Henry Houser, near Linden Hall, has determined to discontinue farming, but he and Mrs. Houser will continue living on the old farm as heretofore, and to keep from rusting out will keep a few cows and chickens, and pigs. The farm has been let out for cropping to farmers living nearby.

At the last meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star, Mrs. D. R. Keener was the recipient of several beautiful articles, tokens of the affection in which she is held by her sister lodge members. The presentations were made following the close of her term as worthy matron in the local chapter.

The power shovel on the north mountain at Brownie's Place dug up a snake about three feet long on Saturday afternoon. It was dumped on to a truck and was not discovered until the "pusher" spread the load, when his snakeship was grabbed by the tail by a workman and flung into the creek nearby.

The junior class in the local high school made a selection from a large number of styles of rings, and again adopted the Pine Tree. The selection differs from that of former years in that it is not as large, and consequently not over conspicuous. The quality is the same as heretofore. The class has a membership of twenty-two.

The many friends of B. D. Brislin will regret to learn that he is in very delicate health at this time at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Roxanna Robertson, in Hartford, Conn. Some time ago he fell from his bed, which appeared to be the beginning of a rapid decline in his health, prior to which time he had been very good for one of his age.

Frank Phillips is anxiously awaiting the completion of the "Missing Link," on Seven Mountains. He lives at Potters Mills, but is conducting an auto repair business in the new garage built by him at Milroy. He is contemplating driving his car daily to the south side of the hill and walking to his home at night and back in the morning.

Guy W. Jacobs spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Jacobs, in Centre Hall. He had been in Washington, D. C. in the interest of the ice industry and its code. Mr. Jacobs has charge of a wide area in the middle west, and reports the ice industry performing smoothly under the code provisions. Mr. Jacobs' grasp of the intricate problems peculiar to his industry makes him a valuable man in that industry, and his ability has been recognized in the important position he holds. He returned to his home in Steubenville, Ohio, on Monday.

The birthday of Ambrose Rice, of near State College, long a clerk in the State College post office, was celebrated Saturday night at his home, the event having been attended by seventy-five friends and relatives, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kerlin and son, William, and Mrs. Ida Kerlin, of Centre Hall. In post office of the first-class, in which class State College office ranks, clerks are obliged to take box examinations, the minimum passing percentage score being 95. In his twenty-seventh examination Mr. Rice made a score of 99.25 per cent, which most certainly indicates a high degree of efficiency. During the evening choice refreshments were served.
