MARVEY W. FLINK'S POEM WINS RECOGNITION The National Council for Prevention of War, Washington, D. C., has accepted a poem entitled "The Plovers" by Harvey W. Flink, local poet, and is having mimeographed copies of it made for distribution among rural groups all over the United States for use in peace programs. The "peace" poem follows: THE PLOVSHARE. And they shall beat their swords into plovshares.—Mich 4:3. Scoured clean of every bit of clinging loam, I glitter brightly in the setting sun; The farmer drives his team of horses home, For one more day of useful toil is done. Before me lies the field that I have ploughed, And soon it will be quickening with seed; And when the apple limbs with snow are bowed, There will be food enough to meet our need. I have been hammered from a score of swords; Not many years ago this steel was thrust In living human flesh; now farm's hordes Have bread to eat because I cleave the dust. O God of Peace, in dreams I still can feel The quivering of bosoms pierced by steel. Mr. Flink also recently won first prize for a ballad entitled "The Luck-flower" which appeared in "The Quickening Seed," a literary magazine published in Columbus, Ohio.

She is active in the affairs of the Pennsylvania State Medical Society, the American Medical Association and the Mercer County Medical Society. She has been recommended for her present appointment by some of the State's outstanding physicians and by representative women's groups in all parts of the Commonwealth."

FREEMAN RE-ELECTED HEAD OF YOUNG DEMOCRATIC CLUB

The quarterly meeting of the Centre County Young Democratic Club was held in the Court House, Bellefonte, Thursday night of last week. Plans for participation by the club in the inaugural ceremonies at Harrisburg were formulated. The club, in co-operation with the Democratic County Committee, will procure a supply of the official inaugural badge, making it possible for all Centre countians who wish to march in the inaugural parade to wear the official emblem for the inauguration of the first Democratic Governor in 44 years. A Centre county band will lead the club in the parade. A special train will be run between Bellefonte and Harrisburg, January 15, stopping at Lemont, Centre Hall, Spring Mills, Coburn and all passenger stations along the route to Sunbury. The round trip can be made for three dollars. The schedule for the special will be announced in the near future. Any person wishing to travel to Harrisburg on this train should make the fact known to County Chairman S. Claude Herr or the precinct Democratic chairman of your voting district in order to assure proper accommodations. Centre county's next representative in the General Assembly, John W. Decker, was presented to the gathering and gave assurance of faithful representation and protection of the interests of all wherever possible. Charles E. Freeman, of Philipsburg, was elected president of the club for 1935. He was elected by acclamation. Kyle Alexander was elected first vice-president, and Dr. A. S. Bashore, second vice-president. Dr. Bashore is a cousin of Ralph M. Bashore, secretary of the Democratic State Committee and Secretary-designate of the Department of Forests and Waters. Walter Beeser, of Philipsburg, was re-elected treasurer and Boyd Vonada, secretary. Swengel Smith was appointed chairman of a committee to investigate the matter of local young Democratic clubs and their relation to the county club. There are already three local clubs organized in as many communities throughout the county. These clubs have expressed a desire to become affiliated with the county club in a subordinate manner. A campaign will then be made to organize local clubs throughout the county. In accepting his re-election Charles Freeman spoke of the success of the club during its first year; of the pleasure he had from working with the members and the support they gave him, and declared the future held many things for the club to accomplish. George Meek, Coed Walker, Henry Brockerhoff and Dr. Bashore made very interesting remarks. Each of the men stressed the fact that the work of the Democratic party was just beginning now that we have elected our State candidates; that much of the success of the administration will depend upon the support given to the program George H. Earle will introduce when he takes charge of the State government, January 15; that the club may render much support to the county committee during future campaigns if a sincere and faithful cooperation exist within the membership of the club.

Christmas THE practice of making merry and expression of best wishes seems to be the universal spirit at Christmas time. EVERYBODY seems to take part. EACH year Christmas is bigger than the last. A GOOD illustration of the way Christmas has grown can be made by the different Santas we have had. ONE of our first Santas in the Old Country was a tall thin fellow wearing a peaked hat, but when he came over to America our climate agreed with him so well that he became so nice and fat and round. It makes us wonder how he ever is able to scramble down the chimneys. He gets there all right and it is our sincere wish that every one will be made happy on his trip around this year.
