

Spring Mills

A Collection of Newsy Happenings and Personals from Gregg Township's Metropolis.

William Osman, one of the several men who collect milk for the Sheffield milk plant, recently purchased a new four-door touring Dodge sedan from the R. S. Hagan agency, through Garman Matter, salesman.

More than 200 members of the Erdley family gathered Wednesday of last week in Brook Park for their annual reunion. Members from as far west as South Bend, Ind., were present. Officers of the past year were all re-elected: President, Henry Erdley, of Spring Mills; vice-president, W. J. Erdley, of Millburg; and secretary-treasurer, G. Asher Erdley, of Lewisburg, E. D. Next year's reunion will be held on the first Wednesday in June at Rolling Green Park near Selmsgrove.

Mrs. Curtis M. Watts is one of about three thousand delegates who are attending the 41st annual convention in Philadelphia of the Grand Chapter of Penn. Order of the Eastern Star. She is the Worthy Matron of the local organization, and left here Sunday in time to attend the religious services in Memorial Chapel, Valley Forge, where the address was made by Dr. Lester Lewis, of St. Martin-in-the-Fields. The convention meeting was held Monday night in Broadwood Hotel, followed by a dinner and midnight frolic. There are 476 Chapters in the State, with a total membership of 90,000. The guest of honor at the convention is Mrs. Frances Haun, Most Worthy Grand Matron of the World. Another member of the order from Centre county is Mrs. Daisy Henderson, Bellefonte. The Bellevue Stratford is the convention headquarters. The sessions will close Friday morning.

The best piece of news this column is able to give its readers is the fact that the Groco Silk Mill is back on the NRA schedule as to hours of labor and pay per hour. The workmen were placed on that schedule on Monday morning, after having been running during the past week on a schedule of much longer hours and less pay per hour. The cause of the change is a mystery, but it is surmised that the mill was not able to get silk while it was violating the terms of the NRA honor code. No matter what brought the sudden shift about, the mill workers are receiving the benefit, and noticeably jubilant.

It is due the mill owners to say that on Monday the workers received two checks each—one on the basis of reduced hour wage and the longer hours per week, and the second covered the difference between that pay and the NRA rate again effective.

Considerable improvement is being made on the farms owned by the Pittsburgh Lime and Stone Corp., a subsidiary of the U. S. Steel Co. The farms are known as those formerly owned by the Fishers and Shocks and are managed by E. T. Jamison, agent. Material for three hundred rods of fence were recently received. Steel posts and heavy woven wire, a product of the company, will be used in the fence construction. The barns will also be brought to conform to the demand of the New York board of health. This includes concreting both stables and entries and separating them from the remainder of the barn by the construction of tight partitions. Another request being complied with is to line the milk houses with material machined to fit closely.

Mrs. Bright Bitner went to Philadelphia a few days ago to visit with her daughters Mrs. Wm. Johnson and Miss Geraldine.

Children's Day was observed in the Methodist church Sunday evening. It was a community affair, all the Sunday schools participating in the movement. Some of the most active in directing the children were Mrs. H. W. Fetterolf, Miss Orrie Wagner, Mrs. Harold Meyer, Mrs. Christ Musser, and Miss Evelyn Brooks. The program was well executed, and the attendance was up to the capacity of the auditorium.

Mrs. George Gentzell, probably the oldest person in the valley, is in very delicate health at this time. She has been confined to bed for a long time, but of late her condition has become more serious.

Mrs. C. A. Krape is back to her home again and is being taken care of by Mrs. Willis Breon, of Millheim. G. C. King, another resident ill for some time, is slightly improving, and of late has partial control of the left arm.

The Spring Mills baseball club was obliged to postpone the festival announced for last Saturday to Wednesday of this week, due to rain. The Mt. Union Colored ball team made the best score in the two games played Saturday. Those who witnessed the games saw some snappy playing on both sides.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Fetterolf and twin daughters, Barbara and Bernice, Tuesday morning, motored to Ventnor, N. J., to visit with relatives. Christ Musser is in charge of the mill while Mr. Fetterolf is absent.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bolton, of Pillow, the former's mother, also Mrs. Melvin Bolton and daughter, Miss Ruth, of Valley View, Schuylkill county, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fryer and two grandsons, of Sunbury, were recent guests of former sheriff and Mrs. A. B. Lee.

Daily Vacation Bible School Opens—The second annual Daily Vacation Church School opened Monday in the Gregg Twp. school building. The work being done is based on the Co-operative Series of texts recommended by the International Council on Vac-tion School Curriculum.

The enrollment on the opening day was 54. From indications as to further enrollment, the school will have over 60 pupils. Practically every child in attendance last year has enrolled for this session.

The school building, equipment, and recreational facilities serve quite well the needs of a vacation church school. With these public school aides, a most profitable program of Christian Education can be given to the children of the community.

The teachers this year are: Beginners, Evelyn Brooks and Betty Lee; Primary, Miss Adeline Bradford and Miss Margaret Grenoble; Junior, Mrs. Ardel Myers and Miss Josephine Stover; Intermediate, Mrs. Seth Russell and Mrs. Guy Corman.

The Lemont baseball team will play at Spring Mills, Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Mary Cook, housekeeper for E. T. Jamison, spent the week-end at Tusseyville among old acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, of Williamsport, and Miss Mabel Brown, of Sunbury, visited with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Brown, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerro Shunk, who had been visiting among friends in Clearfield county for several weeks, are back to their home.

Blake Bartley, who is a truck driver for the Groves in Buffalo, is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bartley. He is having a week off duty.

George Rachau, the fisherman from Sunbury, and Mrs. Rachau, are guests at the C. B. Stover home.

Measles in this community have about run their course, the cases having been reduced to a single one, Leotta Houser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claire Houser.

W. A. Neese, who was badly injured in an auto wreck, has been back to work at Penn State College for several weeks. He is a carpenter and is doing general work at the institution.

Charles Price, a student in Susquehanna University, Selmsgrove, a resident of Yeagertown; Miss Marie Grenoble and Helen Jean Getz, of Lewisburg, were recent guests at the home of Mrs. Sylvia Grenoble. The young people are particular friends of Miss Margaret, daughter of Mrs. Grenoble. Other guests at the same home were Mrs. A. E. Bartges, Millheim; Mrs. Archey Eungard and Miss Esther Musser, Centre Hall, R. D.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Grenoble and two sons, of Smullton, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bailey.

Mrs. Grace I. McCool and Mrs. Harry Corman recently underwent tonsil operations in the Centre County hospital.

MEETING OF WOOL GROWERS.—The Centre County Sheep and Wool Growers Association will hold their annual meeting in the Court House at Bellefonte, on Monday evening, June 18, at 8:00 o'clock, according to the president, J. K. Alexander, Unionville.

At this meeting W. B. Connell, sheep extension specialist of State College, will discuss sheep management. Bids will be submitted to the association for this year's county pool by various wool buyers. In case a satisfactory bid is presented and accepted by the association plans will be made to load the wool at Bellefonte on Wednesday and Thursday, June 26 and 27.

All wool growers of the county are urged to attend this meeting.
