FAKER HELD FOR COURT

TRIAL ON ASSAULT CHARGE

One of the fakers at Grange Park, last Thursday, got into an altercation with J. Fred Slack, and as a result is held in the Centre county jail for trial at the bar on the charge of aggravated assault and battery, in default of $1000 bail.

The alleged assault was made Thursday forenoon by John Young, aged 19, of Milwaukee, Wis., who induced Mr. Slack to engage in taking a free chance in his game, that of rolling dice for a prize. The cast was made; a prize won. The argument followed and before completed the faker struck Mr. Slack on the nose, breaking it. For further aggression the Milwaukee youth grabbed a hammer, it is said.

He was placed under arrest by Deputy Sheriff John Bower and taken to jail on a commitment issued by Justice C. W. Slack Saturday morning when he was given a hearing with the above noted result.

SEED CORN FIELD SELECTION DEMONSTRATION MEETINGS

County Agent R. C. Blaney has arranged a series of seed corn field selection demonstration meetings to be held on various farms in the valley next Monday. E. J. Walter, corn specialist from Penn State College, will meet with the farmers and give valuable information. Demonstrations will be held as follows:

Monday, September 10th: 9 a. m., at John Wert farm, Tusseyville; 10:30 a. m., at W. F. Rishel farm, Farmers Mills; 1:30 p. m., at Charles Rossmann farm, Millheim; 3:30 p. m., at J. J. Markle farm, State College.

All those interested are invited to attend. Demonstrations will be given in the corn fields.

"FLEISHER GAP COLLEGE"

ALUMNI EATS HAM AND EGGS

The alumni association of "Fleisher Gap College" met in "Old Main" new transformed into a lodge by the Union Hunting Club. Most of the business transacted was the "consumption" of a good sized ham, several dozen eggs, bushels of corn on the cob. For dessert a delicious four-layer cake and peaches with marshmallow cream was daintily served. Drinks included nothing stronger than lemonade and coffee.

Grads present were members of the 1900, 1910 and 1920 classes—Alumnus.

Because Governor Pinchot smeared about Earle a bit he thought him fool enough to enter his spider web in New York. The only man who can keep in good grace with Pennsylvania's governor is one who at all times will do his bidding.

Although ninety years of age, Isaac Underwood has recovered slightly from a broken hip to be removed from the Centre County hospital to his home in Bellefonte.

LOCALS END SECOND HALF IN TIE FOR FIRST PLACE

Trounce Kato Labor Day to Give Centre Hall Tie With Pleasant Gap—Playoff Series Starts Thursday.

[By HUGH MORROW, JR.]

Coasting to a cinch 17-2 victory over Kato, on Monday, Centre Hall finished the regular schedule for the 1934 season tied with Pleasant Gap for the second half championship.

This afternoon (Thursday) the locals tackle Pleasant Gap on the Centre Hall field in the first game of a three-tit series for the second half. The winners of this series meet Millheim, first-half title-holders, in the Centre County League's "Little World Series" for the season cup.

The score by innings of the Centre Hall-Kato game:

SECOND FRAME SPREE WINS OVER MILLHEIM FOR LOCALS

Centre Hall won one of the most important games in the race for the second half championship last Thursday on Grange Park diamond, as the locals took over the first-half title holders, Millheim, by a score of 6 to 3.

Once again Lefty Pastorius rang the bell for the locals, as he hurled a four-hit game of ball, while his mates enjoyed a slugging spree in the second frame at the expense of Millheim's first-string pitcher, Aumiller, scoring four runs in that frame to establish an early lead which was never overcome.

Opening up that big second frame, Paul Martz stepped to the plate and slamed a triple into the Grange diamond's upper left field. Then with three doubles in a row, gathered by Knarr, Walker and Welsh, and Pastorius' single, the locals had little difficulty in gathering four earned runs.

A crowd estimated at considerably over 5,000 was present at this game, which was the feature baseball game of Fair Week. It was also one of the most important games in the race for Centre Hall, since Millheim was regarded as one of the strongest competitors in the league.

Millheim scored first in the seventh, as Brown annexed the first hit of the game for his team, hitting a fluke just outside the infield. Errors by Walker and Martz brought him around.

The losers threatened a rally in the last frame, when Brown and Aumiller came singled, and Spigelmyer doubled, bringing in numbers two and three for Millheim.

The locals added to their winning total after that big second inning, scoring once in the fourth as Curt Reiber got on as Spigelmyer erred, and scored on Goodhart's single, and once in the fifth, as Knarr slammed his second double for the game and came home on Walker's single.

BOALSBURG DOWNED IN 12 INNINGS; SCORE, 4-3

It took the locals twelve innings to down Boalsburg here last Saturday, but in the last half of the third extra frame, Jack Bradford hit a single which scored Goodhart for the winning run, giving Centre Hall a 4-3 victory over Boalsburg, and keeping the locals in the race for first place in the second half.

Centre Hall jumped into an early lead, as singles by Martz and Bradford and Pastorius' bunt, scored the first run of the game. The locals added to that lead in the following stanza when Knarr slamed a two-bagger and came home on Walker's one-base safety.

Not until the seventh did Boalsburg show scoring punch, when the ultimate losers found Lefty for two singles and a double, tying up the score, this deadlock remaining unbroken until the eleventh.

HAPPENINGS OF LOCAL INTEREST FROM ALL PARTS

A total of 57,305 pupils graduated from the 1215 high schools in Pennsylvania at the close of the 1933-1934 school term.

J. Ernest Wagner, one of Potter township's school teachers, was the delegate from the local lodge P. O. S. of A. at the convention held at Easton.

Three cheers for Alice—Alice Foust—the only girl to score among the ten first in the free-for-all cattle judging contest on Grange Park. She was 6th from the top.

A daughter, Anne Carol, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gilmroe Osterling at the W. L. Swann home, Millheim, recently. The little Miss weighed seven pounds upon arrival.

Betty Horner, of Boalsburg, and Elda Johnson, of Milroy, 'teen age lassies, enjoyed the big "picnic" as guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Bailey, and remained for a few days following its close.

Harry W. Dinges, who is living at the Evangelical Home, Lewisburg, is among friends about here, and before returning will visit in Tyrone and Unionville. Mr. Dinges was a former resident of Centre Hall.

Mrs. Charlotte Hubbard, of Jersey Shore, was a guest of Mrs. H. L. Ehrlich during a part of last week. Their friendship was formed when they were students at Selinsgrove and has since been kept alive by occasional visits to each other's homes.

W. F. Lingle, of Sunbury, accompanied by his daughter, and Mrs. Anna McManus, of Harrisburg, two former Potter township residents, who never miss a good opportunity to come to Centre Hall, attended the Grange Fair and visited among friends.

Mrs. Annie Kilmefelter and daughter, Miss Ella Kilmefelter, and grandson, John R. Hettinger, of Tusseyville, on their way to Bellefonte on Saturday evening stopped at the Reporter office to advance the figures on the label of the paper sent to her, which is never left lagging.

More individual dog licenses were issued by the county treasurer in Pennsylvania during the first six months of 1934 than during all of 1933, the number being 494,296 against 483,141. Centre county's share in dog population is 4,739, which number is larger by 283 than all the dogs licensed in 1933.

The loan and grant of $48,000 by the Public Works Administration for a nurses' home at the Centre County hospital has been officially rescinded. The hospital, due to the lavish plans forced onto it by the State Welfare board, was unable to provide the necessary additional funds. The project was abandoned months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Roseman, of Millifield attended the Grange Fair. Mr. Roseman sold his home in Millifield and is endeavoring to sell several properties he owns in Williamsport, and if successful in doing so he will locate in Altoona, but if unable to dispose of his Williamsport holdings he will locate in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Packer and young son, Jack, of Pittsburgh, came to the home of the former's brother, L. O. Packer, last week and remained over the week-end. On Monday they returned to Pittsburgh, taking with them Prof. Packer, who opened the Oliver High school, one of the leading schools in Pittsburgh, during the beginning of the week.

Two of the three bandits who robbed the First National Bank in Three Springs have been captured. They were Addison Mease, arrested in Cleveland, Ohio, and Ralph Nace, in Bradford; Edgar Nace is the third bandit. He is a brother of Ralph Nace. Mease says the brothers kept the loot—$4,168. The third bandit was captured Thursday in Cleveland, Ohio, and $3,292 of the loot recovered.

Thieves entered the parsonage of the East Main Street Methodist church in Lock Haven, Sunday, while the minister, Rev. C. E. Hazen, and all members of the family were attending church services, and looted the house. Cash to the amount of $30 and jewelry valued to approximately $45 were taken. Rev. Hazen was formerly pastor of the Penn Valley Methodist charge, and his former parishioners will regret his loss.
