MILLHEIM AGAIN SETS THE PACE.

An article, "Millheim Sets the Pace," appeared in the Pennsylvania Farmer of Sept. 5, 1925: "A village of less than 100 inhabitants and two and one-half miles from a railroad, owns what is probably the finest municipal theatre for a town of its size in the U. S. It was not a gift from a millionaire but was erected through the constant efforts of the Ladies' Civic Improvement Club of that town."

The Municipal Theatre opened under the management of C. G. Hassinger with the picture "Blood and Sand," the picture being of the silent type. Since that time there has been a change of management and constant improvements of the theatre project. On May 27, 1933, the Municipal Theatre threw open its doors to the public under new management, showing only the latest in sound motion pictures. The theatre was also decorated throughout with acoustical tile which was necessary before reopening for sound pictures. The theatre operated under these conditions for a year, bringing it up to the present date now we are celebrating our "First Anniversary" of sound pictures by installing the latest sound system, and opening with a midnight show, Sunday, May 27th, at 12:01 A. M., the picture being Eddie Cantor in "Roman Scandals." This picture will also be shown Monday and Tuesday. The attraction for Wednesday and Thursday will be "Broadway Thru a Keyhole," a musical comedy. On the stage Thursday night will be the E. P. V. High School band of 24 players under the direction of S. Hargies. "Estimo," the only known motion picture showing the life of natives of the far North will be the attraction for Friday and Saturday of "First Anniversary" week.

It is our hope that we may continue to serve this community in the future as we have in the past, showing only the best in sound motion pictures. Manager, Drew E. Kolb and Millheim Civic Club.

CENTRE COUNTY HOSPITAL NOTES.

Patients in the Centre County hospital from the south side of the county are noted: Harold F. Lewis, of Harris township, was discharged Sunday. Gray P. Brown, aged 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown, of Potter township, was admitted Sunday for surgical treatment. John W. Callahan, of Harris township, became a surgical patient Sunday. Robert L. Callahan, of Harris township, became a surgical patient Sunday. Paul F. Klinger, of Harris township, became a surgical patient Sunday. There were forty patients in the hospital at the beginning of the week.

The sale of real estate of the late Hanns Kerstetter, at Coburn recently, conducted at the direction of the heirs, the timber tract along Penn creek was knocked down to the Meyer Lumber Co. for $1950. The Kerstetter homestead in Coburn was not sold. The property was bid up to $850, which was considered too low a bid to accept.

Deaths

LUSE.—The departure out of this life of Beatrice Esther Luse, a young mother, wife of George A. Luse, created a sad spirit in many households hereabouts. The death occurred in the Centre County hospital, on Thursday of last week from septicaemia fever. On May 2nd she gave birth to a son, and a few days thereafter she was stricken with the disease named, which failed to respond to treatment by her physicians.

Funeral services were held from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Edward Brown, near Pottery Mills, on Saturday, interment having been made at Centre Hall. Rev. B. F. Bieber, of Butler, who married her on May 24, 1933, was in charge of the funeral services. Rev. W. W. Barker, of Shippenburg, who admitted her to church membership, and Rev. S. F. Greenhoe, her pastor at the time of death, assisted.

Mrs. Luse was aged twenty-six years, less one day. She was graduated from the Centre Hall high school in the class of '28, and in 1930 from Shippenburg State Teachers College. She taught school in Potter township for three successive terms. She and her husband set up housekeeping in Centre Hall a short time after their marriage.

Beside the infant son, George Albert, her husband, and parents, there survive her the following brothers and sisters: Mildred, Dorothy, and Wanda, at home; Malcolm and Harry, Spring Mills; and Mrs. Lewis Garbrick, Centre Hall; also, her grandmother, Mrs. Josie Brown, State College.

TREASTER.—Alvina Jane, wife of John F. Treaster, Millheim, died on Saturday at the home of M. H. Smith, at whose home she lived. Interment was made in Fairview cemetery, Millheim, on Tuesday, Rev. A. C. Paulhamus, pastor of the Evangelical church, officiating.

The deceased was the daughter of Jesse and Rebecca Adams, and was born at Loganton, and was aged 77 years, 10 months and 13 days. She was the last surviving member of her family. Death was due to paralysis.

COLE.—Jacob H. Cole, aged 86 years, formerly of Coleville, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Love, in Altoona, Friday morning, with infirmities incident to advanced age. He was born in Houserville. He is survived by six daughters and two sons; also by 17 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held from the home of Mrs. Aikley, on Monday, with burial in Union cemetery, Bellefonte.

ABBOTT.—What was most dear to Mrs. Mary (Meyer) Abbott, of Rebersburg, was tenderly laid to rest in the Rebersburg cemetery, Tuesday afternoon. Reference is made to the burial of Martha Jane, only daughter of Mrs. Abbott, whose death occurred on Saturday at the Geisinger hospital, Danville, where the child was being treated for several weeks for lymphosarcoma. She was born at Hawthorn, N. J., July 1, 1912, and was therefore aged 12 years, 10 months and 18 days. Beside the mother, there survives the child a brother, Harlan E.

Funeral services were conducted from the home by Rev. Paul M. Miller, pastor of the Evangelical church, of which congregation Martha Jane was a youthful yet faithful member. Interment was made at Rebersburg.

SHEEDER.—The Rev. Benjamin R. M. Sheeder, a retired minister of the Lutheran church, and who was well known throughout lower Penna Valley because of his long pastorate at the Aaronsburg church, died at his home in Altoona. While he had not been in good health for some time he had been seriously ill only about two weeks.

He was a native of Berlin, Somerset county, and had lived until June 12th would have been 74 years old. He was a member of the Old Fort lodge Free and Accepted Masons, at Centre Hall. Surviving him are his wife and one daughter. Interment was made in Altoona.

East Penna Valley High school this (Thursday) evening will graduate a class of eighteen: Violet Roto, Donald Wert, Esther Krape, Paul Thompson, Hilda Bohn, Homer Gramley, Hilda Hosterman, Gladys Gilbert, Isabelle Merryman, Freda Confer, Malvin Vance, Grace Burd, Florence Brown, Kermit Rosemap, Charles Kreamer, Nolan Shively, Mahlon Bailey and Matthew Smith.

A team of horses hitched to a land roller and driven by Clyde Wetzel, farmer living in the Rockview Penitentiary site, frightened at passing automobile, throwing the driver from his seat in such a manner that the heavy roller passed over him. He was badly injured and died shortly after being taken to the Centre County hospital. John Fishburn, a neighbor, drove the car that frightened the team after the men and made friendly greetings. Mr. Fishburn secured help and took the injured man to the hospital. He was 71 years of age, and is survived by one son, Harry, at home. Charles Wetzel, of Bellefonte, is a brother.

Edward N. Jones, State Director of the National Emergency Council, has appointed Charles S. Wyand of State College as chairman of the Consumers' Council for Centre county. In the near future announcement will be made of the complete membership of the committee.

HELEN RISHEL IS ELECTED HEAD OF ECONOMICS GROUP IN LEBANON COUNTY

Miss Helen Rishel, Lebanon county home economics adviser since 1928, has been signally honored by her election to the presidency of the Pennsylvania Home Economics Association.

Miss Rishel, with Miss Violet Zimmerman, Home Economics instructor in the South Lebanon township schools, attended the annual association convention in Pittsburgh Friday and Saturday, May 4 and 5. She succeeds Laura W. Drumond, of Temple University.

After being graduated from the Spring Mills high school, and later the Pennsylvania State College, Miss Rishel was elected teacher of home economics in the Palmyra high school. She served two years there and was named to the county position where she has served efficiently in that capacity.

In addition to her numerous duties as county advisor, she has been active in organizations of her profession. She had been editor of "The News Letter," the official publication of the Penna. Home Economics Association for the last two years.

The convention will be held in Harrisburg next year.

Miss Rishel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Rishel, of Centre Hall, and resides in Palmyra.

EMERGENCY RELIEF BOARD NAMES TIME TO SEE VISITORS

The Bellefonte District office of the Emergency Relief Board has arranged a schedule of office hours at which time it will be possible for persons desiring help to interview the visitor for their particular district.

Millheim, Miles, Penn. Haines, Gregg, and Potter townships, at the American Legion rooms, Millheim, Tuesday, 9:00 until 12 A. M. Wm. R. Ishler, Visitor.

Bellefonte, Coleville, Prossertown, and Red Roost, Friday, 9:00 until 12:00 A. M., at Bellefonte office; Miss Pearl Houtz, Visitor.

State College, Ferguson, Harris and College townships, American Legion rooms, State College, Thursday, 2:30 until 3:00 P. M.; Gilbert M. Strunk, Visitor.

Playground Along Black Meshannoon.

The bottom is about 20 feet square, tapering to 6 ft. 8 inches, the dimensions of the "cabin" enclosed with glass and heated with an oil stove. A map of the immediate section, showing mountain ranges, creeks, etc., lies on a center pedestal and covered with glass. This is for the use of the towerman, who at this time is Joseph Wagner, of Bellefonte. Built on the highest peak, the almost ninety-foot tower gives the keeper a wide range of view—State College, Phillipsburg, Kyserstown, all about twelve miles distant, being in view with the naked eye. The tower was built last year and is located close to the main road on an elevation of 2400 feet above sea level.

The tower house is all stone, built of pebble rocks, a formation referred to elsewhere in this article, and presents an odd yet pleasing appearance. This article would be incomplete if the recital of pleasant memories and impressions left on the writer without making special mention of Rhoda, the young daughter of the McCords. She now holds a certificate of admittance to the third grade in the Phillipsburg schools, when the next term opens. It was only after much persuasion that the child was induced to hand out for inspection some of her school work—mathematics and English. The papers were not only neat and clean, but were errorless. The writing, spelling and punctuation would be a great credit to any high school girl.

The visit to Rattlesnake Mountain, with a dinner at the McCord mansion, was made by the writer, with H. L. Ehrig as a companion and guide, on Sunday.
