

Spring Mills

A Collection of Newsy Happenings and Personals from Gregg Township's Metropolis.

Two tank cars of road oil arrived here for oiling roads in this community. Oiling was begun on Monday morning between here and Millheim, but was interrupted by rain at noon.

The trout likely to be the prize-winner in the June contest sponsored by the Spring Mills Fish and Game Association, was captured a few days ago by John Wilkinson, 15, son of Harry Wilkinson, at the chute at the Spring Milling Co's mill. The brown trout measured seventeen and one-quarter inches and weighed one and one-half pounds.

The shooting match staged by the F. F. A. (Future Farmers of America) an organization comprised of eighteen members of the Gregg Twp. Vocational School, was an entire success, the cash balance accruing to the F. F. A. treasury being a handsome sum. It is declared to have been the most profitable "shoot" held at Spring Mills. A rifle team of Lewisburg proved a factor in making the affair of interest to spectators and competitors alike. The net funds garnered will be used at some future time to defray expenses of a trip contemplated by the organization. The match was held Friday evening.

The Vocational School athletic field is completed. The work on it was long drawn out, having begun last fall—a C. W. A. project. The field today presents a fine appearance and will be in use in a week or more. Both a baseball field and a double tennis court are provided for.

There are beautiful roses along the State highway between here and Old Fort, but they must be dug out of grass and weeds to be seen. Why not provide trellises to carry the bushes and permit the roses to be enjoyed by the many travelers over Route No. 457?

Children's Day programs were executed on Sunday in the church schools at Farmers Mills, Georges Valley, Spruettown and Salem. At each of the exercises, the children did their very best, and were listened to and watched by capacity houses.

The drive to Po Valley CCC Camp No. 63, in Seven Mountains, is one of the prettiest in this section of the country. The scenery now is unusual because of the great scopes by the road side being covered with mountain laurel, which this year appears to be most profuse in highly colored blossom. The trimming out of brush and dead trees for a considerable distance along mountain roadways, gives the laurel a better chance to show itself, and it is not lagging in its efforts. This drive is by the Mountain church, and turning to the left brings you by the fire tower, the view from which is most beautiful, and on to the camp. The drive from there may be extended over mountains and gaps and through Havice Valley, reaching the south side of Seven Mountains at Sigleville.

Prof. C. M. Watts and children are back from an outing in a mountain camp near Renovo.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller Jamison and baby daughter of Conneautville, visited the Jamison home.

H. N. Meyer, insurance agent, Bellefonte; John Blausser, Potters Mills; John Neff, Tusseyville, and Frank Miller, Centre Hall, R. D. 2, were recent business callers in the village.

James P. McCool, farmer, in Georges Valley, while cultivating corn one day last week, was overcome by heat, the family physician diagnosing the case one of sunstroke. He was put to bed and was ordered to remain in the house for a week or more.

The Ladies Aid Society connected with the Reformed church was entertained by Mrs. Harry A. Corman, at her farm home near here. The society is a very active organization.

Mrs. Wini Johnson and young daughter Barbara, of Philadelphia, are at the home of Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bright Bitner, and will remain for several weeks. One day last week Mrs. Bitner, daughter and granddaughter autored to Milton where they visited relatives.

A strawberry shortcake and ice cream dinner was given at the home of John L. Graden. The following persons were present to enjoy it: Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Foust and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. White and daughter, Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank White and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl White and Glen Hackett, of Centre Hall; Mr. and Mrs. John Graden, of Smulton; and Mrs. Susan Rule, of Spring Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Krape visited Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Gremley, in Millheim. The families were close neighbors when the latter family lived at Spring Mills.

Mrs. George Hosterman has pretty well recovered from a severe attack of tonsillitis. She had been confined to bed for nearly or altogether two weeks.

Walter Wilkinson is representing Lock Haven State Teachers' College at Eaglesboro, where a State Y. M. C. A. convention is being held. He will be at the resort for the entire week.

The heating plant in the Vocational School building is being improved by the addition of a Red Flash furnace manufactured by the American Radiator Company, and installed by a local dealer, Clayton B. Stover. The furnace takes the place of one quit functioning last spring a week before the school closed. The new furnace and one of the same make, but smaller, will be coupled together, so what is extremely cold weather both of them can be fired, and in moderate weather either one can be utilized.

The June meeting of the Fish and Game Association will be held Thursday night, 21st.

All Vocational school teachers—agriculture, trades, industry, and economics, whether full or part time—in all parts of the State, will convene at State College on Monday and remain until Wednesday. There will be speakers of note. Thursday and Friday the Future Farmers of America will assemble at Penn State to become acquainted with the activities of the institution. There will be judging contests in dairy, poultry, live stock, farm mechanics, etymology, and public speaking. Three boys making the highest individual scores in dairy and livestock judging will represent Pennsylvania in the national contest, time and place for holding which has not yet been announced. Centre county will be represented by teams from Spring Mills and Boalsburg Vocational schools. In addition to these County Supervisors of Agriculture, W. M. Jeffries, will select a team from among the Centre county boys.

Miss Orle Wagner, local school teacher, is attending the summer session at Lock Haven State Teachers College, of which she is a graduate.

Mrs. Homer Pettehoff and Harry Condo, also local teachers, will become students in the Summer Sessions at Penn State when it opens, July 2d.

A truck load of brown trout are expected to arrive Thursday, 21st, for distribution in Penna Creek.

Boalsburg.

Mrs. Katharine Moore and Miss Elizabeth Harpster returned to Harrisburg last week after visiting their sister, Mrs. H. O. Barr.

Mr. and Mrs. James Atherton and sons George and James, of Numidia, arrived in town Sunday morning in time to attend Lutheran S. S., spending the remainder of the day at the home of Mrs. Chas. Kuhn.

Mrs. Elizabeth McGarvey, of Altoona, is visiting her sisters, Misses Mary Reish and Nora Miller.

Miss Augusta Murray, Messrs. W. J. Ikdd, Wm. R. Ishler, and Montgomery Hubler attended the examination for post master held at State College on Thursday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. McGirk, Miss Anna Dale, Chas. Dale, and Eleanor Dale attended the funeral of a niece of Mr. McGirk at Lewistown on Wednesday afternoon.

The A. D. Smeltzer family of Pleasant Gap were guests at the Luther Dale home on Sunday.

Clement Dale, of Pleasant Gap, was a caller in town Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerro Zettle and four daughters, of Pleasant Gap, were visitors in town over the week-end.

The Young Ladies' class of the Lutheran S. S. held their regular meeting at the home of Miss Ruth Crane at Altoona, on Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Charles Kuhn accompanied the Athertons to their home in Numidia for a week's visit.

Dr. and Mrs. Wm. R. Ham and sons John and Nelson left Wednesday for Dixfield, Maine, where they expect to spend the summer.

Mrs. John Jacobs and Mrs. Mabel Simpson are visiting in Altoona.

Earl Sunday was admitted to the Centre County hospital Sunday evening.

Alice Plank, of Gettysburg, is visiting at the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. L. Wink.

J. H. Rose is spending some time at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edward Durst, in Centre Hall.

Robert Bailey, accompanied by his sister, Mrs. Nannie Mothersbaugh, of Williamsport, went to Pittsburgh to visit their sister, Mrs. Margaret McCrea, who is quite ill.

The services in the Presbyterian church at 3 o'clock, June 24, will be conducted by the minister from Academia.

ANNUAL BARTGES REUNION DRAWS LARGE NUMBER
(Held over from last week)

The fifth annual Bartges reunion was held at the Sugar Valley camp ground last Saturday and the following is a list of those present:

Bartges, of Avis; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bartges, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bartges, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bartges, Earl Cummings, Agnes Snyder, all of Logan Mills; Mrs. Harve Garrett, Mrs. Fred Stamm, of Greenburr; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bartges, Roy Bartges, Donald and Woodrow Bartges, of Woolrich; Mr. and Mrs. Forest Bower, Katie Greninger, Mrs. Ida Stover, of Aaronsburg; Mr. and Mrs. George Bartges and son Richard, of Uffington, West Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bartges, Dean and Ellwood Bartges, Mrs. Edna Marks, William D. Bartges, Lynn Marks, Jay Marks, of Loganton; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bingham of Sellingsgrove; Mrs. Lester Douity, Greenburr; Mr. and Mrs. William Bartges, of Loganton; Mr. Shambach, of Middleburg; Calvin Weishans, Samuel Ilgen, of Booneville; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hettinger, Miss Verna Hettinger, Robert Hettinger, of Penn Hall; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Haugh, Mr. and Mrs. William Magee, Harley Magee, of Tylersville; Henry Hettinger and daughter Miss Martha, and Effie Hickley, of Altoona; Mrs. H. B. Frankenberg, Mrs. W. D. Bartges, of State College; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mullinger, C. C. Bartges, of Spring Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bartges, Miss' Lula, Paul Bartges, of Coburn.

The program was as follows:
Prayer by Prof. N. L. Bartges of Avis. The president announced the history is now ready for the printer; the price of the books is to be $2.25, providing 200 are ordered. Mrs. Wallace Bartges, chairman of the program committee, presented an interesting program, recitation, by Miss Tessie Bartges, "Making Friends." Contest by a group of children; reading by Franklin Bartges, "Aunt Jemima"; reading by Mrs. George Bartges, "In the bottom drawer." Umbrella contest won by Miss Lula Bartges.

There were four generations present. C. C. Bartges was the only one present of the third generation; A. E. Bartges, of the fourth; Dean Moyer represented the fifth, and Richard Bartges the sixth.

Address by Charles C. Bartges, of Spring Mills; address by A. E. Bartges, of Millheim, and reading from history by Prof. Paul Bartges of Aaronsburg. Officers elected: President, Prof. N. L. Bartges, Avis; secretary, Franklin Bartges; treasurer, Lloyd Bartges; A. E. Bartges was appointed historian.

The time set for the next reunion was the first Saturday in August, 1935. Place, Booneville camp ground.

BITNER RE-PAINTS AUTOS.
J. H. Bitner, Milroy garageman, is proving beyond all doubt that he can turn out a re-painted auto job comparable to a new factory job. He uses lacquer, or duco, and sprays the material with a degree of care and skill that makes a satisfied customer. A surprise to the motorist is the low price at which he does this class of work. He has shown his skill on a number of cars owned by Penna Valley motorists. If you are considering a re-paint job, see Bitner, at Milroy.

REDUCTION IN FORD PRICES.
Reductions of $10 to $15 in list prices of 1934 Ford V-8 passenger cars and $10 to $20 in list prices of Ford V-8 commercial cars and trucks were announced last week by the Ford Motor Company, effective Friday, June 15. Ford prices had remained unchanged since the introduction of the 1934 Ford V-8 last December, the Ford Motor Company not having participated in the recent general automotive price increase. The reductions announced are, therefore, a decrease in the original prices.
