. The soldiers were called upon to do a temporary job. Why not call upon greenback money and political office holders to do a temporary job. The bonus can be paid without one cent of cost to the working man, the farmer or business man and not one cent would be paid to the bankers for interest.

A man who worked in the P. R. R. shops for 64 1/2 a 10 hour day, 14 years of practical business experience, always paid union scale of wages, never had any labor trouble and employs 250 to 300 men.

President and founder of the Dixon Motor Truck Co., Inc. for 14 years. A man who has brains to think and does not need others to do his thinking.

Will support President Roosevelt's Social Legislation.

He is a progressive leader and not a trailer.

for higher wages and shorter hours, and believes in adequate provision for the aged, and what he believes in and promises to do, he will leave no stone unturned to accomplish.

Our Democratic State Chairman has asked for candidates of tried and proven business experience. Henry Todd represents this and more. He knows the needs of this district and will represent it, when sent to Harrisburg, for the best interests of all and no particular class.

A Brooklyn, N. Y., hop salesman was detained here for a few hours on Friday for a motor vehicle code violation much to his dislike, but his company acted speedily when appealed to over the wire. The salesman was David L. Powdermaker, and the violation driving by the stop sign at Old Fort. Patrolman T. G. Wells happened to be within a distance of vision of the violation, and escorted the Brooklyn man to the office of C. W. Slack, J. P., Centre Hall, and after hearing the complaint of the patrolman and rebuttal by the defendant, the fine was fixed at five dollars, with costs of two dollars. The problem confronting Powdermaker was how to pay a $7.00 bill with $3.00, which was all the money the man had. The car was ordered impounded in the Miller garage, and that eliminated any effort to escape. The wire was resorted to, and in an hour and five minutes Powdermaker's financial standing was raised from $3.00 to $10.00. The fine and costs were paid, leaving the traveler with the original $3.00 in his pockets for expenses.

EXCELLENT REASONS WHY J. BANKS KURTZ Should be Returned to CONGRESS

An introduction of Congressman J. Banks Kurtz to the people of the Twenty-third Congressional District, where he is so well and favorably known, would be useless were it not for the fact that he is a candidate on the Republican ticket for nomination and election. Most everybody knows Mr. Kurtz; perhaps all do not know he is a candidate to succeed himself. Because of his outstanding and commanding position in Congress, he should be returned to his place there in the Nation's time of peril.

Note what Champ Clark, long a Congressman from Missouri and former Speaker of the House of Representatives says: "It is an unwise performance for any district to change representatives at short intervals. A new congressman, no matter what his potential abilities, is unable to realize very much for his constituents, his district at large, the state or nation in his first few terms." Mr. Kurtz has been through it all. He is at the head of the class. He knows and the people in the district know he knows, and that he is in accord with their desires. It would therefore seem like the most fatal thing a district could do to elect another just because he is ambitious, for, says Mr. Clark further, "No man should be elected to congress simply to gratify his ambition. All members should be elected for the good of the country."

Mr. Kurtz has served his constituency intelligently, faithfully and well and we cannot conceive by what logic a constituency could even think of trading him off for a new and untried representative whose chief claim could only be the gratification of an ambition. He should be elected for the good of the country.

The nomination and subsequent election of Congressman Kurtz are numbered among the expected events of 1934 to be just as certain as the seasons. The Primaries are May 15. Registered Republicans should assist in making his nomination and election as nearly unanimous as possible.
