

ITEMS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. Grayson were guests of Rev. S. F. Greenhoe over the week-end.

Here we are in August, the Grange Fair looming, and the fall season in the offing. Yes, summer is too short.

Following a mastoid operation, Orvis Meyer, last week, underwent further treatment for the trouble at the Centre County hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Hosterman plan to go to Atlantic City next week for a short vacation, chiefly for the benefit of Mrs. Hosterman's health.

Mrs. Irvin and family, of Crafton, called on Prof. L. O. Packer on Sunday. Mr. Irvin is president of the Pittsburgh Oil and Paint Company.

Henry I. Summers and Miss Anna Bennet, both of Wingate, were slightly injured on Route No. 53, near Runville, early Thursday morning, when their car skidded on a slippery pavement. The car was demolished.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Fisher, on Saturday, motored to Bloomsburg to call on an aged couple whose acquaintance was formed through associations at annual conventions held by representatives of Mutual fire insurance companies.

Judge Albert W. Johnson, of the Federal Court in this district, who has been undergoing observation in the Williamsport hospital following the development of an infection in his face, underwent a mastoid operation Wednesday of last week.

Rev. and Mrs. E. Roy Corman, of Williamsburg, arrived in town on Sunday evening, and after staying for the night at the home of Mrs. Corman's parents, on Monday went on to Lancaster to attend a meeting of Reformed churchmen interested in religious education.

The Penns Valley Banking Company is said to be settling in full with a number of patrons of the defunct bank who had small sums on deposit at the time the institution collapsed. The depositors are asked to accept the original value of their claim, which is minus the interest for several years.

Dismissals of 13 State employees and appointment of 21 others were shown by personnel sheets turned in by department heads on Saturday. The only appointment in the lot coming to Centre county was John B. English, forester, Pine Grove Mills, $1620 salary. His appointment was referred to in these columns several weeks ago.

Messrs. A. W. Emery, George L. Goodhart, Isiah Emery, J. H. Knarr, and John Coldron motored to Pittsburgh on Sunday and witnessed a ball game there by the Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Cardinals. Although long a close observer of the performances of league ball teams, Mr. Coldron had his first thrill from a seat in a box.

Applications for admission to the freshman class at the Pennsylvania State College continue to run ten to fifteen per cent ahead of last year. Where 1236 high school graduates had applied for admission by July 27 last year, 1367 had applied to July 23 of this year. The limit of the freshman class has again been set at 1400 students, which is the same number admitted last year.

Two projects in Centre county to be carried through by a "pool" of Works Progress Administration and relief funds, sum up to $357,600. The projects include $120,000 for improvement of the State hospital, Philipsburg, estimated to give sixty men work for six months, and $237,600 for completion of cell blocks in Rockview Penitentiary, 75 men for six months. In addition to these there are a number of other projects in Centre county in a formative stage.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Boyer and S. F. Kern, all of Sunbury, on Sunday, visited with Mrs. Boyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lee, at Centre Hill, and with her sister, Mrs. J. C. Goodhart, and family, in Centre Hall. Mr. Boyer and Mr. Kern are employed by the P. R. R., the former is again in the ticket office in Sunbury after an absence from there and in other lines of railroad work for five years, and Mr. Kern is an express messenger.

Miriam Brooks, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brooks, on Saturday, fell down a cellar stairway, striking the back of her head as she landed on the floor. She became partially unconscious and was put to bed for that day and part of Sunday, when she again appeared to be normal. The little girl followed her mother to the cellar, and became frightened when she feared a large spider she saw would bite her. She miscalculated the jump she made to avoid the multiple-eyed insect.

When Miss Kathryn Goodhart left Centre Hall on Saturday, it was understood by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Goodhart, as well as by her associates, that she anticipated marriage to Ernest Auman in the near future. Mr. Auman is a son of A. L. Auman, Coburn, a graduate of Penn State, and is now employed as an assistant manager of a 5-and-10-cent store in New York City. Miss Goodhart, who for several years has been employed as bookkeeper by George H. Stover, left town for Philadelphia with her cousins, George Geiss, Miss Martha Geiss and Mrs. Lola Person, and from that city expected to go to Newark, N. J., to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Lee, an uncle and aunt, where the presumption is she will be met by her fiancé, Mr. Auman. The time and place of the intended marriage was not made known.

LOCALS.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ebright are entertaining at Sunset club, in Seven Mountains, this week.

Miss Lucille Bierly, of Rebersburg, and Miss Betty Hall, of Burnham, are spending the week as guests of their grandmother, Mrs. Clara Leister, in town.

Mrs. Lizzie Wheeler, of Altoona, has been helping to care for the Samuel Shoop household since Mrs. Shoop broke her arm in a fall some time ago. The fracture, by the way, is making very fair progress in mending.

Mrs. Edward Beaver and daughter, Miss Edna, of Canton, Ohio, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Geary for a few days last week, and over the week-end there were entertained at the same home, Mrs. Dale Chaney and Mrs. Fanny Baird, of Pittsburgh.

Miss Josie Platt, State College, is a patient in the Philipsburg State hospital, suffering from peritonitis. The young lady is a junior at Penn State and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Linn Platt. The mother, formerly the Helen Breen, is a sister of Mrs. J. Lloyd Brooks, of near town.

Petitions to have the name of G. Alfred Crawford, of Potter township, printed on the primary ballot, have been filed. Mr. Crawford is a deserving young Democrat, an overseas veteran of the World War, educated at Penn State, and taught in the public schools for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Burkholder, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hess, and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Rickert, on Sunday, motored to Kingston where they visited the parents of Robert Hess and Mrs. Rickert, namely, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hess, who recently removed from Centre Hall. They found them well pleased with their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vogt, of Wilkes-Barre; Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Vogt, and their daughter, Miss Louise, in training at the Reading hospital, Danville, were guests over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. George Vogt, while Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vogt entertained L. G. Vogt, of Montandon. The gentlemen named are brothers of George and Edward Vogt, in Centre Hall.

Thirty-six stalks, each with a well filled head of rye, coming from a single grain, were plucked by Richard Brooks on his farm west of town. Another grain showed the development of twenty-four stalks and heads. The growth was found standing alone in a wash. The stalks were about the average length of rye found in this section.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Dasp, Jr., and young son, William, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hagan and young daughter Miriam, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Homan, since Saturday, are camping in the lodge of H. F. Erdley, cashier of the Spring Mills First National bank, located close to the first tunnel on the L. & T., below Coburn. They will remain until the close of the week.

Three youths about Linden Hall indulged in a practice that made Paul Carper's ire rise to a forbidden height, resulting in his arrest. He obtained settlement upon the payment of costs. The boys persisted in taking fruit from the Carper premises after being warned not to do so, whereupon Carper fired a load of shot in the direction of the tormentors, with the result that three pellets hit one of the boys.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Kerlin, on Friday, entertained at dinner O. E. Bailey, of Baltimore, Md., and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Shafer, of Mt. Union. Mr. Shafer is an accountant and devotes a day or more each week on the books at the Kerlin poultry plant. He evolved the system of bookkeeping, which is close to perfection, used at the plant and found to be highly satisfactory.

From an incident that occurred on Monday on the grade school grounds it is evident the swings badly need repairing. A link in one of the swings broke at the time that Anna Mary Whitman and Lucille Bierly, the latter a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bierly, Rebersburg, who is staying with her grandmother, Mrs. Clara Leister, were on it, resulting in being thrown violently onto the ground. None of the children were injured, but badly frightened.

Among the new political announcements appearing in the Reporter this week is that of Harry Corman, of Gregg township, for the nomination for county auditor. Mr. Corman is a young Democrat of sterling qualities, and adequately fitted for the position he seeks. He is a member of the Farm Loan Board and the Wheat Control Production Board. A graduate of a reputable business college, he is a certified accountant, and thus appears to have more than enough of "what it takes."

Insurance was paid on both the Hanna and Markle cars, both badly wrecked as the former's car was hit by the car driven by the latter as the Hanna car was making a left-hand turn from the main street to enter the Kerlin poultry plant. On Monday a hearing was held before a Bellefonte justice to determine whether or not Carl Markle was in fit condition to legally drive a car. Representatives from the Highway Department were present. No decision was rendered at the time.

A hundred cans of brook trout, 6 to 8 inches in length, were placed in Pine Creek last week, most of them in the part of the stream that flows through the mountains. A large number of cans, containing brown trout of much greater size, some up to 18 inches, were also emptied into Penns Creek between Coburn and Ingely. In addition to these 80 cans of brown trout were placed in Elk Creek. These were from the Pleasant Gap hatchery and measured from five to nine inches in length.

Boalsburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lee were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lee, of Spring Mills, on a drive to Bethlehem for a week-end visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Freedy and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Arner and daughter, Janet, of Palmerton, were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Freedy.

Richard Goheen and family, of Indiana, visited at the M. W. Goheen home over Sunday.

Raymond Brooks, of Bellefonte, was in town on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Mothersbaugh and family are spending their vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Mothersbaugh.

Edward and Alice Weber, of Huntingdon, were in town Thursday for a visit with their aunt, Miss Anna Weber.

John Hess, of Altoona, was a visitor in town Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Dice, of Williamsport, were guests of Mrs. Dice's sister, Mrs. Henry Ritzel, on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Laing and son Robbie, of Knox, are guests of the Luther Dale family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Rocky and guest, Mrs. Rishel, visited at the Willard Rocky home at Petersburg, on Sunday.

Mrs. Stuart and daughters returned home Monday evening from a week's visit at Norfolk, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Loy Whitekettle and son, of Newport, were week-end visitors at the E. H. Meyer home.

Miss Blanche Rowe, of Harrisburg, and Miss Daisy Rowe, of State College, were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Margaret Kuhn.
