Harold McDonald, of Bellefonte, was a visitor in the village Saturday night, on both business and pleasure.

Jay McCool, whose injury was noted in this column last week, continues a hospital patient and is improving, but will be obliged to remain in the hospital for a few weeks longer, the injury to the pelvic bone, while not broken, is serious and will require some time to mend.

Glenn Long, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Long, a student in Franklin and Marshall College, was at his home over the week-end, and early Monday morning was taken back to Lancaster to resume his studies, by his parents.

Community day was a grand success, and a pretty full account of the activities appears elsewhere in this issue.

Mrs. Pauline Rossman, assistant to Postmaster Coleman Wingard, was at Centre Hall, since Saturday morning, with Mrs. John G. Dauberman, having been called there owing to the death of Mr. Dauberman. She is a niece by marriage of Mrs. Dauberman.

Brown Hackett is credited with having one of the largest fields of potatoes on farms along Sinking Creek.

The corn crop throughout Gregg township will not only yield heavily, but the quality of the corn is said to be most excellent. The crop is now being shucked on many farms.

A number of Democrats, especially committeemen, attended the meeting in Millheim the latter part of last week. Mr. and Mrs. Bright Bitner autored to Philadelphia last week where they visited their daughter, Mrs. William Johnson, and grandchild, and Mrs. Geraldine, also a daughter.

C. A. Krape is not improving to any great extent, and continues to suffer excruciating pain in the feet and legs up to the knee. A peculiarity is that the pain comes regularly each day at about five o'clock in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Odenkirk, of Centre Hall, were among those who called on him the latter part of the week.

The 4H Club will meet this (Thursday) evening with Jean Watts, at the home of her parents, Prof. and Mrs. C. M. Watts. Miss Eleanor Smith, County Extension Worker, will meet with them and give instruction. The club is an active one and the members are making rapid strides in the different lines of work being taken.

Miss Smith is also conducting a sewing class open to all who care to join. The next meeting will be held in the Vocational school building, on Tuesday October 23, at 2:00 P. M.
