Misses Ardah Ishler and Margaret A. Ross, Centre Hall, and Anna M. Hess, of Boalsburg, successfully passed the examination for driver's license.

Prof. L. O. Packer, for a number of years an instructor in the Oliver high school, Pittsburgh, was with his family here during the Easter vacation, which in his case continued until Wednesday.

One of three inmates of the Huntington Reformatory, Wm. Meohan, who escaped Saturday, was recaptured at Aaronsburg on Sunday and returned to the institution. He was from Philadelphia.

Miss Wanda Paulhamus, of Millheim, will be graduated from West Chester State Teachers' College at the close of the present semester, with a certificate to teach in the elementary grades.

The spring schedule on the Penney will go into effect on Sunday night, 28th. The only change on the L. & T. is a 5-minute earlier start from Sunbury in the morning. The time of arrival at stations along the line is not changed.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zellers, Sunday afternoon. The mother was Miss Hazel Burkholder. The parents for a few years have lived in the Homan, now Zeller, property, immediately east of the borough line.

Ralph Homan, tenant on the Homan farm in the Keller district, completed sowing the latter part of last week. He was one of the first farmers about here to complete the operation where the crop was twenty-five or more acres.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Booser and children, Patty and David, on Friday morning motored to East Orange, N. J., where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Gutelius. The couple have long been close friends of the Boosers.

Rev. A. C. Paulhamus, of Millheim, was drawn a juror for the term of Federal court to be held in May, in Harrisburg. Other jurors in Centre county selected to serve at the same time are Mrs. Mary C. Clinger, State College, and Miss Elfrida Conter, of Howard.

Mrs. Margaret Godshall and daughter, Miss Eva Bailey, on Friday motored to Washington, D. C., where they visited Mrs. George Sachis, a daughter of the former, returning Sunday evening. They report traffic having been exceptionally heavy on Friday.

Miss Miriam Moore, of Hershey, spent Easter at her home here. Her mother, Mrs. T. L. Moore, is visiting this week with her sisters, Mrs. Guy Crowl, of Elysburg, and Mrs. Charles Hull, Shamokin, and at the latter city is also attending the Methodist conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair E. Strohecker and four children—two boys and two girls—were guests of Mr. Strohecker's mother, Mrs. W. H. Strohecker, in Centre Hall, Friday and Saturday, returning to their home in Bethlehem for Easter, and then back to Centre Hall on Monday for two days' more visit.

Norway maple trees, for front street shade, are probably preferable to all others. The first cost may be a bit high, but the Norway variety of maple will please you every time you look at it with its thick and beautiful foliage. Once the trunk is grown to its proper height, the Norway needs no trimming.

The Toxoid clinic for the prevention of diphtheria, under the supervision of Miss Erickson, Red Cross nurse, will be held in the Centre Hall grade school building Thursday of this week at 1:30 o'clock. Dr. Hugh Morrow, local physician, will administer the preparation. All children from 6 months to 11 years of age will be cared for.

Misses Margaret Delaney, Bertha Sharer and Anne Wert, all students in Lock Haven State Teachers' College, who will complete their work in June, were at their respective homes near Centre Hall over Easter—until Wednesday. The three young ladies were elected to teach in the public schools in Potter township during the 1935-1936 term.

On Monday, Rev. and Mrs. E. Roy Corman, of Wilkesburg, started on a motor trip to Florida where they will remain for a month, during which time they will be entertained by a Wilkesburg family wintering in Orlando. It is the first visit to the far South by the couple. Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher, parents of Mrs. Corman, were week-end guests of the Cormans.

Verna Smith, of State College, and Olin Newman, of Little Hockings, Ohio, spent their Easter vacation at the Robert I. Smith home in town. Other guests at the home were Mr. and Mrs. Newton Zell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Baylett and family, of Bellefonte; Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Lansberry and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith and son, and Wm. Bottorf, the latter of Milesburg.

The Bellefonte Cemetery Association is being advised to make requisition on the $4,800,000,000 fund provided for in the public works bill to be used in resetting headstones and monuments. A very commendable movement, for it is in the cemetery one will find the men responsible for the building up of the county seat because of their progressive spirit in their day and generation. Today it's the P. W. A. that is carrying on.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Joseph T. Beltz, one of the firm of Beltz Brothers, contractors, who built the concrete road over Nittany Mountain, was a diner Sunday evening at the Jodon restaurant.

WEST PENN ELECTRIC SHOPS

I BELIEVE IN MIRACLES

MIRACLE NO. 1. Butter cakes, pies and pastries turn out beautifully every time—and without watching.

MIRACLE NO. 2. Electric heat can be accurately measured and controlled to suit the cooking job. No need for double boilers.

MIRACLE NO. 3. Electric heat makes possible one-step meat roasting. Eliminates searing, basting and watching.

MIRACLE NO. 4. Absent cooking is safe and certain with electrically controlled heat. Releases your time for other pastimes.

MIRACLE NO. 5. "Waterless" cookery the electric way produces tastier and more healthful foods and vegetables.

MIRACLE NO. 6. Vegetables, meat and dessert can be cooked in one utensil (the thrift cooker) without watching or stiring.

Electric heat is replacing flame and fire for cooking, and with the change has come accurate temperature, time and moisture control. The right heat, the right period of time, and the right amount of moisture for the cooking task involved—these factors make electric cookery dependable. With an electric range all your cakes are twins; all your roasts are nicely browned, succulent and inviting; all your vegetables have their rich natural color, their complete food values. Electricity has removed the strain of cooking, for it has removed uncertainty.

Current for cooking costs only about $2.20 a month
