"LEST WE FORGET."

The leading editorial in the Democratic Watchman in the first issue of the current year, under the above caption, is reprinted in part:
"Every county, city, town and village in the State heard either the candidates, personally, or their advocates promise that if the people would throw off the shackles of the Republican organization all of the political 'drones, hacks and 'yes men' who have been living off the taxpayers for years and years would be thrown out."
"In fact Pennsylvania went Democratic because it wanted to be rid of the Republicans who have governed it for half a century."
"Our leaders can't shut their eyes to that fact. They gave their word to clean house, the people are expecting it, and no matter what the cost may be in personal feelings it must be done if the Democracy of Pennsylvania is to make good to the thousands and thousands of Republicans who voted for it, not so much because of Roosevelt's popularity as because of the opportunity it gave them to rid their party of corrupt leaders in high places and 'yes men' all along the line, down to the minor posts in the wide activities of the State."
"Lest we forget, All will be well."

WORKMEN'S BOARD CLAIMS YEAR TO GO; DEPIES EARLE

The three members of the State Workmen's Compensation Board, appointed by Governor Pinchot, on Thursday defied Governor-elect Geo. H. Earle to oust them.
Although Earle a week previous announced the first new appointment—Norbert J. Fitzgerald—to the board and is preparing to name two additional members, the present members claim their terms of office run another year.
They are former Judge Arthur C. Dale, of Centre county; William J. Burchinal, Fayette county, and Edward J. Hunter, Philadelphia.

The law, as recorded here, and their own certificates of appointment on file in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, refute their claims, however.

On Capitol Hill, the statement was regarded as a political move to embarrass the new Democratic administration by claims that a change in the board's personnel will disrupt its humanitarian work.

The three board members themselves were appointed by Governor Pinchot a few weeks after he received their predecessors, Paul W. Horick, Pottsville, chairman; Joseph Fleitz, Scranton, and John L. Morrison, of Greenville, on February 20, 1931. That was a month after Pinchot assumed office.

Dale, Burchinal and Hunter were appointed March 9, 1931, and were sworn the next day. Their commissions gave their assumption of office as of the date their predecessors were fired and gave the expiration date of each Pinchot appointee, as "the third Tuesday of January, 1935, or until his successor is named and has qualified."
The Act of 1915, creating the Compensation Board, specifies the terms of its members to be four years.

Deaths

WOLFE.—Rev. David John Wolfe, a brief notice of whose death occurred in last week's issue of the Reporter, was born December 31, 1866, at Carlisle Springs, Cumberland county, and was aged exactly sixty-eight years. He was a son of Joseph and Emazoeth Wolfe.

After attending public school he graduated from Mercersburg Academy, Franklin and Marshall College and the Theological Seminary of the Reformed church, Lancaster. During the years of 1893-94 he was an assistant to Dr. D. M. Wolfe at the Penn Hall Academy and the following year taught at Zion.

He accepted and entered upon his first charge at Ruffsedale, Westmoreland county, in 1896, and the following year, on June 2nd, his marriage to Miss Jessie M. Durst took place.

The second charge served by the minister was at Walkersville, Md., where he remained for five years, and from there he located at Tarrytown, Md., remaining for eleven years. Other appointments were at Carlisle, five years, and Homestead, where he died, fifteen years, making his ministerial services a total of thirty-eight years.

Funeral services were held in the First Reformed church, Homestead, and were conducted by Rev. R. E. Corman, assisted by Rev. Berger, president of Allegheny Classis, and Rev. Leiberling, president of Homestead Ministerial Association, and were attended by twenty-four ministers of Allegheny and Northern Classes of the Reformed Church.

Funeral services were conducted at Centre Hall, where interment was made, by Rev. Corman, assisted by Rev. D. R. Keener, pastor of Trinity Reformed church.

WENRICK.—Mrs. Laura L. Slegal Wenrick, widow of H. H. Wenrick, died in the Williamsport hospital, Sunday shortly after the noon hour. Death followed a gall bladder operation, the direct cause having been pneumonia. She had been ill for several months prior to her going to the hospital from her home in Williamsport. The body was brought to the Goodhart morgue Sunday afternoon.

The deceased was born in Osceola Mills, May 12, 1898, a daughter of Daniel H. and Lydia Carson Slegal. She was married Feb. 10, 1922, and in 1932 her husband died.

Her education was begun in the Gregg Township public schools. Later she graduated from the school for nurses connected with the Bloomsburg hospital. She also attended Temple University, Philadelphia, and Penn State College. She followed the profession of nursing. She was a member of the Episcopal church.

The deceased is survived by her parents, previously named, and these brothers and sisters: Eugene C. Fairfield, Conn.; D. Fred, Robert A., Miss Mary and Miss Orpha, at home, and Miss Catharine, Fairfield, Conn.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the parental home in Spring Mills. Rev. Seth Russell, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating. Interment was made in the cemetery at Millheim.

The pallbearers were Christ Musser, Ralph Shook, Paul Noll, Harry Corman, Roy Krumrine, Bright Bitner.

BOYER.—Mrs. Josephine Boyer, wife of H. J. Boyer, died at her home at 34 Maple Terrace, Battle Creek, Mich., on December 23.

She was born at Friedens, Somerset county, about 78 years ago.

Mrs. Boyer will be remembered by the older residents as Jo Tomlinson, and was a daughter of the late Rev. and Mrs. John Tomlinson, who served the Aaronburg Lutheran charge from 1874 to 1884.

Surviving the deceased are her husband, who is 99 years of age, and her two daughters: Mrs. Ruth Wilson, wife of Dr. Wilson, of California, and Mrs. Naomi Houck, wife of Clyde Houck, of Battle Creek. These brothers and sisters also survive: Mrs. Ed. Kuhn, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Ed. Krouse, of York; John P. Tomlinson, of Jacksonville, Mich., and Frank S. Tomlinson, of Aaronburg.

MUSSER.—Mitchell A. Musser died at his home in Scotland, So. Dakota, Saturday morning after a short illness. He was a farmer by occupation and left Penna Valley for South Dakota about fifty-two years ago.

The deceased was a son of Absalom and Rebecca Emerick Musser and was born on one of the Mitchell farms, now owned by Wallace Igen. The family later removed to Aaronburg where Mr. Musser was reared. He was aged about 75 years.

He is survived by his wife, formerly Catharine Graden, a sister of Mrs. H. A. White, of Centre Hall, and these children: Willard, of Charles City, Iowa; Mrs. C. F. Burwell, of Sioux City, S. D.; Allison, Mrs. Joseph Eisman, and Dewey, Scotland, S. D. Also, by three brothers, namely, Robert D. Musser, Spring Mills; Clarence Musser, Aaronburg, and Howard Musser, Woodward.

VENRICK.—John Junior Venrick, after an illness extending over a considerable period of time, died Saturday at his home in Potter township, from heart trouble. Interment was made in the Zion Hill cemetery, and services were conducted by Rev. A. F. Bierly, Rev. J. M. Zang, pastor of the Zion Hill church, assisting.

The deceased was an only child born to Daniel and Lydia Lingle, at their home in Po Valley, November 19, 1877, making his age 57 years.

month, and 16 days.
He was first a woodsman, having been the most skilled man with an axe in his generation in this section.
He is survived by a wife whose maiden name was Mary Emerick, and these children: Florence, Mrs. Norman Sewlaugh, John Venrick, Milroy; Paul D. Venrick, Centre Hall; Mildred, Mrs. Robert Kreisler, and Violet, Mrs. Robert Swartz, Lewistown; Glenn, Frank and Anthony, at home. There are also five grandchildren.

ADAMS.—Harriet R. Adams, widow of Richard Adams, died Monday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. C. A. Feckman, near Spring Mills.

Funeral services will be held at the Heckman home Thursday afternoon and interment made at Renovo, where the Adams family lived, and Mr. Adams is buried.

The deceased was a daughter of Jacob and Mary Snaveley Emerick and was born July 28, 1879, in Penn township, making her age 55 years, 6 months and 9 days.

Mrs. Adams was ill much of the time since coming to the home of her sister several months ago. Death was due to a paralytic stroke.

There are no children.

DON'T RUIN Young Eyes

..WITH Light THAT GLARES

UNSHADED LIGHTS are glaring lights... and are harmful to young eyes. They are a major cause of eyestrain. And eyestrain impairs vision so rapidly that one child in every five needs glasses at school age. Protect those young eyes! Shade all bulbs so that the EYE is not exposed to the bare bulb. Have plenty of light, too, well distributed throughout the room... these are positive means of reducing eyestrain and minimizing the resulting fatigue. Also, adopt the habit of having an eyesight specialist examine your child's eyes... at least once each year. You will find that these precautions will be effective in protecting your child's eyesight.
