SENATE BILL WOULD PROHIBIT DENTISTS TO ADVERTISE

A bill (No. 1014) introduced in the State Senate would forbid dentists to advertise. The particular section of the bill reads thus:

"The board has the right to suspend and revoke the license to practice of any licensee who has been guilty of advertising professional superiority or the performance of professional services in a superior manner, advertising prices for professional services, advertising by means of any large display, glaring light sign or by means of any advertising containing as a part thereof the representation of a tooth, teeth, bridge-work or any portion of the human head or of employing or making use of advertising any free dental work or free examination to guarantee any dental service or to perform any dental operation painlessly."

This is just another sample of dampfool legislation which some law-makers think up just to justify their position as legislators. One is led to think that dentists are a class of professional men whose dignity will not permit them to condescend to the low level of selling their wares. Why should not the public have the right to know through the printed word all about the cost of service, the kind of service, etc., just as they expect of any other commodity or service they buy? Many other professions higher in the scale of public service do it, and the dental profession need not put on the high hat.

THREE FROM CENTRE COUNTY LOSE STATE CLERKSHIPS

The State Departments of Revenue and Labor and Industry shed three clerks through dismissals, one from the first and two from the second department. All the clerks are from Centre county. The names of clerks and their salaries appear below:

Department of Revenue—Rebecca C. Tuten, Phillipsburg, clerk, $1,350.
Labor and Industry—Catherine A. Hartle, Bellefonte, clerk, $1,350; Sheldon C. Tanner, State College, legal clerk, $2,540.

No appointments have been made to succeed in any of the places made vacant.

CENTRE COUNTY ANNUAL C. E. RALLY, FRIDAY EVENING

The annual Spring rally of the Centre County Christian Endeavor Societies was held in the M. E. church at Centre Hall, Friday evening. The banquet was served at 5:30 by the ladies and society of the M. E. church. A large birthday cake was cut in honor of the Runville C. E. society, the oldest in Centre county, organized in 1888.

Following the banquet period the young people went into the church for the evening program. The Centre Hall choral society rendered several well appreciated selections. The devotions were led by the Boalsburg Lutheran C. E. group. Wm. McCloskey, of Hubersburg, presided over the meeting. When the roll of attendance was taken, it was found that the Pleasant View society had earned the honor banner for the second consecutive year.

The Rev. Casey Thomas, of First Baptist Church, Altoona, gave the address of the evening. Rev. Thomas is a widely known speaker to young people's groups. His talk was most stimulating and appropriate, dealing with discipleship of young people.

There were about two hundred persons present.

CCC CAMPS INCREASED IN PENNSYLVANIA FROM 95 TO 140

Pennsylvania will get 45 new Civilian Conservation Corps camps, one of which will be located in Centre county, in the expansion of the Emergency Conservation Work under the new program of work relief. It is announced by Ralph M. Bashore, secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters.

The new camps will be classified in this manner:

State Forest Camps, 17; National Forest Camps, 7; National Park Camps, 7; Erosion Camps, 14.

The expansion will increase the number of all CCC camps in Pennsylvania from 95 to 140, while the State's basic enrollment quota will be increased from 19,500 men to 28,000.

It is estimated that approximately $1,265,000 will be expended in Pennsylvania in construction and maintenance of these new camps during 1935.

The new State Forest camps will be located in Huntingdon, Centre, Snyder, Bedford, Clinton, Cameron, Clearfield, Lycoming, Potter, Union, Lackawanna, Northumberland and Carbon counties. There will be three camps in Cameron and two in Lackawanna.

The National Forest camps will be located in the areas owned by the United States Government in Warren, Forest, Elk and McKean counties. There will be three camps in Warren and two in McKean.

The additional 21 Park and Erosion camps will be confirmed and located within a very short time. Activities will include forest protection, reforestation, stream improvement, road improvement, soil erosion prevention, and the development of the National Park areas.

Under this new nation-wide CCC program, 1,276 new camps will be constructed at an approximate cost of $25,000,000, while the complete enrollment in all camps is expected to reach 600,000.

Three hundred carloads of equipment have been purchased for the CCC camps in Pennsylvania, much of it for the 45 new camps that are to be constructed at various points throughout the State within the next few months.

The purchase includes: 232 stake trucks; 243 dump trucks; 48 pick-up trucks; 27 graders; 30 tractor trail-builders; nine 100 cubic foot air compressors, 9 jack hammers.

GRUENWALD ANNOUNCES HORSE SALE WITHIN MONTH

William Gruenwald, the popular So. Dakota horse dealer who has had a number of sales at Centre Hall, the last one having been held Monday of last week, announces he will be back with a carload of South Dakota horses within a month.

EARLE SIGNS BILL PROVIDING FOR TWO EXTRA JURORS

Governor Earle signed the Buckham bill providing for two extra jurors in both criminal and civil cases. The two extra jurors will act only if any of the regular jurors become ill or incapacitated in any way.

SLAM, STUPIDITY, OVERSIGHT!

[From the Millheim Journal]
We are just a little undecided whether County Superintendent of Schools P. Glenn Rogers was taking a crack at Hon. Don Gingery or whether he doesn't know any better. But the fact of the matter is that on the group examination papers given forty-two students of East Penns Valley for entrance into the high school last Saturday, one of the questions asked was "Who is the Congressman from this district?" The answer sheet that came with the papers gives that gentleman's name as "Focht." Write your own comment!

WEST SUSQUEHANNA CLASSIS MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The 34th annual convention of the Woman's Missionary Society of West Susquehanna Classis, Reformed church, was held Wednesday of last week in Trinity Reformed church, Hubersburg. One hundred and twenty delegates and visitors registered for this meeting. The sessions were also very well attended by others. Reports of the officers and departmental secretaries showed an increased interest in all departments. All obligations were met in full and thank-offering for the past year was increased.

The officers elected to serve for the year are: President, Mrs. G. A. Fred Griesing; first vice-president, Mrs. E. G. Kline; second vice-president, Miss Nelle Warner; recording secretary, Miss Lillian Knecht; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harry E. Carter; historian, Mrs. J. M. Hartswack; departmental secretaries: Misses, Band, Mrs. C. F. Wagner; G. M. G. Mildred Gemberling; Thank-offering, Mrs. Frank M. Fisher; Citizenship, Mrs. E. H. Zechman; Organization, Mrs. A. I. Bloom; Stewardship, Mrs. S. S. McCormick; Literature, Mrs. Wm. Fogleman.

The guest speaker of the evening was Miss Minerva Weil, a Missionary from China, home on furlough.

Mrs. G. A. F. Griesing was elected a delegate to the Woman's Missionary Society of the General Synod, which will meet in Greensburg, May 21 to 25. Mrs. Badger, of Bellefonte, will represent the Classical W. M. S. at Eastern Synod, in September.

The fall meeting of the Classical society will be held in St. John's church, Williamsport.

The delegates from Trinity Reformed attending this meeting were Mrs. W. F. Bradford, Mrs. W. F. Keller, Mrs. Frank M. Fisher, Mrs. Thomas Delaney and Mrs. Milford Luse, of Centre Hall; others who attended the evening lecture were W. F. Keller, Mrs. J. W. Bradford, Frank M. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Boozer, Rev. and Mrs. D. R. Keener.

"MISSING LINK" OPENED TO TRAFFIC MAY 1—BUT!

The Seven Mountain road, Route 322, has been opened to traffic, but following rains, driving on it is anything but pleasant. It is reasonable to believe that the State Highway Department will improve conditions in a reasonable length of time.

During the latter part of last week more than a dozen men were engaged in setting posts for the guard cables on the deep fill. The posts are set two and one-half feet deep. An additional foot will be added to their depth by the time top grade and berm are completed.

MOTHER'S DAY CELEBRATION AT P. S. C., SATURDAY-SUNDAY

The Pennsylvania State College will be host to parents of students on Saturday in connection with the national celebration of Mother's Day.

Formal entertainment opens with Scholarship Exercises, at which fellowships, scholarships, and scholastic prizes are presented and elections to honorary scholastic societies are announced. Dr. Fred Lewis Patten, of Rollins, Fla., will be the speaker.

In the afternoon athletic contests will be staged, the program including half a dozen events, among them basketball and variety competition in baseball, track, tennis, and golf. A tea for the mothers with Miss Charlotte E. Ray, dean of women, as hostess, has also been planned for the afternoon. In the late afternoon women students are preparing to present the annual May Dance and the crowning of the May Queen.

SEIBERT-NOLL

James D. Seibert, aged 74 years, of Bellefonte, and Mrs. Lillie Noll, aged 69 years, of Pleasant Gap, were married at the home of Mrs. Noll and her son, Gilbert Noll and family, Thursday night at 8:30. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. C. Deshler, pastor of the Pleasant Gap Methodist Episcopal church. Only a few relatives and friends of the couple were present.

SATURDAY IS AMATEUR NIGHT AT MUNICIPAL THEATRE

Saturday night of this week is Amateur Night at the Municipal Theatre. The following children are taking part in the program:

Ken Bartsches, age 4, Coburn; Grace Miller, 6, Millheim; Donna Smith, 6, Millheim; Joe Bartsches, 6, Coburn; Dick Bartsches, 8, Coburn; Marion Frank, 9, Millheim; Dorothy Miller, 9, Spring Mills; Jensen Mingle, 11, Coburn; Kathryn Frank, Adah Shawver, 12, Millheim; Marie Hosterman, 13, Lois Neff, 13, and Betty Wagner, 14, Millheim.

Mrs. McMullen, of Millheim, and Mrs. Bartsches, of Coburn, will play for the numbers and Randall Miller, of Millheim, will act as master of ceremonies. There will be prizes awarded to all children in the contest and the audience will act as the judges. No child will be entitled to more than one prize.

The picture attraction will be "Death on the Diamond," with an all-star cast, also a complete selection of shorts. All those wishing to see "Amateur Night" should make plans to attend the first showing due to the fact that there will be only one amateur program, starting promptly at 9:15 p. m.

BOWL-SHAPED RESERVOIR STATE FOREST NURSERY COMPLETED

The bowl-shaped reservoir at the State Forest Nursery, Seven Mountaintops, is almost completed, needing only the dressing up of the surrounding plot. The bowl is built of roughly dressed stone, the sidewalk sloping at an angle of forty-five degrees. The depth over-all is seven feet and the bottom diameter is thirty-two feet. The stone surface is slushed with concrete. Clog by is a magnificent spring of sparkling mountain water, which will be piped into the big bowl and from there carried by gravity through pipes to the State house where Forest Ranger John Meeker resides, and on to the several plots of ground comprising the nursery.

The work was begun last fall and was carried on by relief workers, John Bubb, Potter township, was the foreman in charge.

BULL-NOSE PINS JOE RAMER TO EARTH; SLITS CLOTHING

Joe Ramer, while engaged on the big fill on the "Missing Link" one day last week, made a narrow escape from being crushed by the "bull-nose," a heavy machine mounted on caterpillar traction used in leveling ground and rocks after being dumped from trucks. Ramer had lighted the fuses to several dynamite charges and with two other workmen ran back of the "bull-nose" and squatted for protection. The machine was too close for the comfort of the operator, Jake Fought, and without knowing the men were at the rear, reversing the power and shot the machine away from danger. Ramer's foot slipped, permitting one of the heavy slates to catch it, pinning it fast in the soft ground. His clothing at the hip was also caught and a hole cut into it, the damage was slight.

PENN AND HAINES TOWNSHIPS ELECT SCHOOL TEACHERS

The Penn township school board at a meeting held Monday night of last week, at Coburn, re-elected the entire teaching staff of the township's consolidated schools at Coburn.

The teachers are: 1st and 2nd grades, T. A. Hosterman; 3rd and 4th grades, Mrs. Anna Corman; 5th and 6th grades, F. J. Malone, Jr., and 7th and 8th grade, J. W. Bartsches.

Haines township effected some changes and shifted the various teachers about. The grades in the Aaronsburg school will be conducted by Paul Zimmerman, Earl Weber and Mrs. P. F. Bartsches; Ray Bright will be at Woodward; Harry Burd at the Lese school and Mabel Vonada, of Madisonburg, will teach at the Pine Creek school.

CENTRE HALL TAKES OPENING GAME FROM LAMAR

Under unfavorable weather conditions, the Centre County Baseball League, opened on Saturday. Centre Hall met Lamar on the local diamond, and took an easy victory, 8 to 4. Pastorius pitched the first four innings, struck out ten batters without allowing a hit. Martz then went to the mound and did nice work until the ninth, when Lamar staged something akin to a rally, to net them three runs, after scoring a tally in the eighth. Centre Hall's fifteen hits bespeak an offensive worthy the name. The box score:
