

Spring Mills

A Collection of Newsy Happenings and Personals from Gregg Township's Metropolis.

E. T. Jamison was brought back to his home on Thursday after having been a patient in the Centre County hospital for two days short of three weeks. He is gradually improving and is now able to be about the house to some extent. While at the hospital he endured much pain, but at present suffers little.

The banquet held by the lodge of Knights of the Golden Eagle was termed a complete success. The attendance was fair, and all enjoyed the evening's entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stover and daughter, Miss Josephine, motored to Sunbury on Friday. Mr. Stover is kept pretty busy these days caring for 300 white leghorn chicks purchased from the Kerlin hatchery.

The Reformed and Methodist congregations contemplate holding a union service on Sunday evening, March 17, 7:30 o'clock. Rev. Seth Russell, pastor of the Methodist church, will give the opening service, and Rev. D. R. Keener, pastor of the Reformed church, will deliver the sermon.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Corman, Mrs. Annie Smith and Miss Bernadine Smith attended the funeral of Mrs. Gise Wagner, Tuesday forenoon.

William Neese continues to improve, but is yet a hospital patient, where he has been since February 14th, a week after the auto accident that resulted in spitting a knee cap. Fortunately he suffered no pain at any time. The limb injured is encased in a plaster Paris cast, and it may be some time before this can be removed. Aside from the injury, Mr. Neese's condition is first class.

Miss Bernice Smith entertained Misses Pearl Lingie and Josephine Stover at dinner.

Rev. S. F. Greenhoe, on Sunday, filled the appointment in the Lutheran church.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Haney, of Rising Sun, Md., were in town for a few hours on Sunday. They also visited their son, Harry Haney, in Merrittsburg, and found him recovering nicely from a severe attack of pneumonia. Mrs. Haney, whose maiden name was Elsie Finkle, nursed her son at his Merrittsburg home.

Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Auman and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Homan, of Centre Hall; Mrs. Susan Peters, Rockview; Mrs. Mary Boyle, Milesburg; Mrs. Gertrude Martin and daughter, Helen, of Martinsburg; H. S. Bolger, wife and daughters, Leonora and Patty, of Altoona, were visitors at the E. T. Jamison home on Sunday. Mrs. Peters, and Mrs. Martin are sisters of Mr. Jamison.

Wayne Bitting, assistant supervisor of agriculture, spent the week-end with his parents at Loysville.

Lee Mooney returned to Penn State after spending several weeks here as a student instructor at the Vocational school.

W. H. Hettinger is on the sick list owing to an attack of rheumatism to which he is subject.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Chestnut, of Sunbury, visited with Mr. and Mrs. George Reish at the restaurant, on Monday.

George H. McCormick, of Potters Mills, transacted business here on Saturday.

R.S. Jamison and Miss Agnes Geary, of Centre Hall, called on friends on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schmitt and the latter's sister, Miss Barbara Robinson, motored to Spring Mills and were week-end visitors at the home of the parents of the ladies, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Robinson.

Mrs. Hazel Wingard, on Saturday, assumed charge of the Spring Mills post office and has since been giving it her personal attention. Pauline Rossman is being retained as clerk.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wagner spent Sunday at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wagner.

Guests recently entertained at the J. B. Swabb home as guests of Mr. Dress were Mr. Heckman and Miss Schaeffer, of Salona.

Misses Ruth Ripka, Phyllis Ripka and Josephine Stover and Nevin Shook comprised an auto party who attended a dance at Hecla Park, Friday evening.

Spring Mills community lost a resident in the death of George Zerby, at Penn Hall, and a former resident, Jennie Kline, who died in Centre Hall. Both deaths occurred on Saturday. The body of the former was interred at Millheim, on Wednesday, and the latter in the Heckman cemetery, nearby here, on Monday afternoon.

A game refuge keeper secured a pure bird from a barn door on the Ira Lingie place, Georges Valley, that had been caught by Randall Shilling, who lives with Mr. Lingie. Shilling had caught the bird in a steel trap set for weasels in Poe Valley near the CCC camp, and killed it while effecting its release from the trap, which had been dragged quite a distance, from the set. The bird, with a wing spread of almost eight feet, was dark brown on wings and back, with a gray breast. Eagle or hawk? The question was not decided although its size and the appearance of its beak and talons led many to conclude that it was an eagle. Game refuge keeper Wingard expressed his intention of sending the specimen to headquarters of the Game Commission for identification in order to determine if it was of a type protected by law.

A birthday surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Crater, Saturday evening, in honor of their daughter, Ruth's birthday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. John L. McCool and daughter Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCool and son Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Confer and children, Clayton, Anna Mary, Russell and Carl; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Shook and daughter Evelyn; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Darger and children, Bernice, Martha and Kenneth; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Grenoble, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Confer and son Warren; Joe Decker, Emery Zerby, Wilbur Auman, Clair Shaffer, E. O. Rhine Clarence Crater, Nevin Crater, Nevin and John Shook, Carrie Confer, Kathryn and Alice Ebert, Lydia, Gladys and Renna Ziegler, Ella and Orpha Tharp, Grace Rishel, Verna Ruth and Phyllis Ripka, Clarence and Cora McCool, John Stover, Mr. and Mrs. John O. Crater and children, Marvin, Ruth, Richard, Gross, Eugene, Helen, Glenn and Phyllis. The evening was spent in playing games and dancing. Refreshments were served and Ruth received many gifts.

The jurors from Gregg township for this the first week of court are Harry Corman, Mrs. Sarah Erdley, E. F. Frazier, Nellie Gramley and David S. Lingle. For the second week: Arthur Grove, Ella C. Neese and Clarence Stover.

ENTERTAIN AT BRIDGE.

On Friday evening at the home of Mrs. J. S. Booser a party of twenty-four ladies were entertained at bridge. The hosts were Mrs. Booser, Mrs. J. W. Bradford and Miss Verna Rowe, sisters. There were six tables. First and second prizes were offered, the first having been captured by Mrs. Warren Homan and the second by Mrs. W. F. Keller.

The refreshments were dainty and most appetizing, and consisted of chicken jellatin salad, checkerboard sandwiches, ice cream, cake, coffee.

In addition to the hosts and the two prize-winning guests, there were present: Mrs. J. P. Wetzel, Mrs. Robert Neff, Mrs. C. H. Light, Mrs. F. V. Goodhart, Mrs. H. W. Potter, Mrs. Edgar Miller, Mrs. George Stover, Mrs. Edward Durst, Mrs. Albert Emery, Mrs. C. A. Spyster, Mrs. John Wert, Jr., Mrs. Edna Noll, Misses Mary Delinda Potter, Elizabeth Bartholomew, Agnes Geary, Louise Smith, Laura Runkle, Ida Frazier, Ruth Smith, Jennie Thomas, Kay Goodhart and Helen Odenkirk.

WILL COOK ELECTRICALLY!

6 Cooking Methods Which You Can Use With This Range

- 1 SURE BAKING SUCCESS. No-draft oven puts an end to baking failures.
- 2 ICINGS IN A SAUCEPAN. Measured, electric heat makes every saucepan a double boiler.
- 3 OVEN MOISTURE CONTROL. Gives one-step meat roasting—minimizes shrinking.
- 4 ABSENT COOKING. "Chef's Brain"—an automatic time clock turns electric oven heat on and off.
- 5 "WATERLESS" COOKERY. Controlled Calrod heat requires minimum of water.
- 6 FIVE FOODS AT ONCE. Vegetables, meat, pudding, can be cooked in one utensil without transfer of flavor or odor.

Hotpoint
