Attention of our readers is called to an important event to be held on Wednesday, August 15, by the Altoona Booster Stores, as mentioned in their advertisement appearing elsewhere in this issue.

It will be the occasion of their third quarterly 1934 Dollar Day, at which time unusual Dollar Day values will be offered in worthwhile merchandise.

Booster Stores make elaborate plans for these quarterly Dollar Days and always provide large quantities of new merchandise which they buy in the open market at less than regular prices and pass on to their customers with a very small margin of profit added to the prices they themselves pay.

There will be merchandise on sale on Dollar Day, at many prices less than one dollar, as well as more than one dollar.

Booster merchants invite all people to come and share in the good values that will be offered for Dollar Day, but also wish to remind their out-of-town friends to give first consideration to their home stores and buy in Booster Stores only those things that their home merchants cannot supply to advantage.

Booster Stores operate on Eastern Standard Time and will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. on Dollar Day. They can be located by the golden colored window cards.

Through the cooperation of the Altoona city officials, Dollar Day visitors will be able to park their cars in the business district as long as necessary to do their shopping.
