500 YOUNG PA. DEMOCRATS ATTEND BIG DINNER DANCE

Political leaders from all parts of the State attended the annual dinner dance of the Young Men's Democratic Clubs of Pennsylvania, Tuesday evening of last week at the Penn-Harris hotel, Harrisburg.

Senator E. J. Thompson, the youngest member of the State Senate, acted as toastmaster. He asked the young men and women to carry on the good work they have been doing for the welfare of the people in Pennsylvania. The senator stated, "To you, the youth of our State, is being handed the torch of liberalism; let its flames of truth light up this dismal picture of economic servitude."

Lieut. Governor Thomas Kennedy, in a short speech, paid tribute to Sen. Thompson, the young leader of the Democratic Senate minority. The Lt. Governor said, "I do not know of anyone who has come to the Senate who has so capably and so quickly distinguished himself as has Senator Thompson." Commenting on the political future of the Democratic party, he said, "The Republican reactionary Senate has written the Democratic platform for 1935. Their butchered Governor Earle's social legislation has furnished us with the bullets to fire in the next two years."

Secretary of the Commonwealth, David Lawrence, who is also the chairman of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania, in a brief speech stated how the Democratic House of Representatives passed bills fulfilling every pledge the Democratic party made to the people. He said, "Every provision of the Earle platform has been passed by the House. Workmen's compensation, child labor, collective bargaining, were all put through the House in short order. But these same sane, liberal and humane measures were killed by the reactionary Republican-controlled Senate."

Warren VanDyke, Secretary of Highways, told the Young Democrats that the Democratic party is by tradition the liberal party. He said, "It is for you the youth of Penna., to keep our party liberal. The Democratic party is the human party and stands for square for human rights. The Republican party believes in property rights above human rights."

Other speakers were Judge of Supreme Court Chester Rhodes; Deputy Attorney General Robert L. Mayes; Assistant Director of Welfare, Mrs. Clinton DeWitt.

Over 500 young men and women representing 200 Young Democratic Clubs of Pennsylvania attended the dinner dance.

TRANSIENT CAMP, AT COLYER, MOVES TO SNOW SHOE MT.; CCC TO LOCATE AT COLYER

Speedy preparations are being made for the removal of the Treaster Kettle Transient Camp to the new camp site, Ganderstep, No. 116, which is located ten miles west of Bellefonte on top of the Snow Shoe Mountains. An official vacancy is expected by Saturday at the latest, at which time, it has been removed, another CCC camp will take possession. However, nothing definite has been taken on that stand.

Fleets of trucks have been conveying squads of men, along with their equipment, to the new camp site, where quarters have been established for 150 men enrolled at present, in addition to the nine staff members, six of whom make up the personnel staff, remaining three serving as carpenters and repair men.

The tents in which the men will live are 16x16 feet, board floors and are heated by means of a small stove in the center of the tent. Tents are set in orderly arrangement so as to present the appearance of a tented city. Provisions and supplies will be taken care of in much the same way as the previous CCC camp at Treaster Kettle.

Although the camp is very much isolated in way of communication, camp officials hope to establish some means of wireless which will serve until a telephone line is made possible.

LOCAL CLUB AND MILLHEIM STAGE 8-INNING TIE, 6-6

Local baseball fans were treated to a battle royal last Thursday evening, when the league champions, Millheim, engaged the local club in a hectic 8-inning encounter, which ended in a 6-6 tie score, which the crowd at the end of the regulation 7-inning game. An extra inning was played without either team gaining the advantage.

The game was featured by everything it takes to make a good ball game—and equally clever fielding. The palm for the latter goes to "Poohy" Fetterolf, for his spectacular catch of Cable's bid for a home run in the extra inning frame. The ball left the bat bleared for the tall grass in right center. Fetterolf did a hundred yards, more or less, and reached the ball as Cable neared second base. Thrusting his hand upward, he stayed the flying pellet and saved his team from defeat. He also led his teammates at bat with three clean hits.

Martz and Aumiller were both hit hard, and Pastorius pitched to the last batter in the game when Martz appeared to weaken. "Lefty" was placed in a tough spot, but came through unscathed. Jack Bradford made a double play unassisted, furnishing a bright spot in the play. Box score:

LOCALS WIN PLAY-OFF, 5-2.

The effective pitching of Paul Martz, Tuesday evening, was largely responsible for Centre Hall's victory over Millheim in the tie play-off. The score, 5-2, indicates a hard-fought battle, and such it was. Centre Hall got to Aumiller in the 2nd inning to score all 3 runs. A succession of safe hits did the trick. Fetterolf and Knarr were bulwarks on the defense, catching long drives which threatened to spell disaster. The score by innings:
