FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from Pennsylvania State College
School of Agriculture

KILL WEEDS IN GARDEN—Shallow cultivation prevents weed growth but does not deprive the garden plants of moisture and food by cutting off the roots. As soon as the garden soil dries off after a rain is a good time to go over the soil with a rake, hoe, or wheel hoe with scraper attachments to check weed growth, break the crust, and create a fine mulch on the surface.

CONTROL CABBAGE PESTS—Cabbage root maggot eggs are being laid abundantly on cabbage set during the past two weeks. This indicates a need for the usual treatment with corrosive sublimate applied to the soil around each plant. Circular 122 of the Pennsylvania State College tells how to make this treatment and many others for controlling garden insects.

SET TOMATOES NOW—Tomato plants should be set before June 5 if a good crop is to be expected. Careful handling of the plants is essential. The roots must not become dry or the tops wilted. The plants should be set deeply and firmly so that the roots are in moistened soil. Late afternoon is the preferred time for transplanting. Space 3 1/2 by 4 feet or 4 by 4 feet.

HORSES ARE IN DEMAND—There is a good demand for horses this spring. Decline in numbers during the past 15 years has steadily decreased the supply. In Pennsylvania alone from 1920 to 1930 reduction amounted to 194,266 horses and 4,417 mules.

POTTERS MILLS.

Bruce Krumrine and family and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neil, of near Centre Hall, visited with friends in Jersey Shore on Sunday.

Harry From and wife, called at the home of Miss Caroline McCluskey on Saturday.
J. H. Bitner, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Palmer made a business trip to Lewisburg one day last week.

Among the Reporter's callers on Monday was George H. Ripka, of Millroy, who is living in semi-retirement, but has too much pep for that kind of a life and is seriously contemplating to again move onto his little country home and "back" it. Mr. Ripka was a former resident of Potter township, having been a tenant on the Stiver, now Meeker farm, and later on the McCoy, now Emerick farm, near Potomac Mills. He left the latter farm 35 years ago and located near Millroy.

Deaths

RIMMEY—Charles Henry Rimmey died Friday evening at the Centre County hospital, where he became a patient Wednesday previous, following the amputation of his right leg, below the hip. On January 12th of this year he was struck by a car as he was crossing the street in Pleasant Gap, close to his home. One of his injuries received was between the knee and hip, which required treatment continuously thereafter. Finally gangrene developed in the foot, and as a last remedy, amputation was resorted to. Funeral services were held from the home on Monday afternoon, with burial in the Myers cemetery. Rev. R. C. Dershen, pastor of the Methodist church, officiated at the services. Although Mr. Rimmey was a member of the Reformed church at Tusseyville, he attended the Methodist church after locating at Pleasant Gap due to the fact that there was no Reformed church in his immediate community.
Mr. Rimmey was born at Pleasant Gap, December 6, 1863, having been a son of John G. and Mary Ekenroth Rimmey, and was aged 70 years, 5 months and 19 days. He was twice married, first to Ida B. Koch, who died in Centre Hall in 1918, and later to Verda Tate, who survives him, as do also these children to the first union: Harry and Chlpe, of Olean, N. Y.; Edgar, John, George K., and Gilbert, of Centre Hall. Also, a brother and two sisters, namely, William Rimmey, State College; Mrs. Clayton Gettigan and Mrs. Martin McKeller, Pleasant Gap.
Mr. Rimmey began life as a moulder, and at one time was a foreman in the Bellefonte foundry. He later took up farming, and for a number of years lived on the A. V. Miller farm, Pleasant Gap. In 1911 he purchased the James Fortney farm above Tusseyville, where he lived until 1918, when he moved to Centre Hall. After a year's residence here he again moved to Pleasant Gap.

CCC CAMP AGAIN INHABITED; DOWN-AND-OUTERS, ALL AGES

CCC CAMP No. 65, has been converted into a State Emergency Relief Transit Camp, and since Tuesday has been housing approximately 250 men. A similar camp has been established at Woodward, in CCC Camp No. 115. As the name indicates, the camp is to take care of men, most of whom have long been homeless, and were originally gathered from barracks in the larger cities in all parts of the State. They came directly from Mt. Gretna. It is found that not all the men are originally Pennsylvanians, but are from other states, men who have been drifting about aimlessly. Their ages vary much, ranging from eighteen to eighty, and perhaps above. All, however, are able to move about freely. Some are husky, look well, dressed fairly good; others, tottery, walk with canes, and show having had experiences long before the depression now waning.
Between thirty and fifty men have been at the camp for more than a week, making preparations for the influx on Tuesday.
The men arrived by special train on Tuesday at 1:57 P. M. The train consisted of eight or nine passenger coaches, three of which were vacated by the men who entered the Woodward camp, and three baggage cars. The baggage cars were jammed with accommodations for camp life. The personal belongings, packed in boxes, gunny sacks, carpet bags, satchels, and some fair to good suit cases, were carried in the passenger coaches and cared for like traveler does who has no servants. To guarantee cleanliness a full truck load of soap was delivered, and there is plenty of water—a dam of some proportions—at the camp.
Major (Dr.) Thompson is the officer in charge; other military officers are Capt. Patterson, Lieut. McDowell, Lieut. Lawrence, Dr. Dunsmore, a dentist, and probably others.
H. W. Shaffer, of State College, who was superintendent of the CCC camp, will occupy a similar position in the present camp. The work the men will be asked to perform will include road building, woods improvement. The superintendent predicts the immediate surroundings of the camp will be much improved in general appearance.
Current rumor is to the effect that the men will receive a pitance—90 cents a week with a daily tobacco allowance. The correctness of this is not vouched for by the writer.
The camps at Woodward and Colyer, when brought up to the set quota, will each have about 250 men. The Colyer camp will be headquarters for a group of similar camps in the state, which probably accounts for the several military men being stationed there.

CENTRE HALL, 5; LAMAR, 4.

At Lamar, on Saturday, Centre Hall again came off victorious, this time by the score of 5 to 4. Durst for the locals pitched seven innings very creditably, and Jamison finished the game, allowing one hit, no runs. The locals gathered 10 hits to the opposition's 7. The box score follows:

REBERSBURG AND CENTRE HALL BATTLE TO 7-INNING TIE, 2-2

Weaver, for Rebersburg, and Jamison for Centre Hall, staged a pitchers' battle royal in Tuesday's twilight game, at Centre Hall, and a lot of sincere effort went for naught, for the game ended in a 7-inning tie at 2 to 2. The Rebersburg boys played the fans with their splendid exhibition of ball playing, displaying a dash and vim that was refreshing. Also, our own boys put up a brand of ball that was electrifying. The game sparkled with clever pitching, hard hitting in spots, daring base running, and snappy fielding, with a few excusable errors. It was a game such as is seldom witnessed.
Centre Hall made a strong bid to win in the fourth. Ernest Frank reached third on fast work on the bases, and then was ruled out on a play at home; Fetterolf hit to short; Brungard snapped the ball home; Frank slid for base, and if "a hundred thousand Frenchmen can't be wrong," neither can a baseball crowd when it agrees to a man that a player slid in ahead of the ball. But the "ump" ruled "out," and "out" he was.
