

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

The local I. O. O. F. Hall Association will meet Wednesday evening, Feb'y 6.

Thomas Brew Hamilton, who a few days ago celebrated his ninety-seventh birthday, is Bellefonte's oldest citizen, and one of two Civil War veterans in the county seat.

Be sure to read every article in this issue of the Reporter that refers to "The Birthday Party for the President" and the "The Birthday Greeting Plan."

Mrs. John B. Wert, Miss Ann Wert and Kenneth Wert, the latter at the wheel, motored to Pittsburgh on Sunday to be with the former's daughter, Mary, now Mrs. George Treverrow.

Mrs. J. M. Kirkpatrick, president of the Clover Club, entertained the members of the club at her home on last Thursday evening. Guests at the time were Mrs. Stitt, of Bellwood, a sister of Rev. Kirkpatrick, and Miss Wibel, a niece.

W. M. Lever, comptroller at the Treaster Kettle transient camp, is a Philadelphia. His position puts him in charge of all monies, supplies, etc., and supervises all financial affairs of the camp, and, by the way, a very pleasant gentleman to meet.

Wednesday the farm show was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Homans, their daughter, Mildred, and Mrs. Homans' mother, Mrs. E. G. Strohm, elder, Mrs. W. W. Kerlin and son, William, were auto guests for the day of the Homans.

The construction crew of the Pennsylvania Power & Light Co. moved into Loganton Monday with their equipment for the purpose of rebuilding the light line from Loganton to Tylersville. New poles will be set and the line rebuilt in first-class condition.

One of the three members of the Elk Grove forest camp in Columbia county, stricken with scarlet fever, is Jerre Schaeffer. He and the two others from the CCC camp are being cared for in the Blomberg City hospital. The young man is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Schaeffer, of Centre Hall.

The permit to close Route No. 322, south of Potters Mills, was rescinded early Monday morning by Secretary of Highways Warren Van Dyke. This was due to the heavy traffic anticipated this week to and from the Farm Show. The detour will be on from Monday, according to a Harrisburg dispatch.

Mrs. T. L. Smith is in Philadelphia this week, a guest of her sister, Mrs. Herbert Stauffert. She was taken to that city the latter part of last week by her daughter, Miss Louise Smith, who returned home on Sunday to be ready to resume her duties in one of the offices of the School of Agriculture, Penn State.

Bruce Ripka of near Centre Hill, became ill while attending the inauguration of Governor Earle, and on reaching home it was thought he would be obliged to go to a hospital for an operation, but a day or two later the trouble—bladder trouble—began yielding to the treatment of a local physician.

The Siegal brothers—Fred and Robert—of Spring Mills, are "dolling up" the meat market now conducted by J. H. Knarr, in Centre Hall. The meat market proper is done in white with a base of gray, while the section devoted to the sale of confections and tobaccos will be finished in gray. The interior of both rooms will have an inviting appearance when completed.

Huyett Magee, eldest son of Mrs. Lella Magee, of Wenonah, N. J., on Wednesday night graduated from Pierce's Business College, Philadelphia, business administration course. The exercises were held in the Academy of Music and the commencement speaker was Donald Richberg. The young man has secured a position with the Provident Life and Trust Co., Philadelphia.

Thieves broke into the Fry garage and post office at Unionville, Monday morning, and carried away a small sum of cash, a pistol and cash register from the garage, and some small change, and an automatic revolver from the post office. Entrance to both places was gained by breaking the glass in the doors. Three men were seen at the place by another garageman, who notified the police, but they arrived too late to make a capture.

Farmer M. A. Burkholder got a bad fall, Saturday night, while walking on the slippery concrete pavement in Centre Hall. He was "blew winded" for a time, but on getting the lungs to again function properly, the only distress was pain between the shoulders. By Monday morning this had subsided, and he felt there would be no serious results following the fall which, was, indeed, an exceptionally hard one.

Clayton A. McKinney and Mrs. McKinney, of Ligonier, were called to the McKinney home last week due to the death of the former's father, Wm. F. McKinney. The young man is a graduate of Mont Alto School of Forestry, and is now the forester in District No. 22, known as the Forbs district, one of the twenty-four districts in the State. While there are but 20,000 acres of State lands, mostly located in Westmoreland county, he has charge of the State's interests in Fayette, Somerset, Washington and Green counties. There are three CCC camps in the district, and the department is sponsoring six Local Works Division projects, employing 500 relief workers, which indicates the forester is busy at all times.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

A card from Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher dated Brunswick, Georgia, January, 21st, indicates the couple are enjoying their trip through the South. The roads, 80 per cent. of which are concrete, are fine, they say.

Adeline Marie Goodhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Goodhart, was a week-end guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Joton, in Millheim.

The Hagan auto sales agency in Centre Hall recently received five new cars, and now there are on the floor a Dodge sedan, three Plymouth sedans, and Plymouth coupe and coach.

About three inches of snow fell between Saturday mid-afternoon and Sunday morning. Sunday it became somewhat warmer, resulting in the roads becoming very sloppy from the melting snow.

Franklin G. Sharer, who at present lives on the Speer Breon farm, Penn township, will make sale of his farm stock and implements and vacate the farm. His successor on the Breon farm will be Orvis Frankenberger.

W. W. Kerlin, of the Kerlin Poultry Farm, and assistants, Messrs. Ger. Vin Schaeffer and William Hanna, and probably another, are at the State Farm Show in Harrisburg since the beginning of the week, taking care of the elaborate display from the Kerlin plant.

Bequests of $5000 each to St. Marks Lutheran church, Hanover, and to Treaster's Orphans' Home, Loyalsville, are provided in the will of Mrs. Louisa Vanderloot Smith, widow of Malcolm O. Smith, which was filed a few days ago. The estate is valued at $45,000 in personal property.

John Benner is carrying the marks of the teeth of a vicious dog which attacked him while walking the road in the vicinity of the Spayd farm at Earlstown, Sunday afternoon. John sought first-aid treatment at a nearby farm house. Too bad John wasn't carrying a gun at the time.

It is the fifty-third birthday of President Roosevelt that will be celebrated on Wednesday evening, January 30th, in Grange Arcadia by a large number of persons who are doing so to aid those stricken with infantile paralysis and to find a remedy that will bring about the obliteration of the most dreaded childhood disease.

Mrs. Henry Erdly, of Spring Mills, and Mrs. Delia Keener of Centre Hall, attended the tenth anniversary of the Lewisburg Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star. Splendid addresses by a number of grand officers were given after which a fine banquet was served. Dancing and cards formed the major part of the entertainment.

Two Centre county youths—Earl Ripka, Harris township, and John Shook, Gregg township, were among the sixty-three medal winners in the State-wide home project work contest for boys enrolled in vocational agriculture schools of Pennsylvania. Both projects were connected with the dairy industry, the former being a senior and the latter a junior dairy project.

William S. Martz, of Tusseyville, was a most pleasant caller at this office Tuesday. He was pleased to state that he was physically fit, but regretted to give the information that Mrs. Martz has been sorely afflicted with rheumatism for the past few years. His mother, Mrs. Catharine Martz, who lives in Altoona, has again recovered from an illness and at the age of almost ninety years is well able to care for herself.

Card of Thanks.

We take this means to express heartfelt thanks for the many kind notices shown during our recent bereavement in the loss of husband and father; also, for floral tributes—Mrs. W. F. McKinney and family.

CENTRE COUNTY HOSPITAL NOTES.

The patients at the Centre County Hospital from the south side of the county were unusually many in number and included one death—William (George) Decker, admitted Thursday evening and died Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Guy Decker, of near Centre Hall, admitted a medical patient Monday last week.

Mrs. and Mrs. Lawrence Weaver, of Centre county, are the proud parents of a son born at the hospital Monday last week.

Mrs. John Vonada, Colburn, was admitted last Tuesday as a surgical patient.

Harry Harner, Centre Hall, R. D., a medical patient, was discharged Tuesday of last week.

Robert Custer a member of Treaster Kettle camp, a surgical patient, was discharged on Tuesday.

Mrs. George Rudy, State College, became a medical patient and was discharged the same day.

Mrs. Bruce H. Smith, Centre Hall, was admitted Wednesday and discharged the following Monday.

Mrs. Elmer Swonger, State College, was admitted last Wednesday as a medical patient.

Master Robert Zang, Centre Hall, a surgical patient, was discharged last Thursday.

There were forty-five patients in the hospital beginning of the week.
