

Spring Mills

A Collection of Newsy Happenings and Personals from Gregg Township's Metropolis.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Meyer and Miss Josephine Stover motored to Watson town on Sunday, where the day was spent with friends.

Mrs. W. H. Bressler, whose illness has been noted frequently in this column during the past two months or more, was taken to the Geisinger hospital on Wednesday of last week for observation and treatment.

On Friday, Cleve Gingerich was taken to the Danville State Hospital by the Gregg township overseers, Messrs. Charles Amman and R. W. Lingle. He is aged about forty years and lived alone in the George Immet home in the vicinity of the John W. Zerby farm home, north of Spring Mills. While he had not become violent, his condition was such that he could no longer care for himself.

Lester Igen now occupies the Emmanuel Eungard home, at Farmers Mills, recently purchased by Mr. Igen's father, Harry Igen. Mr. Igen is employed in the silk mill in Spring Mills.

According to reports given out by R. E. Stover, tax collector for Gregg township, collection of taxes at this period is better than a year ago, when the duplicate showed collections up to but 68 per cent, whereas now taxes are collected up to 73 per cent. This is a good showing when compared to collections in other districts in Centre county.

Spring Mills Vocational and Hubbersburg High schools played soccer on the former's athletic field last Friday, the score having been 3 to 1 against the visitors.

Foster Breen and family and Mrs. Breen's father, J. C. A. Heckman, motored to Williamsport on Sunday to be with friends there for the day.

The bridge with its foot-walk over Penns Creek is about completed and may be opened to traffic by the end of this week. The location of the structure clearly indicates that the program includes slicing twenty feet from the property owned by Howard C. Fetterolf, head of the Vocational Educational Department, Harrisburg, and L. H. Dennis, who at one time held the same post. These parties also own the mill on the opposite side of Route No. 45, both of which are leased by Homer W. Fetterolf. When the "surgical" operation will be performed of course, is not known. That part of the program must be executed by the board of county commissioners.

It is the general belief of many, who squint along the rails of the electrically welded structure, that it "won't be long now" until some careless auto driver hits the concrete, and then the discussion of clearing the way will be brought to a head.

A stately knuck with wide spread of antlers paraded over the athletic field of the Vocational school with more pomposity than any athletes ever dared display. After sniffing the air the sound of his own snort frightened him, and to the mountain he fled.

The Pennsylvania Railroad company is replacing the overhead vehicular passageway at Decker's, built about thirty years ago after several accidents that came nearly being fatal to teamsters. Much of the wooden structure is being rebuilt with new timbers, and will be finished with a macadam driving surface. The accidents referred to resulted in the teamster escaping with his life, but not without serious injury. In fact, when carried into Long's store the man was thought to be dying. The team of horses hitched to a wagon loaded with heavy prop timbers was owned by Hall B. Herring, and was killed outright. It was this accident that impressed the railroad company of the need of the overhead, and soon thereafter its construction was ordered.

Rev. Seth Russell very acceptably filled the pulpit in the Lutheran church Sunday night, for Rev. Greenhoe, who is ill.

The Spring Mills band participated in the Democratic parade in Phillipsburg on Monday evening. It appears the musical unit was John W. Decker's contribution to the movement, following his election by 138 majority as representative to the General Assembly. All the way through the campaign, John was "Johnny on the spot."

Herb Bolger, county treasurer of Blair county, was in Spring Mills over the week-end, one of his missions having been to pay his political bets. He bet his party would win, and lost. The detour over the stretch of road from the silk mill to the bridge on the west side left its marks. That section of road was not built for heavy traffic, such as the detour made it carry, consequently there are signs of destruction which in all probability the Highway Department will repair at some future time.

Keystone Post, No. 444, American Legion, Millheim, decorated the graves of their deceased comrades on Sunday afternoon. The cemeteries with the number of graves in them decorated are these: Livonia, 1; Rebersburg, 5; Millheim, 1; Salem, 1; Heckman, 2; total, 10. The Aaronsburg High school band accompanied the delegation and played appropriate music for the occasion. G. Elaine Bitner is commander, and Homer W. Fetterolf finance officer of the organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper A. Wagner motored to Williamsport to visit their son, Theodore Wagner, a railway postal clerk, on Sunday but found the young man not at home. Papa Wagner had planned to tell something into Theodore's ear about the election, something about Theodore being on the winning side, wife daddy was hooked to a frazzle!

S. W. Diehl, of Mifflinburg, visited the A. C. Dunlap family, and while here Mr. Diehl and Mr. Dunlap spent much of the time in quest of wild game.

Mrs. Vera Myers, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Meyer, on Friday, motored to Philadelphia where they remained for several days as guests of Mrs. Meyer's brother, Bruce Morris. Wagers were made that Carl attended the U. P. vs. P. S. C. football game.

Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Harshburger and daughter Clair, of Altoona, visited with the D. M. McCool family. Other guests at the same home at the same time were Mrs. Ferj Snyder and sons John, Ralph and Guy, of Mifflinburg.

Through an error of your correspondent, mention was not made last week that Centre Queen Temple No. 169, captured the high prize in the Halloween parade.

A number of Democrats accompanied the band to Phillipsburg Monday evening to see or perhaps participate in the parade. Among these were E. T. Jamison, Guy Jamison, Charles Stover, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Corman, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stover and daughter, Miss Josephine.

Mrs. Charles Bilger and son, Evan, and daughters, Misses Alta and Bertha, and little Joan and Gerald, of Pleasant Gap, spent part of last Sunday visiting friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Showers, of Pleasant Gap, were visiting at the home of their sister-in-law, Mrs. J. M. Mullinger, last Monday.

J. B. McCormick moved to Sunbury again from whence he came prior to taking charge of the restaurant now conducted by G. L. Relsh.

Boalsburg.

Mrs. George C. Hall returned to her home in Wilmington, Del., Saturday, after spending several months in town.

Edward Hunter, of Crafton, spent part of last week at the home of his aunt, Mrs. E. E. Stuart.

Mrs. George Mothersbaugh, accompanied Edward Durst to Clearfield on Wednesday to visit her sister, Mrs. Durst, a patient in the Clearfield hospital.

Miss Annie Sweeney returned to Centre Hall on Tuesday after spending a few weeks at her home in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Clement Dale, of Pleasant Gap, were visitors in town Sunday afternoon.

Rev. H. L. Wink will conduct communion services in the Reformed church on Sunday, November 18th; preparatory services on Friday evening.

Mrs. Alma Hoy, of State College, was a guest at the home of her brother, George Homan, and family, last week.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Reformed church will hold their Thank-offering service Sunday evening, November 18th.

Luther Dale and son, Frederic, made a business trip to Centre Hall Monday morning.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mrs. George Fisher, of Boalsburg, entertained on Wednesday evening of last week in honor of the birthday of her daughter, Louise. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. T. Wallace, Mrs. Rachael Hostetter, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Kilne and Misses Mary Segner, Margaret Dale, Ruth Craine, Virginia Hess, Rachael Segner, and Anna Mary Hess and Fred Lonberger, of Boalsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Storch and Miss Mary Moore, of State College; Miss Helen Harpster, of Phillipsburg, and George Finglebeiner, of Bellefonte.

FARM CALENDAR.

Timely Reminders from Pennsylvania State College School of Agriculture

GROW FOREST TREES—Idle land can be used to grow forest trees. Very dry and infertile fields should be planted with pitch, Scotch, banks, and red pines, but white ash, black locust, Norway spruce, and Japanese larch can be more successfully started on moist soils.

CHOOSE SEED CAREFULLY—Seed selection is an important step in the growing of vegetables. In extension demonstrations it has been found that there is not only a marked difference in the yields from various sources of seed but the quality of the products also differs.

APPLE IS POPULAR—McIntosh is one of the best dessert apples. Many consider it the best to eat out of hand. It also is one of the finest sauce apples. McIntosh is a juicy high quality rich aroma apple. Its season is October, November and December.

ARTIFICIAL LIGHTS HELP—Use of artificial light in poultry houses to lengthen the birds' working day has been found practical and profitable. Feed consumption and egg production during the winter months are increased by the use of lights.

DESTROY HARBORED INSECTS—The winter quarters of many harmful insects will be destroyed if garden trash is destroyed. Old vines and dead vegetation should be cleaned up and burned.

Fires on Morro Castle and at Nome, Alaska, Received Help of Red Cross Workers

A number of tragic and unusual disasters have recently called for Red Cross relief.

Included in them have been a flood in Kentucky, following a series of cloudbursts in August; epidemics of disease which threatened several sections, including some caused by drought conditions. Red Cross workers found much to do for the survivors of the Morro Castle fire and for those engaged in rescue work; and Red Cross relief went by airplane to Alaska when the famous old gold camp, Nome, burned in September.

THE TRUTH

ABOUT HAIR AND HAIR TREATMENTS

You may be one of millions who has wasted time, hope, money on "tonics" and treatments. . . Now Charles Nessler, inventor of the permanent wave, leading hair scientist, author of "Story of Hair", makes a simple but revolutionary discovery that ends BALDNESS • DANDRUFF OILINESS • THINNING HAIR

In the past, tonics and treatments tried to stop hair from falling. That is as useless as to try to stop an animal from shedding! What you must do is make your scalp replace the hair that falls—in short, complete the hair growing cycle. It is on that scientific principle that Charles Nessler's Pro-Ker is based. 30,000 tests have proved that Pro-Ker produces results. Hair for hair, it makes the scalp replace falling hair with new hair. Enjoy your birthright—beautiful, lustrous hair. Send for Charles Nessler's revealing booklet. Better still, buy Pro-Ker at your druggist, or mail the coupon below.
