Ten children also survive: Mrs. M. B. Weaver and Mrs. T. E. Sauer, of State College; Mrs. Hazel Meyer, of Boalsburg; Albert Lucas, Gladys Delarco, Theodore Lucas, Elizabeth Ketchum, William Lucas, Jr., and Agnes Lucas, all of Maryland.

Mr. Lucas was a member of the Reformed church of Boalsburg. Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon, with Rev. Wink officiating. Burial was made in the Boalsburg cemetery.

SECHLER.—Mrs. Jane Alice Gilliland Sechler, widow of the late Hammon Sechler, passed away at her home on East Linn street, Bellefonte. She was a daughter of Samuel and Margaret Sankey Gilliland and was born at Oak Hill on May 24th, 1845, hence was 89 years, 2 months and 10 days old. She was educated in the public schools of Harris township, at the Boalsburg Academy and the Manhau school for girls in Philadelphia.

Her husband died on January 10th, 1921, but surviving her are one daughter, Miss Anna Sechler, and a grandson, William Armstrong Kirby. Another daughter, Mrs. Margaret Kirby, died at her home in Baltimore several years ago.

Packer returned home last week from an extensive trip through southern and western states, in company with a number of friends and also did some educational work at one of the western universities. He will return to Pittsburgh beginning of September and resume teaching in the Oliver High school.

Other guests at the Jacobs home were Rev. and Mrs. Reed and daughter Miss Angeline, of Columbus, Ohio, and Mrs. Reed's sister, Miss Ella Bortoff, of Lemont. The sisters are also nieces of Mrs. Jacobs.

The Reporter was pleased to have a call from John W. Vonada of Georges Valley, who sustained the chief loss from the storm that passed over that valley recently. He informed the writer that the roof carried away by the wind has been replaced with a new one. In addition to the loss from the destruction of the roof, two crops of alfalfa hay were ruined by the thorough soaking with rain after the roof was removed. He has the satisfaction, however, of seeing at this time a third crop of the legume making a rapid growth which in a measure will help out in feeding stock during the coming winter.

SATURDAY OF NEXT WEEK MARKS OPENING OF 61ST ENCAMPMENT AND FAIR

Grange Park presents a beautiful appearance these days as work nears completion for the 61st annual Grange Encampment and Centre County Fair which opens Saturday, August 25 and continues one week. Grange tents are all up and 35 new tents are replacing worn out canvas. They make a fine showing against the background of trees as they are set along avenues extending east and west and streets north and south. These thoroughfares have been laid out with some exactness for convenience and service until we have a planned community, organized for safety and comfort as well as play and recreation.

Tents are supplied with floor, bunk, bench, table and wired for light. Tent rental for the week, size 14x14, $8.00; size 12x12, $7.00. Tents not owned by the Grange fair association are erected on camp ground and supplied with similar furnishings at $4.00 for the week. Wiring necessary for cooking, $1.50 extra for the week. For those using oil stoves, oil may be purchased daily on the fair ground.

Tickets will be on sale at the gates beginning Wednesday morning, August 22. General admission, 50 cents, good for the week. Automobile admission, 25 cents, good for the week. All children under 14 years of age, free admission every day, during the fair, Thursday morning, August 21, every thing will be in readiness for campers to enter and occupy tents.

The management is sparing no effort to present a well-rounded program during the entire week and feel confident both education and entertainment have been given due attention. Particular mention must be made of the dramatic contest in which four Granges—Half Moon, Logan, Victor, and Union—will participate and furnish evening entertainment of high merit. Admission to the auditorium each evening—15 cents and 25 cents. On Sunday evening the Alfarata Children's Chorus under the leadership of Prof. Raynard Von Welsenfuh will repeat their success of 1933 in a concert in the auditorium following the Christian Endeavor exercises which will be held at 7:00 o'clock.
