Buck Kill Light in Seven Mts. First 3 Days; 9 for Day Hunters

The report of buck deer killed in McKinney's district, Seven Mountains, for the first three days, is but thirty-one, very light, probably due to two factors—vacant hunting camps and the heavy rain on Saturday. But three camps in the district reported having slaughtered more than one buck. Many of the camps are vacant, and some parties out on Saturday and Monday left the mountains on Tuesday.

The report of the kill in McKinney's district as obtained at the State House on Tuesday evening follows:

Bucks Killed Here and There.

Emmet Brooks and a companion killed two bucks on Nittany Mountain on the first day of the season. The bucks were traveling together and met with bad company for "deer life."

A hunting party at O. P. McCord's, Rattle Snake Mountain, with which H. L. Ebright hunted Saturday and Monday, captured five. There were about 80 bucks killed in that district during the first two days of the season.

Archey Moyer, of town, Tuesday morning strolled up Nittany Mountain and was lucky enough to get a shot at an 8-point buck, which he brought down.

Frank Shawver also got a nice buck. He was hunting with a small group.

A local party routed a buck from his nest and shot at him five times, without puncturing the skin.

The Bare Penn club on the ridge road back of Snow Shoe with which John Meeker, John and Bruce Knarr, Robert Meeker, Van Meeker, W. F. MacMorran, and Paul Fetterolf, from this section are identified, killed one.

Richard Houtz, of Johnstown, captain of the Green Valley and a neighboring camp who hunted and killed a buck without properly preparing a roster for the day, was arrested Tuesday evening by Deputy Warden Samuel Kunes, of Howard. The case was heard by Squire Slack, who fined the captain $25.00.

Robert Neil, on the Lieb farm east of town, was another lucky day hunter to get a buck.

The Dutrow-Walker-Homan crowd, of town, hunting in the Alleghenies, reported Tuesday night three bucks killed.

John Reifensnyder, Linden Hall, is credited with having killed a buck.

Clayton McKinney, forester at Ligonier, in company with Mrs. McKinney, and young son and Harry Shirley, a neighbor, are at the McKinney home. While the mountainous section of which the young man is in charge is a good hunting field, it is infested from the first to the last day by large groups of hunters, many of them from out of state.

The Slack hunting party, located in a tent along Baker Run, east of Renovo, were successful in killing a buck deer on the first day of the season, Ernest Homan having been the hunter who captured the game. Others in the party are Fred, John and Russell Slack, George and Ralph Luse, Ralph Homan, James Frohm, C. P. Ramer, Ray Decker, Dan Bloom, R.S. Jamison, Ralph Whiteman, Ralph Brooks.

Among the individual hunters who were successful in killing bucks were Boyd Smith and Dewey Neff, Potters Mills, and a hunter from Red Lion stopping with William Jordan. The latter was on his way to the mountains across the fields and made the kill before reaching the hunting grounds he set out for. He immediately loaded the carcass on an auto and struck out for his home in York county.

Checking up on street reports oftentimes spoils a good story already on the copy-book in a newspaper office. This was the case in the Reporter office Monday morning when a detailed account had been written up of a dirty trick reported to have been served by Boyd Smith, at Potters Mills. Reports had it that Boyd had gambled the carcass of a nice buck to the front of his home, and that in the evening some scalawag had cut it down and carted it off.

Mrs. Lee and Jimmy Swabb, at the Potters Mills hotel, failed to verify the statements as to the truth of the theft of the dead deer, but vouched for the fact that Boyd got "hiss" the first day of the season.

The Centre Hall Extension class, under the direction of Miss Smith, Centre County Extension Director, will meet at the home of Mrs. F. M. Fish Friday at 2:00 P. M.

SENATOR-ELECT THOMPSON ON INAUGURAL BALL COMM.

Senator-elect Edward J. Thompson, of Phillipsburg, has been named as a member of the committee selected to plan for the inaugural ball to climax the first day of the term of George H. Earle as governor of Pennsylvania. It is planned to make it the most brilliant inaugural ball ever held in the state.

Proceeds of the affair are to be given to the families of the victims of the Kelayres shooting, election eve.

Senator Thompson was also appointed a member of the Senate steering committee, with Warren R. Roberts, Northampton, chairman. Other associates are Heran E. Buamer, Cambria; C. W. Soner, Lycoming, and John S. Rice, Adams.

FIRE COMPANY REORGANIZES AT MEETING MONDAY NIGHT

In its second attempt to do so, the local volunteer fire company members succeeded in reorganizing at a meeting held Monday night.

The officers nominated and elected are, president, J. S. Booser; vice-president, C. B. Reiber; secretary, T. L. Moore; treasurer, D. W. Bradford; fire chief, T. L. Smith; assistant fire chief, Clyde E. Bradford.

It was discovered the organization has on deposit in the defunct Penns Valley bank the sum of $140. An auditing committee was appointed to audit the account of the former treasurer and place the funds in the hands of the new treasurer.

There was a general discussion of varied subjects, the principal one being how funds may be raised with which to purchase better and additional equipments for fighting fire.

TARANTULA ON EXHIBITION IN EMERY'S GENERAL STORE

A large and extremely active tarantula was captured the latter part of last week by Howard Emery, clerk in the Emery general store, as he was preparing a bunch of bananas for display. The spider is now imprisoned in a glass jar and is on exhibition.

The lycoid spider is covered with short blackish brown hairs, has ten legs varying in length from one to two inches and uses them all in locomoting. The "chassis" is about two inches in length and is built on the June bug style, with the rear portion being near double the front. A single eye is visible and is located on the top of the head.

A bite of the spider is supposed to produce tarantism, a dancing mania, and is much dreaded in warm climates.

SCHMITT-ROBINSON.

At twelve o'clock, noon, on Saturday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Robinson, Spring Mills, the marriage of their daughter, Miss Barbara and William Schmitt was solemnized. Rev. Seth Russell, a next-door neighbor, pastor of the Methodist church, performing the ceremony. The witnesses to the event were confined to the Robinson family and Mrs. Russell. The ceremony was simple but impressive, with no attendants.

The bride is a charming young lady, who but recently passed the examination of the State board and became a full-fledged registered nurse, having previously graduated from Abington Memorial hospital after taking a three years' course.

The groom is a resident of Rockledge, Montgomery county, a suburb of Philadelphia, where the couple will live at 18 Borbeck street, on their return from a honeymoon in Washington, D. C. and in Virginia.

Mr. Schmitt holds a lucrative position with the Sun Oil Company, in the advertising department, in its offices on Walnut street, Philadelphia.

The schedule of salaries paid state political appointees is not particularly disheartening to the thousands of Democrats willing and capable of acceptably performing the service required. For years the Republican job holders have been observed flitting about in state cars—seven days a week—and not infrequently with the whole or a part of the appointee's family or other friends. Hundreds sitting in offices have been noted as loafers instead of workers. Other day after day have given their time to their personal affairs and at the same time received the monthly check without deductions. The qualifications of these job holders have also been noted, and to say the least, the average ability is found to be so ordinary that their equals and superiors may be found anywhere in great numbers. Of course, under the incoming Democratic administration a more superior service will be demanded and personnel of a higher order sought, with no increase in salary, but as indicated above, there will be no dearth of applicants amply qualified and willing to accept the appointments under the present schedule of salaries.

Governor-elect George H. Earle began his 1934 deer hunt at 5:00 a. m. Saturday morning and continued until noon without getting a shot at a buck. He hunted near Port Allegheny, McKean county, on a private estate.

W. F. BRADFORD RETIRES AS STATION AGENT, CENTRE HALL

After a service with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for fifty years, lacking but a few months, W. Frank Bradford retired on Friday, having reached the age of seventy a week or more previous to that date.

He began his service when entering the local station as a student under A. L. Catherman, then agent here, and was first appointed agent at Paddy Mountain, then a shipping point of importance, the outgo being prop timber and lumber and the incoming grains and hay. After a service there for a number of years he was transferred to Centre Hall where he continued until reaching the age when retirement was compulsory.

As an agent he was efficient, giving his best services, and rarely took time off other than that granted regularly to employees of his class.

The day following his retirement he went to the Bradford hunting camp, in Seven Mountains, to engage in his favorite sport, hunting.

FAMILY REUNION AT HOME OF MR. & MRS. C. G. WEAVER

The home of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Weaver, near Tusseyville, was the scene of a happy gathering on Thanksgiving day when all the children of Mr. and Mrs. Weaver and six grandchildren, and the mother of Mrs. Weaver and her four sisters and two brothers and six nephews and nieces met. This reunion had been planned for years and this is the first year the whole family has been together.

Thirty-nine persons surrounded the festive board at the noon hour and forty at the supper hour. After the turkey dinner there was an old-fashioned barn dance held in the barn on the farm. Mr. and Mrs. Randall Throssel were the players and John Throssel called off.

Those present were: Mrs. Wm. Throssel, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Keen and three children, of Altoona; Mr. and Mrs. Randall Throssel and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cross, of York; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blake, of Lewisburg; Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Shively and Mr. and Mrs. John Throssel and three children, of Millburg; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Weaver and two children; Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Weaver and four children; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Weaver, and Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Weaver and children, John, Edna, Fred, Glenn, James, Donald and Wynne.

School Board Reorganizes.

At a meeting of the local school board, held Monday evening, Rev. J. M. Kirkpatrick was elected president of the board; E. E. Bailey, vice-president. Other officers of the board are R. S. Hazan, treasurer, and D. K. Keller, secretary.

It was voted to assist the two upper schools in the grade school building in the purchase of a junior Encyclopedia Britannica. These schools raised practically half enough of the funds necessary at an indoor circus given a short time ago.

It was also voted to oil the floors of both grade and high school buildings during the Christmas vacation period.

$17,500,000 ESTATE UNACCOUNTED FOR AFTER FOUR YEARS

The $17,500,000 Garrett estate is still officially unaccounted for.

Its two administrators, Charles S. Starr and Frank G. Marcellus, failed again to make an accounting. They have had charge of the estate for four years without making any report.

Although the Judges of Orphans' Court threatened them with jail if they did not produce a report by last Saturday, the administrators said they were unable to do so.

Through their attorney, H. Allen Dawson, they reported to Register of Wills Dougherty: "Some of the pages of our report were damaged in photostating. We cannot hand in a full report at this time."

The administrators promised to place the accounting in Dougherty's hands "the first thing Monday morning." "I suppose that he will satisfy" said Robert Boyle counsel for the Register of Wills. He said if the report is in before court opens Monday he does not see how the administrators can be held for contempt.

The estate is that of Mrs. Henrietta Garrett, 404 S. 9th st., Philadelphia, widow of a snuff manufacturer. At the time of her death, the value of the estate was unknown and Mrs. Garrett bequeathed only $52,000 in her will.

Since revelation of the size of the estate, an army of 5000 claimants has come forward. New claimants are communicating with the court at the rate of three a day.

The expected battle over disposal of the estate cannot start until after the administrators' accounting.

As has been mentioned heretofore, the Klimefelters in this section are heirs to the estate.

Door-to-door handbills are an intrusion upon the privacy of the home, but the newspaper is invited in. Its advertisements are read avidly, and its advertisements are considered a part of these messages. The newspaper is so definitely a part of the people, so much an accepted member of the family, that its pages constitute the finest advertising medium yet devised.

The Centre Reporter, $1.50 a year.

Robert J. Sudlow. The bride was attended by Betty Musser, and the groom by a friend from Pittsburgh. The couple left immediately after the ceremony for Pittsburgh, where they were guests of the groom's parents. After a brief honeymoon Dr. and Mrs. Fitch will begin housekeeping in a home in Millheim which was furnished by the couple previous to the wedding.

FIRE COMPANY TO SPONSOR SERIES OF BINGO GAMES

The first of a series of bingo games will be played Friday night in the I. O. O. F. hall. The entertainment is being sponsored by the local volunteer fire company.

There will be at least two applicants for each state job in Pennsylvania. To help out the poor Democrats, the Republican holding the job will be willing to stay, in fact, he will insist he has a priority right because he held it so long a time, and then it is presumable that at least one Democrat can be induced to forsake his private business, profession, trade, avocation or vocation to give his services to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, provided, however, the salary is not more than reasonable pay for the services required.

If there is a single Republican applicant in the state not willing to carry on after January 15th, let him send his resignation to the Reporter to be forwarded to the head of the department he is serving under. If no capable Democrat can be found willing to take his job, Governor George H. Earle will then be persuaded to discontinue the sinecure on the ground that it is an undesirable reward for a faithful Democrat in this day and generation.

A meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held next Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Margaret Godshall.

CENTRE HALL "HIGH" SOCCER TEAM IN FINAL PLAY-OFF FOR TITLE, DECEMBER 8TH

By eliminating Covington from the race for the Central Pennsylvania championship, the Centre Hall High school soccer team earned a place in the final play-off for the title to be played at State College, Saturday, December 8, at 2 p. m.

The semi-final game with Covington, Wednesday, November 28, provided little competition for the "Tiger" booters who won by a 5-0 score.

Walker substituting at center forward for Frank who was out of the game with an injured knee, proved to be the offensive star of the game by scoring three of the five goals. McClellan and McClellan contributed the other scores of the game.

Captain Spyster, playing one of the best games of his soccer career, figured largely in the Centre Hall offense with his uncanny dribbling and clever passing, and Coldron, a tower of strength on the defense, capably "backed up" the line on the offense with his speed and accurate booting.

In the final game of the Central Pennsylvania championship series to be played this Saturday, the local dribblers will meet the winners of the Millburg-Elysburg game. This final game will be played on one of the varsity fields at Penn State.

HUGH MORROW, JR., HAS CAR ACCIDENT, THURSDAY

Fog and rain making the visibility poor and the highways slippery, on Thursday night, the car driven by Hugh Morrow, Jr., of Centre Hall, and occupied by Miss Mary Strauss, of Elkland, and Walter Ruch, of Lewisburg, skidded on the curved approach to a bridge at Lenhartsville, on the William Penn Highway near Hamburg and swerved into the guard rail, smashing the right rear wheel, dislodging the rear bumper, and damaging the body slightly.

None of the trio was injured. They were on their way to Lewisburg after attending the Bucknell-Temple football game at Philadelphia, Thursday afternoon. After the damaged vehicle had been towed to a garage, the three occupants boarded a Reading train at Hamburg for Lewisburg.

Morrow is a sophomore at Bucknell University.

J. C. LEE "CONTRACT" AGENT AT CENTRE HALL R. R. STA.

On the retirement of W. F. Bradford as agent at the local station, Jacob C. Lee, of Spring Mills, became his successor. The station here and that at Rising Springs are both "contract" stations, the agents serving them having entered into contract with the P. R. R. Co. to serve for a stipulated sum. Mr. Lee is succeeding Mr. Bradford here, and Miles W. Johnson succeeds Mr. Lee at Rising Springs.

Mr. Lee's first connection with the P. R. R. was when he became a student at Linden Hall under P. C. Bradford, and after having been located at Lewisburg, Coburn, Northumberland and Milton, got his first permanent post when he was returned to Linden Hall as agent, remaining there until 1910, when he was transferred to Spring Mills, the station being named Rising Springs.

Mr. Lee will continue to live at Spring Mills and will travel between here and there by auto. Mr. Johnson will be his assistant here when extra help is needed.

NATIONAL GRANGE, HARTFORD, CONN., ATTENDED BY 20,000

The 68th annual session of the National Grange just held at Hartford, Conn., broke all records in point of attendance, and interest, and outlined a program of progress for the farmers and rural people of the United States which must be far-reaching in its beneficial effects. Thirty-four states were represented at the session, reaching from coast to coast, and the total number of members attending was in excess of 20,000; furnishing new evidence of the vitality and power of the Grange, the oldest and largest farm organization in America and the only farm fraternity in the world.

A new record in fraternal history was made by the Hartford session of the National Grange, when almost 12,000 men and women were initiated into the Seventh Degree, the highest in the organization.

The Grange stand upon many vital public questions will exert powerful influence upon the future course of the nation, and especially noteworthy are the Grange declarations on Financing the Farmer, Lifting Farm Prices, Lightening Tax Burdens, Protecting the People's Savings, and a Sane Relief Program. Its positive assertions relative to the shipment of intoxicating liquors into dry territory; prohibiting the issuance of tax-exempt securities; finding new industrial uses for farm products; and protecting American homes from confiscation by extreme tax measures—will have an immediate appeal to the thoughtful people of America.

Democrats in Centre Hall, as well as those in Potter and Gregg townships, who so liberally contributed to the recent campaign fund, are cheered over the fact that for the first time in many years the campaign pot had a balance in it after the election in which all the Democratic candidates were elected. That's something to feel cocky about.
