

Spring Mills

A Collection of Newsy Happenings and Personals from Gregg Township's Metropolis.

The daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Garman Matter, on Monday of last week, has been named Catharine May for the grandmother on the paternal side, and the mother.

The overseers of Centre Hall borough and Gregg township met before Squire C. B. Stover and made amicable settlement of their differences. The former paid the rent of $14.00, which was the stake in question. Both boards are to be commended for their willingness to make an adjustment without causing suit and needless contention.

In noting the death of Mrs. Margaret Anna Wise in last week's issue, no mention was made of a sister, Mrs. Mollie Weagley, of Spring Mills.

Rev. Seth Russell, who has been pastor of the Methodist church with appointments at Spring Mills, Centre Hall and Spruettown, for a few months over a year, went to the meeting of the Methodist Conference, on Tuesday, on which day the conference opened and will continue in session until Monday next. Mrs. T. L. Moore is the delegate to represent the church. The custom followed in making appointments, added to the fact that members of the respective congregations in the charge are in full sympathy with the pastor, indicates beyond a doubt that Rev. Russell will be returned to his present charge as pastor.

Wayne Bitting, of the Gregg Vocational School faculty, motored to his home in Loysville for the Easter season, and Prof. C. M. Watts, principal, together with his family, went to the Watts summer camp in the vicinity of Renovo during the same period.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schmitt, of Philadelphia, were week-end guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Robinson.

Mrs. John Rossman and son, John, Jr., of Warren, where the former is connected with the public schools, were guests of Mr. Rossman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Rossman.

Miss Delsey Morris, of Doylestown, visited her foster mother, Mrs. C. A. Krape, during the vacation granted her by the school board employing her. Miss Gertrude Bltner, who is fitting herself to become a beautician in a Philadelphia school, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bright Bltner.

Miss Mabel Brown was another young lady to visit the home folks over Easter, having come here from Sunbury to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Brown.

The Gregg Vocational ball team lost their first two games, one by a score of 3 to 2, and the second by a deluge of nine runs by Hubersburg to two by Spring Mills. The latter game was on the home grounds, while the former was on the diamond of their rivals, Mill Hall.

Wm. A. Neese and daughter, Miss Mary Neese, R. N., were dinner guests on Sunday at the home of Mrs. Chas. Zettle, also a daughter of the former, in Georges Valley. On Wednesday Miss Mary returned from the University Hospital, Philadelphia, from which institution she graduated a short time ago, to accept a permanent position.

Mrs. Wm. Sinkabine and daughter, Mrs. Mary Longerbeam, and son, Benny, of Berryville, Va., attended the funeral of Mrs. Solomon Wise, on last Thursday. While here she was entertained by Mrs. Harold F. Meyer, a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Braucht and young daughter, Henrietta, of Coalport, were back to the old home surroundings on Sunday. Mr. Braucht is employed in the Coalport bank.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Stover and daughter, Miss Josephine, visited last Thursday with Mrs. Stover's sister, Mrs. George Rachau, and family, in Sunbury.

All of the grade schools in Gregg township close on Friday. The teachers who will complete their school work for the 1934-35 school year at the time noted are: Penn Hall, Miss Hosterman; Cross Roads, Roseella Heckman; Logan, Miss Hagan; Troy, Mr. Miller; Beaver Dam, Adaline Bradford; Decker, Sara Vonada; Spring Mills, Grades 1 and 2, Orrie Wagner, grades 3 and 4, Luella Reareick; grades 5 and 6, Harry Condo; and grades 7 and 8, Russell Condo.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Overly, Clearfield; Mrs. Wm. Adams, Bigler, and Mrs. Wm. Richard, Martha Furnace, visited their sister, Mrs. Annie Smith, at the Smith-Corman home. On Saturday the sisters, together with Mrs. Guy Corman, motored to Altoona where a fourth sister, Mrs. N. E. Weaver, was visited. The ladies are daughters of the late John D. Wagner, and were reared at Martha Furnace.

Sallie Wright, employed at one of the fraternity houses at State College, was at the Earl Bartley home during the time Penn State was closed.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller, who temporarily have lived with Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Corman parents of Mrs. Miller, moved to Georges Valley. Mr. Miller is employed at Whiterock quarries.

John Zubler, Wm. P. Campbell, Miss Jane Campbell and Lewis Tigen, all Penn State students, and Glenn Long, a Franklin and Marshall student, were at their respective homes in or near Spring Mills during the short Easter vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bell and daughter, Miss Edna Krape, of Sunbury, called to see G. C. King and were pleased to find him improving. Mr. Bell is a railroad man and is employed in the Northumberland yards while Miss Edna continues holding a position in the office of the Sunbury Electric Light Co. Another caller at the King home was Alfred Catherman, of Hartleton. A letter received from Robert Ross, of Haviland, Kansas, by Mrs. G. C. King, a niece, relates that the sandstorm in that section while very destructive, did not completely destroy the prospects of a wheat crop, provided rain would fall within a reasonable time. Mr. Ross, who was born and reared in Gregg township, is an extensive wheat grower, and is actively engaged in farm work at 76. He stated further that at points 75 to 100 miles to the west, the destruction of the wheat was total.

Guests at the H. F. Erdley home from Friday until Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. David Ream, of Harrisburg, close friends. Mr. Ream is employed by the Bell Telephone Co.

Mrs. Russell, wife of Rev. Seth Russell, will attend the Methodist conference in Shamokin.

The officers of the local I. O. O. F. Lodge, No. 597, were installed as noted: N. G. Paul Weagley; V. G. Randall Steiger; financial sec., Jerry Albright; rec. sec., B. F. Kenelly; warder, Wm. Osman; conductor, Irvin Zettle; chaplain, A. L. Duck; inside guard, Chas. P. Bartges; outside guard, Daniel Heckman; R. S. to N. G., J. W. Vonada; L. S. to N. G., J. W. Evans; R. S. to V. G., Charles Auman; L. S. to V. G., Wilbur Confer; R. S. S., Roy Lingle; L. S. S., Daniel Smith; new trustee, Harold Stover; Rep. to Grand Lodge, Irvin Zettle; rep. to Orphans Home, Guy Eisenhuth.

The combine d community Young People's groups of Spring Mills presented a very acceptable Easter pageant to the townspeople in the Methodist church, Sunday evening. From every point of view the service was an excellent presentation in colorful pageantry. The effort marks another step toward community cooperation in the religious activity of the town. The program was under the supervision of Mrs. Randall Meyer, Mrs. Seth Russell and Mrs. Guy Corman, leaders of the Junior Young People's group.

All candidates of the baseball team are required to be in attendance at a meeting to be held in the Vocational school building, Monday evening, April 29, at 8 o'clock. Practice will begin on Tuesday.
