Mrs. Will Derone and little Joan, of Naugatuck, Conn., and H. H. Showers, of Pleasant Gap, were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mullinger last Sunday. Mrs. Derone is a sister of Mr. Mullinger. Henry Hettinger and daughter, Miss Martha, of Altoona, visited the former's brothers last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Braucht and Miss Henrietta, of Coalport, autored to Berryville, Va., last week to visit the mother of Mrs. Braucht, Mrs. Wm. Sinkabine, and brought her along back to the home of Mrs. H. S. Meyer, who is also a daughter, and then took her along to their home in Coalport.

St. Mark's Lutheran Sunday school will have their children's day services on Sunday evening, June 10th.

The Mother's Day service rendered in the Methodist-Reformed Sunday school on Sunday was a delightful one. Most of the service engaged the skill of the children; especially was this the case as to music. The superintendent of the school is J. C. Robinson, who always aims to make every session one of interest and instruction.

Mrs. Charles McCool, formerly Miss Grace Ripka, of Centre Hill, is confined to bed with measles. Although regarded as a child's disease, it is severe in many instances when adults must go through its various stages.

William Young, tenant on the Allison farm north of Spring Mills, also known as the Wesley farm, was seriously injured when he was thrown from a tractor on backing it up to the plow. He was alone when the accident happened, and was unable to tell just what did happen, but it is thought the tractor wheels passed over both hands and a foot, the three members being badly crushed. He was taken to the hospital and is a patient there at this time.

Mr. Young has been unfortunate in a number of ways during the recent years he farmed. Twice the barn on the farms helved burned, the last fire occurring on one of the Colonel Bost farms, formerly a Meyer farm, below Boalsburg, from which place he moved to Gregg township.

Mrs. Samuel Mosser, north of the Salem Reformed church, is in a very delicate physical condition due to repeated heart attacks. She has been confined to bed for six weeks, and at present there are slight prospects for recovery.

The Grasmeyer children, who live with their parents on the Jas. S. Reish farm, are experiencing difficulty in recovering from scarlet fever.

Prof. H. C. Hayes and Miss Tschudy, both on the Gregg Twp. Vocational school faculty, are the chaperons who accompanied the graduating class to Washington, on Monday morning. The class is comprised of the following thirteen members: Katharine Auman, Geraldine Bitner, Stella Duck, Emma Grove, Rosella Hettinger, Dean Ilgen, Obert Ilgen, Glenn Long, Stover Musser, Bernice Smith, Lois Wise, Helen Zettle, and Camron Musser.

It is a pleasure to note that the athletic field connected with the Vocational school will be completed during the forepart of the summer. The building and draining of the field was originally a CWA project, but the funds allotted were insufficient to complete the work, although a large per cent. of the work has been done. The remainder of the work necessary to bring the field up to the first standard set for it will be contributed by citizens—farmers and others—who have a deep interest in all the activities of the school.

Baseball players and fans in and about Spring Mills have become inoculated with a germ that is steadily raising their temperature, and the result will be more baseball this summer. The spirit is on to organize a club and train a team sufficiently well to be able to enter the Centre County Baseball League next season. Boys are harking back to the days when the Spring Mills ball teams stepped on the field with little fear of defeat, and it is this spirit that is again desired. Home talent is their idea—Spring Mills for Spring Mills.

Messrs. Adam Condo and Gerald Johnson have been selected to care for the fish in the troughs and ponds.

Tax Collector Harold Stover is able to make an unusual report as to the collection of taxes. At this period there is less tax uncollected than has been the case during the past few years, and liens in smaller numbers have been entered. This is due to two causes—first, a bit more money floating and a more hopeful spirit among farmers for better returns for their labor, and, second, the full performance of the duty of the tax collector.

Coleman Wingard, the very efficient postmaster, is confined to bed with a severe case of tonsillitis since Saturday. He had been complaining for a few days previous, but was not alarmed until the end of the week. The post office is being taken care of by Pauline Rossman in a very satisfactory way.

Mrs. Thomas, mother of Dr. George C. Thomas, is a guest at the Thomas home.

Mrs. Mary Dauberman, of Centre Hall, visited her sister, Mrs. H. F. Rossman one day last week. She is a native of Penn Hall, and a former school teacher; a school teacher at a time when majoring in one subject did not fill the requirements to step on the platform of the most inconspicuous school.

Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Bitner and Mr. and Mrs. Scott McMurtre autored to Lewisburg where they visited relatives of the latter couple, and were served a veritable banquet at each meal.

Mrs. Vera Meyer is using the Dodge truck purchased recently to better conduct her business that of butchering.

Paul A. Noll came up from Sunbury to visit Mrs. Noll who is housekeeper for her father, R. D. Musser.

Robert Hettinger, who had been ill for some time, is able to be about again and easily walks from his home at Penn Hall to Spring Mills. His brother, William H., has more difficulty to locomote, being obliged to use two crutches to do so, due to injuries received in a fall some time ago.

Boalsburg.

Miss Marian Dale accompanied Miss Jessie Haven to her home in Smethport for a week-end visit.

Fred Lombarger and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hess drove to Greensburg on Saturday and were accompanied on the return home on Sunday by Miss Anna Hess.

Mrs. Katharine Harpster Moore is spending some time with her sister, Mrs. Barr and Miss Elizabeth Harpster at the Irwin apartment.

Miss Anna Sweeney returned home Thursday after spending the past winter at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Jacobs, in Centre Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Stuart, of Crafton, visited friends in this vicinity over the week-end.

Albert Meyer, of Pittsburgh, is spending an enforced vacation at the home of his mother, owing to an injury to a finger.

Mrs. Margaret Kuhn's Mothers' Day guests were her son, Harry Kuhn, and family, of Williamsport, Miss Blanche Rowe of Harrisburg, and Miss Anna Sweeney.

Sunday evening, May 26th, at 8:00 o'clock Rev. Wink will deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the H. T. V. S. in the Reformed church. Commencement exercises on Friday evening. The class, accompanied by Leroy Freeby, principal, are enjoying a sight-seeing trip to Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stover of Altoona, were visitors in town on Saturday evening.

Miss Frances Miller, her mother, and Mr. and Mrs. Fleming, of Lewistown, were callers in town on Sunday.

The friendly presence of Dr. George C. Hall, of Wilmington, Del., who with his wife, Mrs. Sophia Keller Hall, for many years spent the summers in our town, will be missed by our citizens who learned of his passing last Thursday at Wilmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brouse and children, of Harrisburg, were over-Sunday visitors at the Mrs. Emma Brouse home.

Mrs. R. R. Stuart accompanied her cousins, Ellen and Carthryn Dale, on a drive to Bellefonte on Saturday, spending the time calling on friends and shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Currier of State College and the Misses Catharine and Marie GINGERICH, of Boalsburg, attended the graduation exercises at the Phillipsburg hospital on Thursday night.

Montgomery pitched, and, in the same breath, Centre Hall lost.

The tall masterful pitcher of the Bellefonte team continues to be the same enigma to the local batters as in former years. However, on Saturday, he was touched up for plenty hits,—enough to win any ball game,—but the real trouble lay with the local defense. It was putrid! In the third inning, with an opportunity to retire the side runless, an infield error defeated a double play, and the flood waters broke loose. Bellefonte scored nine runs before the batting spree was over, and the game from then on lost its interest for the fans. Paul Martz was relieved by Jamison in the sixth inning. The score:

SCHOOLS FACE CUT IN STATE SUBSIDIES FOR SCHOOL YEAR

County and district school superintendents have been notified by the department of public instruction, officials said Friday, that the State subsidy for next year will be reduced approximately 15 per cent.

This reduction was made necessary it was said, because of smaller appropriations made for the present biennium by the 1933 general assembly.

school subsidies, it was admitted that amounts customarily paid to local districts would have to be reduced sometime during the two-year period.

The department of public instruction made no reduction in the distribution of school subsidies for the current year on the strength of an opinion from the Attorney General's office.

Although it was known a year ago that smaller subsidies would be necessary before June, 1935, the end of this biennium, education department officials said, the reductions are not being made without previous notice to the school districts.

Instead of making the reductions effective during the entire two years, it was decided to wait until the 1934-1935 school year, since the local school district budgets for 1933-34 had been prepared by the time the appropriation bill of 1933 was approved.
