

Spring Mills

A Collection of Newsy Happenings and Personals from Gregg Township's Metropolis.

The work on the new bridge is progressing nicely. The cantilever to support the walk on the north side of the structure has been laid on the pier to the east and has been imbedded in concrete so not any of the steel is visible. A mishap during construction occurred on Sunday, when Christ Musser, of Penn Hall, one of the workmen while working on one of the piers, fell into the creek where its depth was about six feet. He was not injured, but thoroughly wet when he swam out.

A conundrum being propounded by some of the Gregg Township Vocational school youths is, why the heek Jerome M. Johnston is making so many trips to Penn Hall. Twill out, they say some day.

Miss Delsey Morris, teaching in the public schools in Dylestown, was at her home here during the week-end, having come home at this time to visit with C. A. Krape, who on Friday was brought from the Centre County hospital to his home here. Miss Rebecca Robinson, R. N., is waiting on him. It is her first patient in a private home since graduating from Abington hospital.

Miss Mabel Brown, of Sunbury, visited her father, Samuel Brown, on Sunday.

Mrs. Annie Smith and daughter, Mrs. Guy Corman, are visiting in Clearfield with the former's sister, Mrs. M. M. Overly.

Spring Mills Vocational defeated East Penna Valley High in a soccer game last Friday. Tomorrow (Friday) the teams will again play on the local field.

As was intimated a week ago, the G. C. King residence is undergoing repainting on the exterior. The work is being done by James Kerstetter.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Calhoun, of Altoona, were guests for several days at the T. E. Jamison home. Mrs. Calhoun is a niece of the 'Squire's'.

Dean Reish, young son of Mr. and Mrs. James Reish, Old Fort, visited his brother, Richard Slack, for a few days.

Mrs. G. C. King attends market at Bellefonte, and has not missed doing so in many moons.

Harry Finkle of Zion, visited his sister, Mrs. Mabel Smith, on Sunday.

E. T. Jamison and son, Guy Jamison, on Sunday, autoed to Hollidaysburg where they spent the day with Mrs. Gertrude Martin, a sister of the former.

Jay McCool was hit by a truck while working on the Seven Mountain road, on Friday, and was badly injured. He is now in the hospital. He was visited on Sunday by his sister, Miss Freda McCool, who is one of the instructors in the Hartleton State Village school.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bailey, on Sunday, were guests for the day of the latter's mother, Mrs. Grenoble, at Madisonburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weaver, of State College, visited at the Blaine Bittner home. Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bohn, of Old Fort, spent a few hours on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. G. C. King.

Mrs. Sylvia Grenoble and daughter, Miss Margaret, and Luther Royer, autoed to Yeagertown on Sunday where they called on friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland McCool and children, Ruth and Robert, of Altoona, on Sunday were guests of the former's mother, Mrs. D. M. McCool.

A. D. Smith and son, Clarence C. Smith are the contractors, for remodeling a garage and putting down a concrete floor in it for Blaine Bittner.

The elder Mr. Smith lives at Zerby Station in a home that would be a credit to any locality. It is painted up to perfection on the exterior and is equipped with a Delec lighting system, bath and of course, hot and cold water. He is a mechanic in the true sense of the word.

In Spring Mills he was the guiding hand in the erection of three handsome bungalows, which are now occupied by two of his daughters, and families, and the son named. The home to the north is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Archie Confer, the second by Mr. and Mrs. Foster Bron, and the third by Clarence C. Smith.

The officers installed in the local lodge of Odd Fellows, recently, by Jas. Irwin, district grand master, were: Noble Grand, Arch Heckman; vice-grand, Paul Weigley; financial secretary, Jere Albrecht; treasurer, D. W. Sweetwood; chaplain, A. L. Duck; warden, W. P. Osman; R. S. to N. G. M. Sweetwood; L. S. to N. G. W. A. Neese; R. S. to V. G. John Vonada; L. S. to V. G. James Evans.

The Gregg Township Vocational school has two instructors in music. Miss Luella Rearick instructs in vocal music in the third and fourth grades and trains for vocal music in programs, while Mrs. LaClair Fetteroff instructs in instrumental music. The orchestra being developed is composed of eleven pieces and while the majority of that number are close to beginners their instructor is exceedingly proud of their performance at this early date of the 1934-1935 school year.

Following are the names of the young people comprising the school orchestra and the instruments they play: Violins, Lona Hanson, Mabel Engard; solo cornet, Ellsworth Stover; 1st cornet, Myron Musser; 2nd cornet, Inez Zettie; Clarinet, Robert Henschen; saxophone, Bernice Fargner; Frances Zerby, Spurgeon Condo; E flat saxophone, Robert Corman; piano, Margaret Grenoble.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Reish, of Lewisburg, spent a day at the parental home of the former, that of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Reish, proprietors of the new restaurant in our town, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Haney, of Rising Sun, Md., were visiting the latter's sisters, Mrs. Mabel Smith and Mrs. Paul Grove, last week.

Mrs. Guy Corman visited her aunt and cousins at Clearfield last week.

Spring Mills lodge No. 597, I. O. O. F., presented the following members with 25-year jewels: A. J. Burrell, Ivy W. Bartges, L. M. Decker, C. F. Hagen and W. O. Ripka. William Steele, of Bellefonte, made the presentation speech, which he did very nicely.

Potters Mills.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Carson motored to Lock Haven on Sunday.

George Sweeney and family, of Centre Hall, spent Sunday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sweeney.

B. D. Brisbin and daughter, Mrs. Roxanna Robertson, of Hartford, Conn., visited on Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McCormick, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Palmer took dinner last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Sankey, near Hollidaysburg. They also stopped to see Mr. McCormick's aunt, Mrs. S. E. Royer, who has been seriously ill.

Lester Palmer and friend, Miss Marie Copenhaver, of Tyrone, Miss Amelia Copenhaver and Miss Hutchins, of Philipsburg, visited over the week-end at the H. E. Foust home.

FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

HAVE FRESH VEGETABLES—Fresh tomatoes, eggplants, and peppers, picked when nearly ripe from the garden before frost, may be kept for a month. They can be stored in a moderately dry cellar, coldframe, or other convenient place to ripen. The best temperature is 55 degrees Fahrenheit for storage and 75 degrees for rapid ripening.

STUDY AT HOME—Forty-two free correspondence courses are offered by the Pennsylvania State College in general agriculture, animal husbandry, horticulture, dairying, home economics, and miscellaneous subjects. Leisure time in the late fall and winter can be profitably used in studying these available courses.

WHEN TO USE LIGHTS—Use lights on early pullets only to prevent too great a drop in egg production, say Penn State poultry specialists. On pullets that do not start laying until late about November 1, lights may be used to force production. Either morning or evening lights may be used satisfactorily.

CLUB MEMBERS INCREASE—A 15 per cent. increase in 4-H club membership is indicated by reports received at the state club office at the Pennsylvania State College. Last year there were 14,400 boys and girls enrolled in club work in Pennsylvania, while this year the total is approximately 16,500.

STERILIZE MILK PAILS—Milk pails can be sterilized satisfactorily in a low pressure steam sterilizer recently designed at the Pennsylvania State College agricultural experiment station.

PICK APPLES WHEN RIGHT—Stage of maturity at picking time influences the value of the apple crop. Many growers find it profitable to go over the trees two or three times with some varieties in order to get all fruits at just the proper stage.
