

Another Search for the Lutine's Gold Cargo

THIS diving bell, especially designed for exploration under water, was photographed as it was leaving Ter-schelling, Holland, on a new attempt to recover the gold in the hull of the ship Lutine, which foundered off the Dutch coast in the Eighteenth century.

BEDTIME STORY FOR CHILDREN

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

THE JOKER OF THE OLD ORCHARD

AS PETER RABBIT sat blinking and staring at the sober-looking stranger who was sitting where he had expected to see Glory the Cardinal, the stranger opened his mouth, and from it came Glory's own beautiful whistle. Then the stranger looked down at Peter and his eyes twinkled with mischief.

"Fooled you that time, didn't I, Peter?" he chuckled. "You thought you were going to see Glory the Cardinal, didn't you?"

Then without waiting for Peter to reply this sober-looking stranger gave a concert such as no one else could give. From that wonderful throat poured out song after song and note after note of Peter's familiar friends of the Old Orchard, and the performance wound up with a lovely song which was all the stranger's own. Peter didn't have to ask who the singer was; it was Mocker the Mocking-bird.

"Oh!" gasped Peter. "Oh, Mocker, how under the sun do you do it? I was sure it was Glory whom I heard whistling. Never again will I be able to believe my own ears."

Mocker chuckled. "You're not the only one I've fooled, Peter," said he. "I flatter myself that I can fool almost anybody if I set out on it. It's lots of fun. I may not be much to look at, but when it comes to singing there is no one I envy."

"I think you are very nice looking, indeed," replied Peter politely. "I've been finding out this morning that you can't tell much about folks just by their looks."

"And now you've learned that you can't always recognize folks by their voices, haven't you?" said Mocker.

"Yes," replied Peter. "Hereafter I shall never be sure about feathered folks unless I can both see and hear them. Somebody told me once that down in the South you are the best loved of all the birds. Is that so?"

"That's not for me to say," replied Mocker modestly, "but I can tell you this, Peter. They do think a lot of me down there, and it is all on account of my voice. I would rather have a beautiful voice than a fine coat."

Peter nodded as if he quite agreed, which, when you think of it, is rather funny, for Peter has neither a fine coat nor a fine voice. A glint of mischief sparkled in Mocker's eyes. "There's Mrs. Goldy the Oriole over there," said he. "Watch me fool her."

He began to call an exact imitation of Goldy's voice when he is affixing about something. At once Mrs. Goldy came hurrying over to find out what the trouble was. When she discovered Mocker she lost her temper and scolded him roundly. Mocker and Peter laughed, for they thought it a good joke.

QUESTION BOX

By ED WYNN... The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn: Is Florida a good place for one's nerves?

Yours truly, JACK SUNVILLE.

Answer—I'll say it is. I know a man who went to Florida five years ago and opened a hotel. He used to charge $2 a night for a room and bath. Now he has the NERVE to charge $10 a night for the same room.

Dear Mr. Wynn: Will you please settle a dispute between my wife and me? My wife has a brother who always goes to other people's houses just so he can get drinks of whisky for nothing. I claim a fellow who does a thing like that is a "sponge." My wife says he is not a "sponge." Who is right?

Yours truly, A. GNOG.

Answer—Your wife is right. Her brother fills up on whisky while a "sponge" generally fills up on water.

Dear Mr. Wynn: What is meant by "Race Suicide?"

Yours truly, POLLY TISHAN.

Answer—When a man goes to the track, bets on a horse, loses all his money, becomes despondent, and kills himself—that's "Race Suicide."

Dear Mr. Wynn: I am a boy fifteen years of age. I applied for a job in a grocery store, and when the grocer asked me how many ounces make a pound, I said 16 ounces. He wouldn't give me the job. I wonder why?

Truly yours, D. LIVERYBOYE.

Answer—The next time you ask for a position in a grocery store, if the grocer asks you how many ounces make a pound just say 14 ounces, and you'll get the job.

Dear Mr. Wynn:

A friend of mine who has just returned from a motor trip of 3,000 miles, told me he enjoyed touring on the roads built by Americans. I asked him what he meant "roads built by Americans," and he said: "Why, Roosevelt boulevard and Lincoln highway." Then he told me the worst roads he had to travel over were built by a Frenchman. I did not want to appear ignorant so did not ask him who he meant. Will you please tell me the name of the Frenchman who built the bad roads he refers to?

Yours truly, MAG NEETOW.

Answer—He is referring to "Detroit." © The Associated Newspapers WNU Service.

Lee and Grant Fight on Same Side

WHENEVER the baseball team of St. Alban's school in Washington has a game, two descendants of Gen. Robert E. Lee and Gen. Ulysses S. Grant are to be seen fighting for the same cause. Lewis Vandergriff Lee of Virginia (left) is a descendant of the great southern commander, and Charles Scribner Grant of Chicago (right) traces back to the equally great Union general. Both are outfielders, and they are close friends.

THE VINE

By ANNE CAMPBELL

THE vine is trying vainly to climb high Upon the smooth boards of my little shack. The sun is peering from an azure sky. But there is something here that holds it back. Nothing to climb on, that's the rub! It falls Back on the brick of the foundation walls.

Today I'll buy a trellis for my vine, And guide its tendrils up the strong white wood, Reflecting as I do on the divine And lofty way God labors for our good. Giving us room to climb to heights above Upon the golden trellis of his love. Copyright.—WNU Service.

Mother's Cook Book

FOR THE TEA TABLE

SO MUCH depends upon the attractiveness of the tea table—simplicity is the rule, even where the pocket-book need not be considered. One need not buy expensive teas, either, for the ordinary ones when treated to a bit of orange peel, a flower or two of jasmine will have a flavor which will be found quite distinctive.

Dainty open sandwiches which take time to prepare but are so fetching in appearance are often all that is served with the cup of tea. Cut the bread into one-half inch slices or a bit thicker, then into rounds or in any design. One may have hearts, clubs, diamonds or spades if so inclined, as there are all sorts of sandwich cutters on the market. Spread the bread lightly with mayonnaise, then pipe on cheese with whipped cream, decorate with finely minced parsley, peppers or candied fruits. There is no end to the variety which anyone may think up, and use almost any food at hand.

Many hostesses like to serve preserved fruits for sweetening, such as pineapple, candied cherries, orange quarters, glacé, and various other combinations. With the fragrance of the tea and fruit one needs some sweetening. Rock candy makes a delightful one as it may be bought in various colors to match the decoration. This adds much to the appearance of the table. This is never placed in the tea, but passed that the color may add delight to the partakers.

Other candy flavors are in vogue—mint is always enjoyed. Fresh mint dusted with powdered sugar is especially attractive.

Highest Mountain

Measuring from the center of the earth, instead of from sea level, the highest mountain of the globe is not Mt. Everest, but Mt. Chimborazo, in the Andes, according to calculations made by a German scientist, says Literary Digest. On this scale Chimborazo's peak is 3,966.99 miles from the center of the earth; Everest's only 3,965.98. Four other peaks, Huascarán (Peru), Cotopaxi (Ecuador), Kenia (East Africa) and Kilimanjaro (Africa) are also "higher" above the earth's center than Everest. The difference in the measurement is due to the bulge of the earth at the equator.

That Body of Yours

Eyes and Teeth

A YOUNG man was having his eyes examined by a physician, and to the surprise of physician and patient the eyes had improved considerably since the examination one year previous.

As his work and reading habits had not changed, the physician was at a loss to account for the improvement until he asked some questions.

"You are feeling better physically than you were a year ago, are you not?"

"Yes!" the patient answered, "I feel brighter and more like work, not so lazy as I was a year ago."

"Had any dental work done?" "Yes, I had an X-ray of my teeth and the dentist found three teeth that were badly infected and removed them. I felt lazier than ever for a few weeks but I feel fine now."

This was the explanation of the improvement in the eyesight.

Dr. William F. C. Steinbugler tells us in the New York State Journal of Medicine that pyorrhoea, dental decay, and root infection are frequently causes of eye infection, and, in addition to affecting the eyesight, set up local inflammations in and about the eyes. The most dangerous form of tooth infection is that in which the pulp (nerve and blood vessels) is affected, as this diseased or poisonous material is forced into the blood stream and hence goes to all parts of the body including the eye.

Doctor Steinbugler admits that every effort should be made to preserve the teeth owing to their importance in breaking up food and allowing the digestive juice in the mouth to moisten and soften food, and turn starch into sugar, nevertheless it should be remembered that in doubtful cases the eye should be given first consideration and the removal of infection from the mouth should come before preserving the teeth.

During the war a very skillful pilot began to make poor landings. He was ordered to report for medical examination and it was found that his tonsils were in very bad condition. Removal of tonsils restored his vision to normal and there were no more poor landings. Infection was the cause of the trouble.

If therefore your eyesight seems to be falling or you are troubled with any inflammation about the eyes, a visit to the dentist is advisable before having your glasses changed.

Asthma and Hay Fever

SOMETIMES wonder what hay fever and asthma sufferers most think as they read daily of the wonderful cures being obtained by various physicians throughout the world, and yet despite the various treatments they have received, they still suffer with hay fever and asthma.

What are the various "cures" that are thus recorded?

The cures are first aimed at the causes of these two ailments—sensitivity to certain foods, furs, feathers, pollen of plants, various dusts in the home; ailments or deformities in the nose, throat, or bronchial tubes; acute infections such as influenza, bronchitis, pleurisy, scarlet fever, whooping cough, measles.

Before treatment is undertaken the patient is thoroughly examined and tested by the various substances, now known to be hundreds in number. Treatment is then given according to what the examination and various tests showed.

This treatment consists of various drugs, of which adrenalin stands first; proper attention to diet, rest, and outdoor exercise; vaccines; the surgical removal of adenoids, tonsils, growths, or deformities in nose and throat; the use of pollen extracts before and during the hay fever season.

Dr. T. S. Heaton, Toronto, who made a study of the various causes and different methods of treatment, gives conclusions reached after reviewing some of the work and writings of sixty-six physicians doing research work on hay fever and asthma.

He believes that the treatment of hay fever and asthma by the avoidance of the substances that cause these conditions is the best method at this time. Rooms in which these substances cannot enter and the use of air filters are of great value in fighting these ailments. Avoiding the foods known to cause hay fever or asthma is the best method of treating this particular type. "Certainly asthma and hay fever are difficult to cure. Certainly, too, the special treatment by extracts can help many at any age."

So, if you are an asthma or hay fever sufferer and think you have tried everything, just ponder over these remarks by Doctor Heaton, and try to discover if there is not something you have left undone. (Copyright)—WNU Service.
