To Drive Out Grifters. "I despise special privilege and petty graft," said Governor Earle at the first cabinet meeting. "I am going to drive out the representatives of the interests and the grafters."

SOCIAL SECURITY HIGHLIGHTS Highlights of the Administration's economic security program as outlined in the president's message and embodied in the Wagner Bill: Creation of the old-age pensions, old-age insurance and unemployment insurance. Extension of public health service, but no health insurance. Compulsory old-age insurance, to be financed fifty-fifty by employer and employee. Workers earning less than $250 per month be eligible for pension amounting to $22.50 to $75 at age of 65 depending on period of contribution to fund. Voluntary old-age annuity system for workers earning more than $250 per month, providing pensions up to $100. Pension system for those now over 60 financed fifty-fifty by the States and the Federal Government, pensions up to $30 a month. Participation in strikes not to exclude workers from pensions. Unemployment insurance will not aid those now unemployed. Wagner bill appropriates $98,500,000 for the first year, authorizes appropriations of $218,500,000 a year as program develops. Sen. Wagner admits bill's shortcomings, characterizes it as "adventure into an unexplored field."

Republicans in the State Senate are making every possible effort to prevent the early adoption of measures permitting the re-writing of the State Constitution.

LAURELS.

During the recent past C. H. H. S. has achieved two of its foremost ambitions in the extra-curricular activities, viz: Central Pennsylvania High School Soccer Championship and a first place award for "The Tiger" in the newspaper division of the annual P. S. P. A. contest. "The Tiger" wishes to commend the team for its display of clean, well-executed soccer and for the sportsmanship displayed in competition for the coveted crown which rests for the first time in the history of Centre county soccer on the C. H. H. S. squad.

After three years of competition in the P. S. P. A. contest, "The Tiger," having placed second for the two preceding years, was given a first place award along with the Keith Junior High School of Altoona and Curtin Junior High of Williamsport. Our school, with an enrollment of less than a hundred, should feel highly gratified in publishing a paper which places so high in competition with much larger schools. This high award was made possible by the splendid cooperation of the student body with the staff and the faculty. These awards should not be only symbols of activities well done but should hold a challenge to maintain the high standard of these activities in the school.

READING FACILITIES.

The first week in the new year was inventory week in the C. H. H. S. library, and the members of the faculty found the library much larger than they had estimated. With the addition of new books the total is now eleven hundred fifty-seven volumes. For so small a school Centre Hall High School has achieved high ranking among the other schools of the county. It ranks first when compared with other Class B schools, and is excelled only by State College, Bellefonte, and Phillipsburg. Reference books, novels, biographies and short stories—these and many others go to make up a good library. "The Great Impersonation" by E. Phillips Oppenheim; "You Make Your Own Luck" by Elsie Singmaster; "The Soul of Ann Rutledge" by Bernice Babcock and "Cimmarron" by Edna Ferber are a few of the fifty-two new books purchased this year for use in the library.

A "GYM" IN THE OFFING.

While reviewing the accomplishments of the school, we are confronted by the old subject of gymnasium. The school has been much handicapped, and naturally inactive in basketball, by the lack of a "gym." Our national government has initiated a large program, the P. W. A., through which many communities have secured aid for the construction of community halls, athletic fields, etcetera. If the community would undertake the building of a "gym" which could be constructed so as to be suitable for an auditorium, all of the labor expense and possibly some of the materials could be obtained from the P.W.A. "The Tiger" wishes to awaken the public to the need of such a building which, when completed would be a desirable addition to our community and an appreciated asset to our school facilities.

SOPHOMORES PLAN "OUR COMMUNITY" PROJECT IN ENGLISH

The sophomore English pupils, working individually or in committees, are now carrying on a project on "Our Community," which will become a part of the school library when it is finished. The pupils gathered information from interviews with people of the community; from books and legends; and by writing to several professors at Penn State. There will be included historical sites, superstitions, schools, churches, places of interest, early pioneers, libraries, roads, geography, occupations, industries; and parks.

4-H SEWING CLUB GIVES PARTY; PLANS BOX SOCIAL FOR FEBRUARY

Margaret Ross '35, chairman of the 4-H club committee, which is arranging a box social, announces that this event is to be held in the Earlstown school house, Friday evening, February first. The 4-H Sewing Club, under the direction of Miss Eleanor Smith, also held a Christmas party on December fourteenth in the Assembly room of the high school building. The members of the club invited their mothers as guests of the evening. Plays, dialogues and music were furnished by the members of the club as entertainment, and refreshments were served later in the evening.

Pupils of C. H. H. S. Prove Truth of Adage, "What's In A Name?"

Names play a very important part in the history of the Centre Hall high school. There are those ranging from pre-historic times to those coined by pupils of the school.

A barbarian, one of the Franks, a tribe who invaded France and settled there, had, by some miracle, survived through the ages and found his way to the small school of Centre Hall high. In spite of this fact he is becoming quite civilized, but at times still causes great commotion in the class rooms. The Smiths, however, who settled in every nook and corner of the world, dating back from untold centuries, predominate in the school. There are also some very industrious students: two Walkers, who seem to delight in this exercise; two Horners, although one was silenced by a broken part, and two trail Blazers.

The citizens of Centre Hall must not be alarmed to discover that there is one "Dixie" among the students, and one practically "Goofy." These defects can be explained by the fact that an "Imp" walks daily among the pupils raising such havoc among all that things become quite "Stormy." Among the possessions of the school are listed one "Fish" one "Shrimp," one "Rubie" (or Russian extraction, mayhap), one "Cap," one "Pepper."
